EVERYONE COMMUNICATES, FEW CONNECT

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course teaches about the importance of making connections, forming bonds with others, connecting with an audience, why building connections is necessary and how to motivate others to do same. We adopt a simple but rich style in this workshop, leading you on a journey of self-development through the building and nurturing of relationships in diverse circumstances. Those willing to build and develop connections or even learn how to simply link with others will find simple phrases like “focus on others, smile, help others,” are exactly what they need.

Course Objectives:

- How to connect well with other and why that matters
- How to establish a bond with an audience
- How to inspire others to take action
