PROMISES

Today's liturgy is full of promises. The reading from Genesis promises a final triumph over the power of sin and a return to a new creation. The reading from Second Corinthians promises that all who follow Christ will have to struggle. It also promises, however, that we can persevere if we but recognize that Christ is within us, renewing us daily, and giving us the courage and the strength we need to endure. The Gospel promises that doing God's will makes us "family" with Jesus, who forgives all sin and triumphs over evil.

Today might be a good day for us to make some promises as well. We can promise to stop kidding ourselves about our own tendencies to selfishness and sin. We can promise ourselves to believe—really believe—that while we are not sinless, we are forgiven. We can promise ourselves to combat evil and sin by acting as sisters and brothers not only to the Lord, but to one another as well.

PROMESAS

La liturgia de hoy está llena de promesas. La lectura del Génesis promete un final triunfante sobre el poder del pecado y un regreso a una nueva creación. La lectura de la segunda carta a los corintios promete que todo aquel que sigue a Cristo tendrá dificultades. Sin embargo, también promete, que podemos perseverar si reconocemos que Cristo está con nosotros, renovándonos cada día, y dándonos el valor y la fuerza que necesitamos para esta perseverancia. El Evangelio promete que hacer la voluntad de Dios nos hace familia con Jesús, quien perdona todos los pecados y triunfa sobre el mal.

Hoy podría ser un buen día para que también nosotros hiciéramos algunas promesas. Podemos prometer dejar de engañarnos a nosotros mismos acerca de nuestras tendencias al egoísmo y el pecado. Podemos prometernos creer—en verdad creer—que, aunque no estamos sin pecado, somos perdonados. Podemos prometernos combatir el mal y el pecado comportándonos como hermanos y hermanas no solamente con el Señor, sino con nuestros prójimos.

Stewardship Corner

Esquina de Corresponsabilidad

Committing to a Life of Prayer

Prayer is the very foundation of Christian stewardship, and yet the decision to enter more fully into a life of prayer is a deeper commitment than people realize. In order to be good stewards of our relationship with the Lord we must commit our time, which should include setting aside periods for prayer, for the reading of sacred scripture, and for full participation in the celebration of the Eucharist and other sacraments. What return shall I make to the Lord for all the good He has done for me? (Psalm 116:12)

excerpt from, International Catholic Stewardship Council

Comprometerse a una vida de oración

La oración es la base misma de Christian mayordomía y, sin embargo, la decisión de ingresar más plenamente en una vida de oración es una más profunda compromiso que la gente se da cuenta. En orden ser buenos administradores de nuestra relación con el Señor debemos comprometer nuestro tiempo, que debe incluir apartar períodos para orar, para la lectura de las Sagradas Escrituras, y por completo participación en la celebración de la Eucaristía y otros sacramentos ¿Qué retorno le haré al Señor por todo el bueno, Él lo hizo por mí? (Salmo 116: 12)

extracto de, International Catholic Consejo de Mayordomía

“The spirit of humility is sweeter than honey, and those who nourish themselves with this honey produce sweet fruit.”
