The Winding Road

Across the divided fields of budding life
Seeking the rippling brook of wisdom

Youth entangles on unseen boughs of knowledge
Traveling the long, winding road

The arched trees spend fruitful leaves freely
Passers-by reach to grasp; to hold, not to tread

Beams of sunshine gleaming through the clouds leave shadows
Flowers of happiness and sadness lay by the wayside

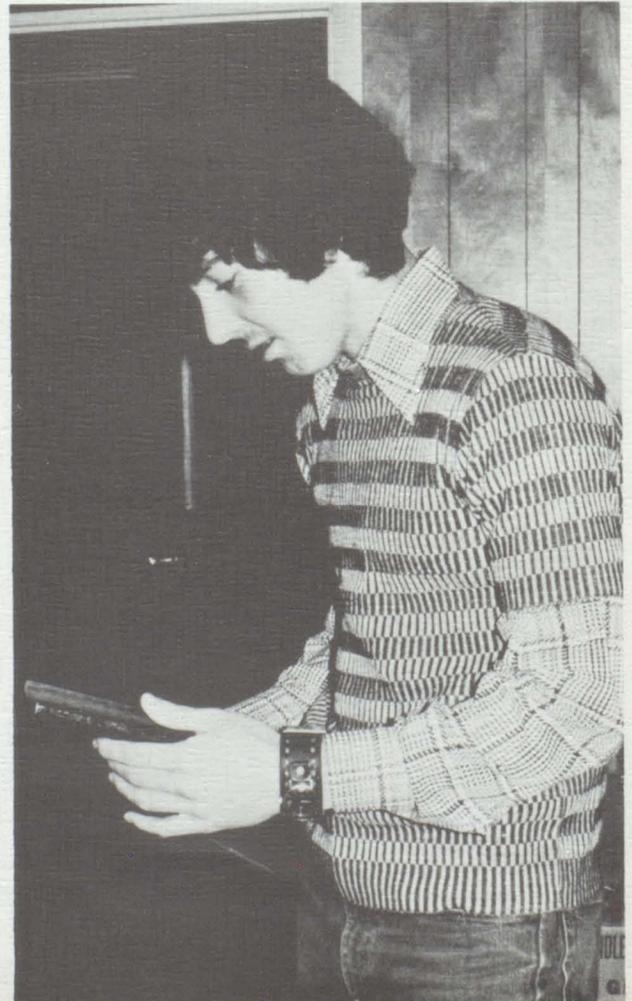

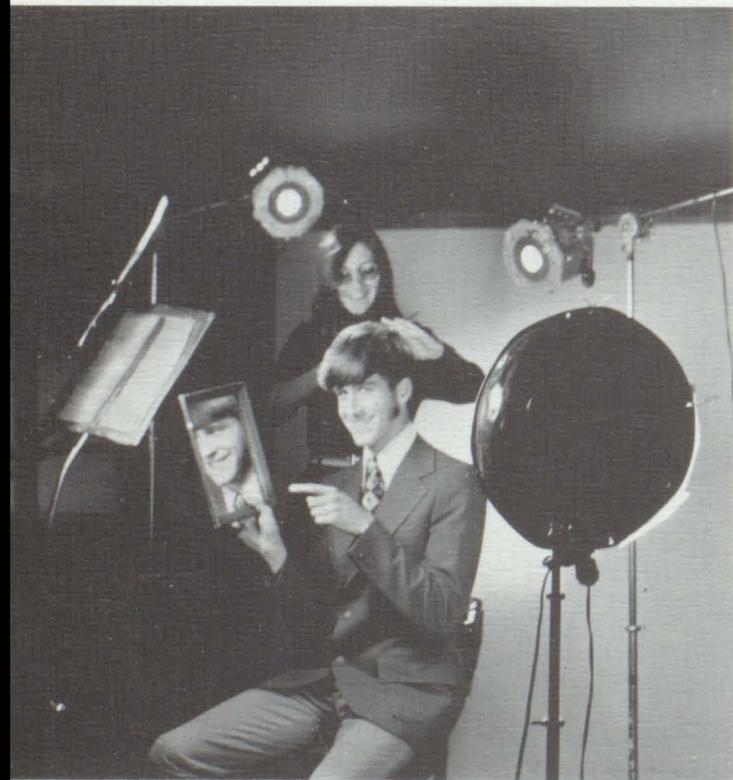

Idle stones covered with moss bring not a warning
Falling stars - the sky is still the sky

