LIVE WEDDING & EVENTS ILLUSTRATIONS

Live guest illustration is a perfect way to capture the essence of the day by creating stunning illustrations of guests and the celebration atmosphere. This is the perfect way to add a personal touch to your special event and give your guests a memorable experience. Live illustrations are a fantastic conversation starter and a unique way to entertain your guests.

Each illustration takes 5-7 minutes per person/couple, and guests will receive their portraits on high-quality A6 paper, sealed in a plastic sleeve to keep safe.

I can be at your venue for up to 7 hours from just before the ceremony/event starts to capture your guests on arrival and still be available for any guests arriving later (drinks reception for weddings).

Why You Should Book a Videographer

First of all, let's be clear and honest, Videography does not replace Photography. It is a medium that captures a different aspect of your big day and both are important parts of your wedding

Whilst Photography covers the more formal part of the proceedings Video is there to capture the whole day as it unfolds. It is often the case that a Videographer sees more of your wedding than you do, particularly as far as the bride is concerned.

The bride misses the guest arrivals, the groom, best man and ushers, not to mention the all-important mother of the bride, maids, flower girls and pageboys.

There are often occasions when relatives and friends whom you would love to be there, simply cannot attend due to many circumstances. They may be elderly, poorly or simply live abroad and it's too costly for them.

For them, a video allows them the opportunity to experience your whole event, the vows, exchanging of rings, the photo-shoot, speeches and guest messages. Finally, to finish the day they get to witness your all import first dance. It is as near the experience of being there that they can achieve.

Choosing a Videographer

- * Enquire how long the Videographer has been filming and their experience.
- * Meet up with the Videographer you are considering. You must be comfortable with the person that is recording your big day.
- * View previous work even if only highlights
- * Discuss how much of your wedding you wish covering Ceremony only, Ceremony and daytime reception or the Full day
- * Ask how long will the final edit be and what music you would like (subject to copyright)
- * Check how many Videographers will be attending or how many cameras will be used and what audio method is used to capture the vows etc. Audio is often overlooked but plays a massive part in achieving a professional result.
- * It's YOUR day and the Videographer needs to listen to what YOU want.
