Problem

Too Many Companies, Too Little Mentorship

Many startups fail or burn money because:

- Service providers have no internal communication, and they waste your time in endless meetings, always new faces with zero input that need constant briefing each time

- Expensive employees and recruiting, until they close first clients and sometimes never reach the break-even point

- They end up hiring non-professionals just to save some time and money (Up-work)

- Insufficient experience with Tokenomics or Smart Contracts, leads to design mistakes that are arduous and difficult to correct once completed or deployed

- Shoddy work damages a startup's reputation prematurely

Solution

Turnkey Solution:

We simplified the whole process by merging all curated experts, partners, devs, lawyers, relevant departments and services, under one management with synced vision

Unique invoice:

You pay only one invoice!
Budget is kept under strict control with our unique invoice system. Payments can be made one-time or monthly based.

Efficient work-flow & communication:

You will have a dedicated Project Manager and we reduced interaction with no more than 3 experts.
Rest is kept in our own kitchen.