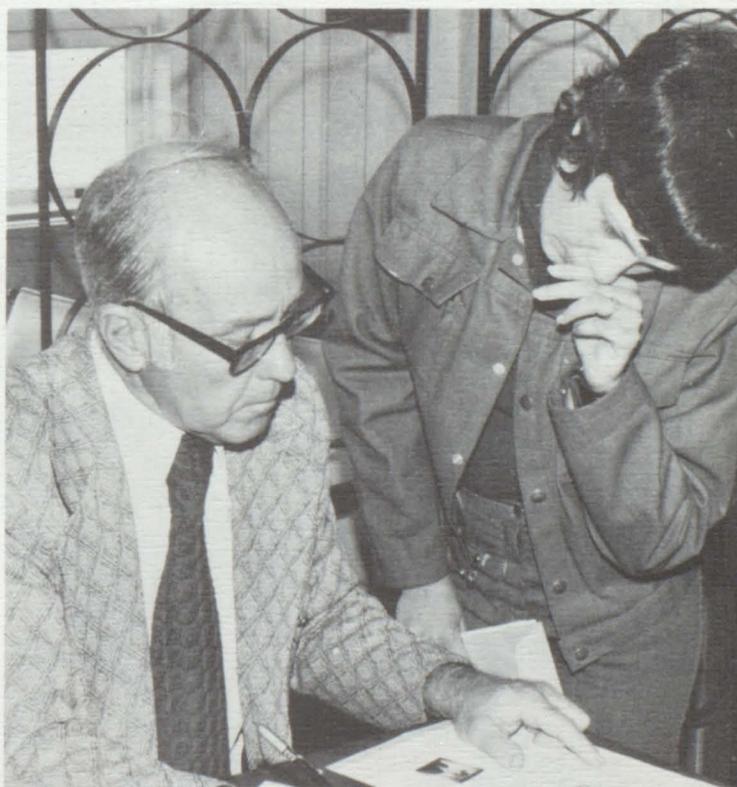

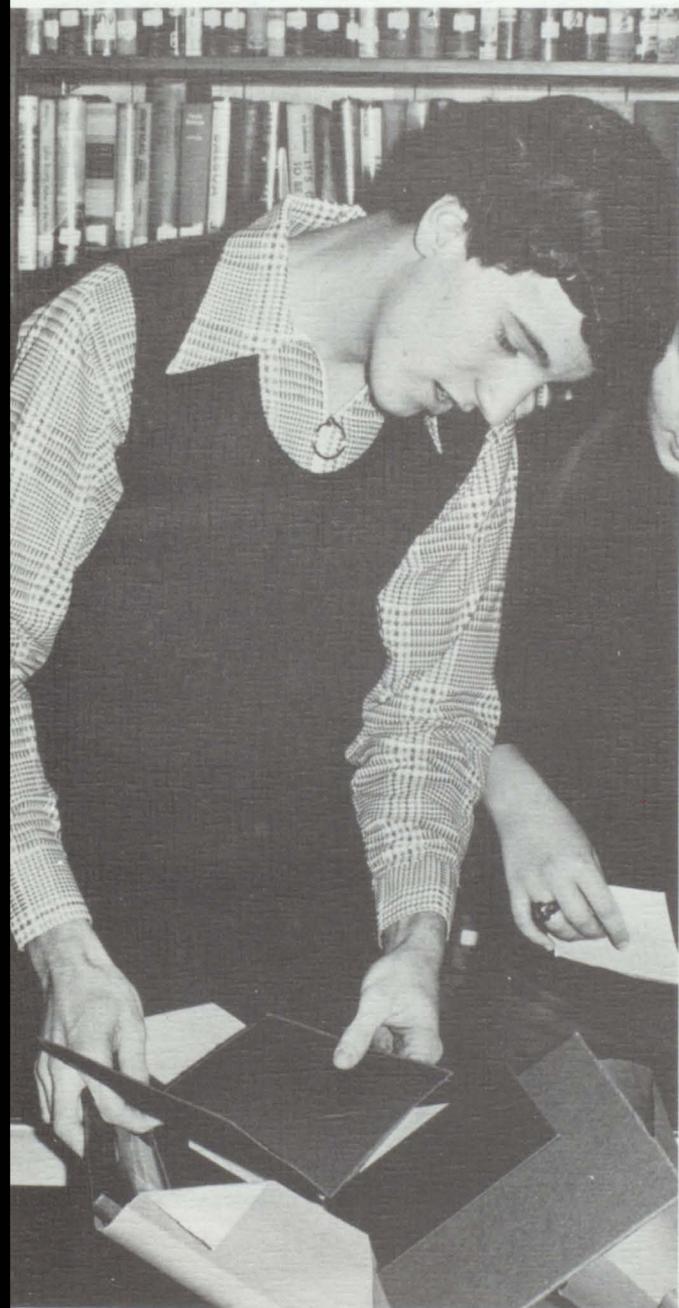

The house of treasure sets in the distant meadow
No time to stop and rest a quickened mind

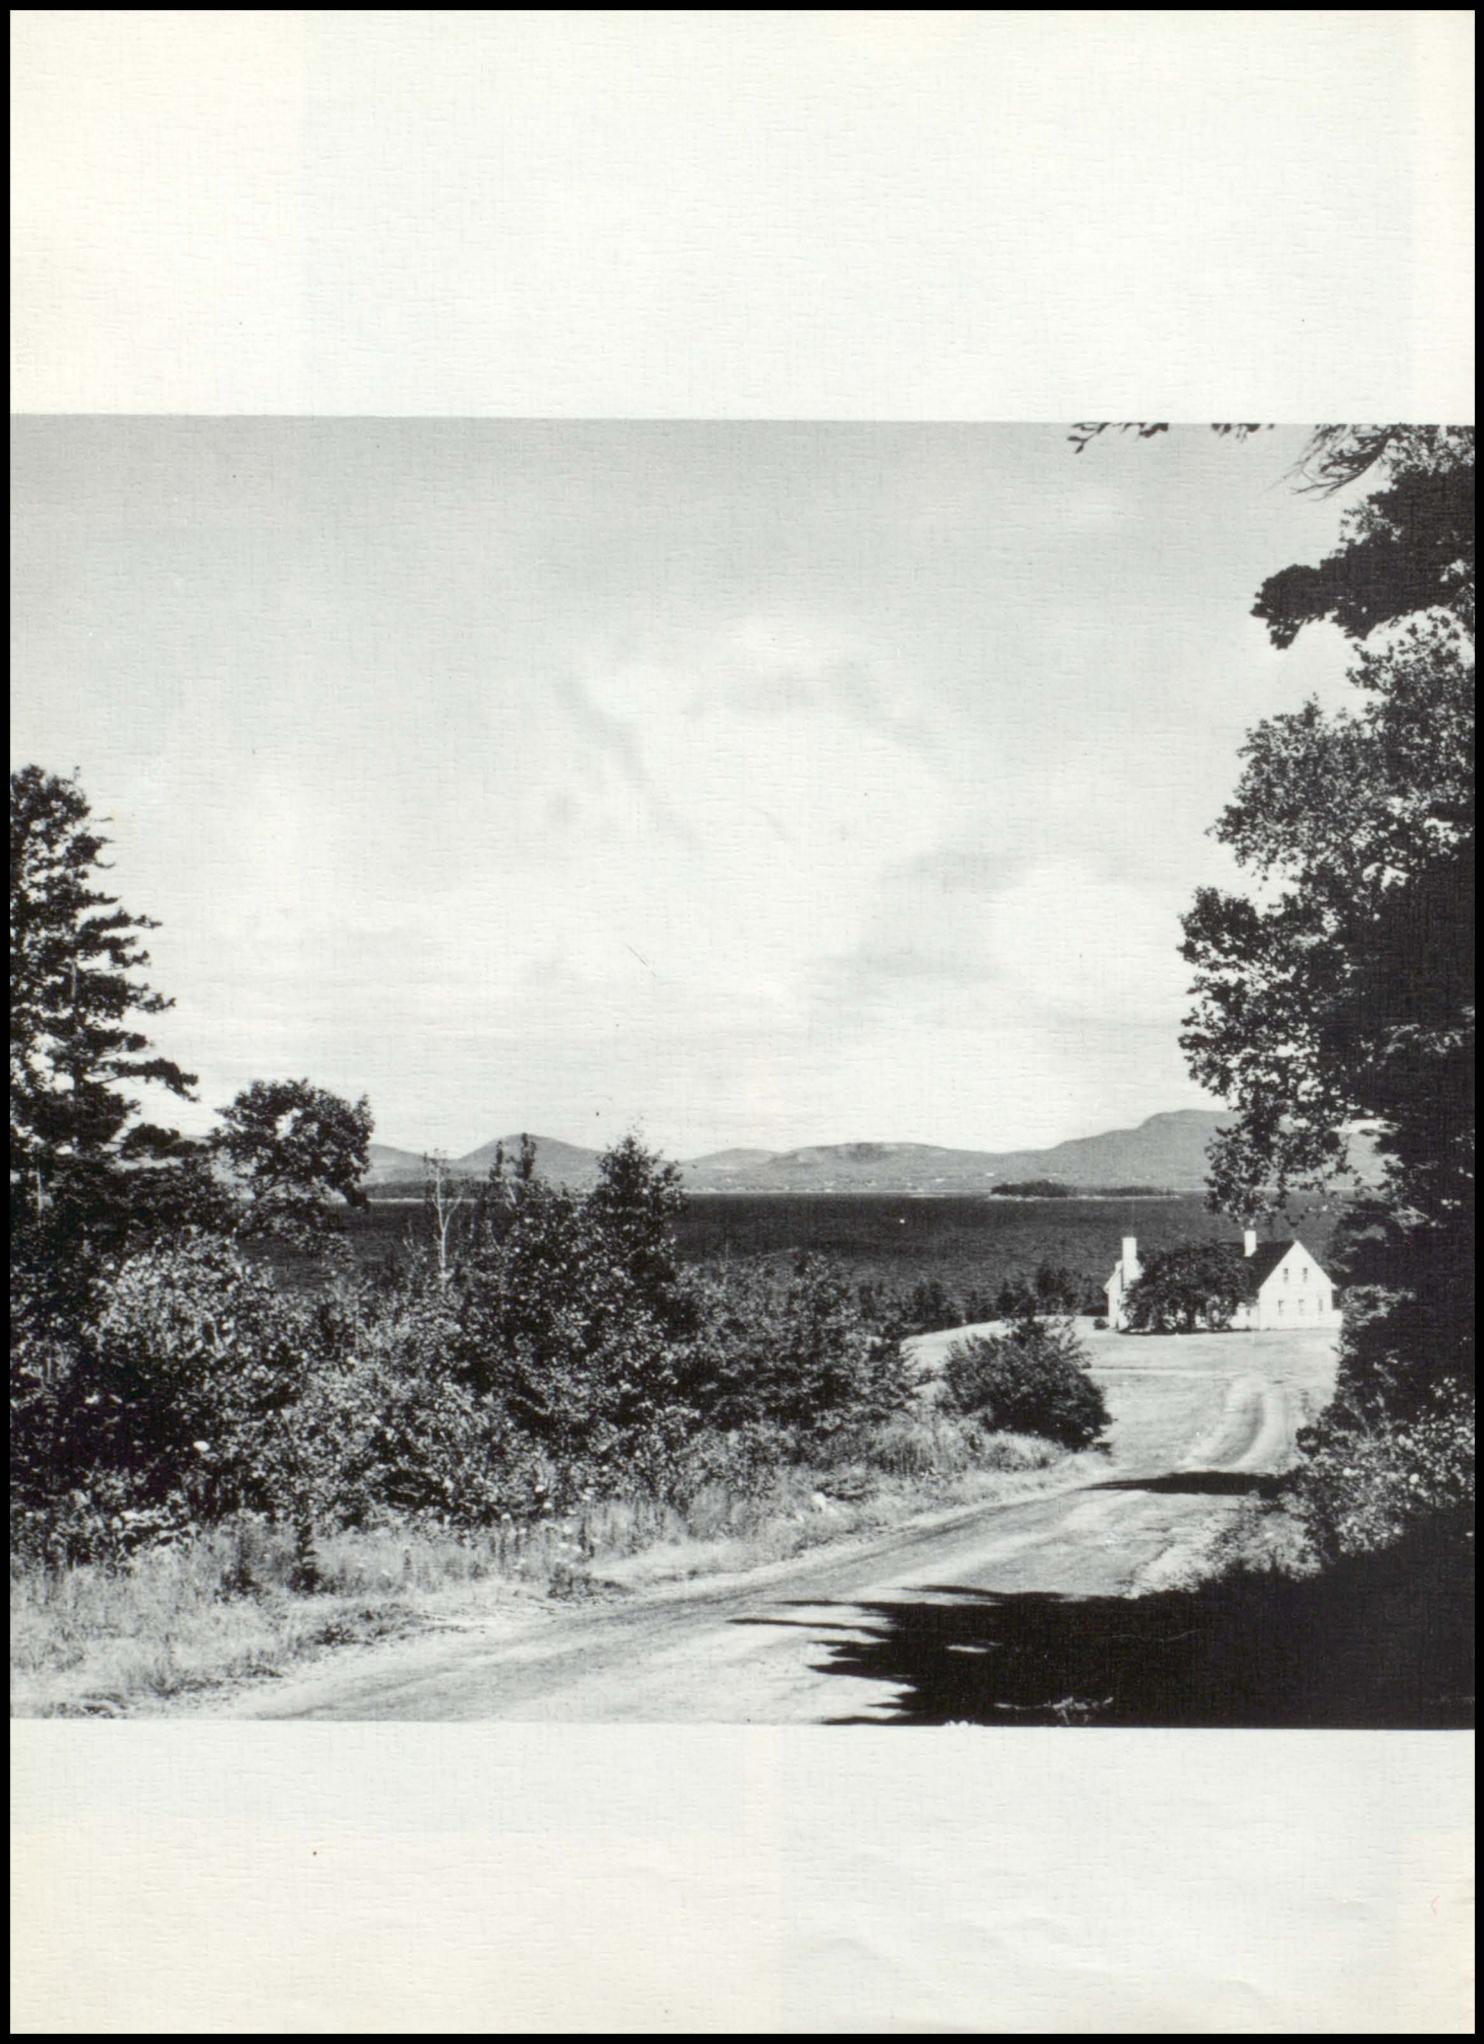

Dialogue not prompted from the wings
The cue is taken from circumstance

Let not time harden the soul
Let there be no end to the climbing, winding road.

ALBERT, LLOYD
Little strokes fell great oaks.

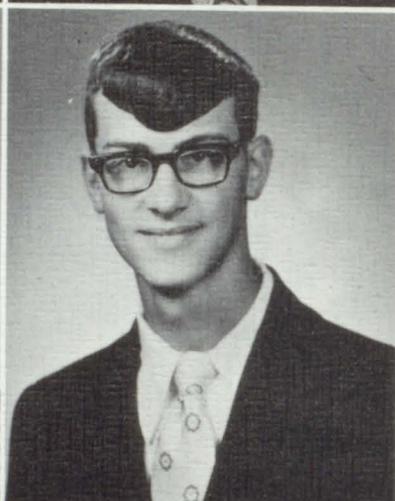

ALDRETE, PHILIP
There is nothing either good or bad but thinking makes it so.

AYOTTE, ROLAND
Adventure is the meeting of dreams and reality.

BELLEFLEUR, MARCEL
Trust - keep your word.

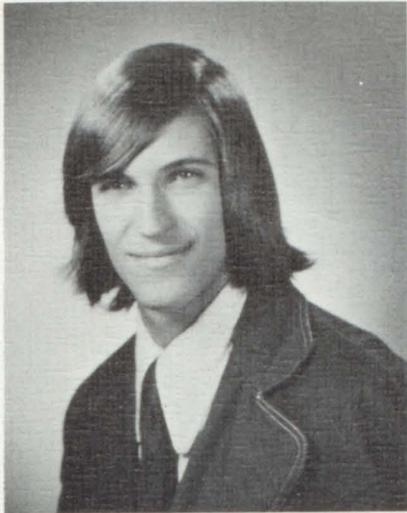

BLANCHETTE, IVAN
The kindest word said is the unsaid word.

BLANCHETTE, JUDI
Faith opens the door to understanding, unbelief closes it.

BOUCHARD, JOHN

Two roads diverged into a wood, and I
- I took the one less traveled by and that has made all the differences.

BOUCHER, BRENDA

In my relationship with persons, I have found that it does not help, in the long run, to act as though I were something I am not.

BOURGOIN, DAVID

The best gift we can offer each other is trust and honesty.

CAMPAGNA, LINDA

The height of love's ecstasy is to have our will not in its own contentment but in God's.

CHAMBERLAND, DANIEL B.

We would rather die on our feet than live on our knees.

CHAMBERLAND, DANIEL J.

The main thing in life is not to be afraid to be yourself.

CHAMBERLAND, JUDY

I must find the "who" I am now and the "who" I want to become so that I know what I want.

CHASSE, DONALD

No goal is too high if we climb with care and confidence.

CHASSE, RENO

Love, conquers all.

CLAVETTE, DENISE

Silence is a true friend who never betrays.

COLLINS, MARY ANN

The brain may devise laws for the blood, but a hot temper leaps o'er a cold decree.

DAIGLE, JUDY

For love is blind all day and may not see.

DEROSIER, EDWARD

God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.

DEROSIER, LUKE, JR.

Imagination is more important than knowledge.

DIONNE, LEROY

It's not easy to be simple enough to be good.

DUBOIS, DAVID

Peace rules the day, when reasons rules the mind.

DUMAIS, NOELLA

For my thoughts are not your thoughts neither are your ways my ways.

FRANCK, LEAH

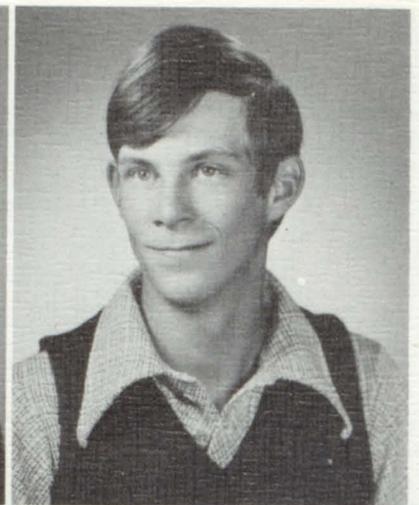

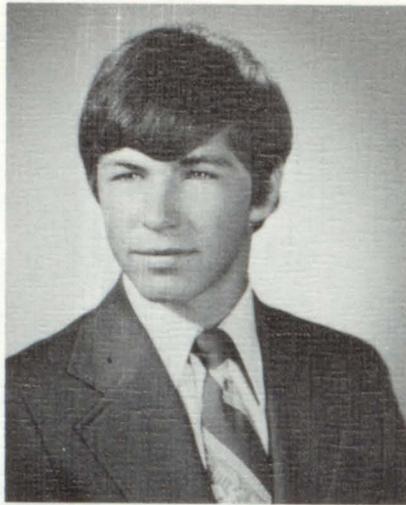

There are two ways of reading light -
To be the candle or the mirror that reflects it!

HEBERT, RAYMOND

To those who search, life reveals its mystery.

MARQUIS, DANNY

Either I will find a way, or I will make one.

MICHAUD, JAMES D.

It matters not how a man dies but how he lives.

MICHAUD, JAMES J.

I am the wanderer who seeks the secret of life and can only find it by living life itself.

MICHAUD, NOELLA

Live your own life for you will die your own death.

NADEAU, KENNETH

It is not how long, but how well we live.

NADEAU, LOUISE

A good book is the best of friends, the same today and forever.

NADEAU, PHILIP

Accept me as I am so I may learn what I can become.

NADEAU, ROSE

To have known love, how bitter a thing it is.

OUELLETTE, LINDA

My way is to begin with the beginning.

OUELLETTE, MONIQUE

Nothing is so strong as gentleness
Nothing is so gentle as real strength.

OUELLETTE, ROGER

The future is a convenient place for dreams.

PARADIS, JANICE

Be good (If you can't be good, be careful).

PARADIS, LIZ

The happiest person is the person who thinks the most interesting thoughts.

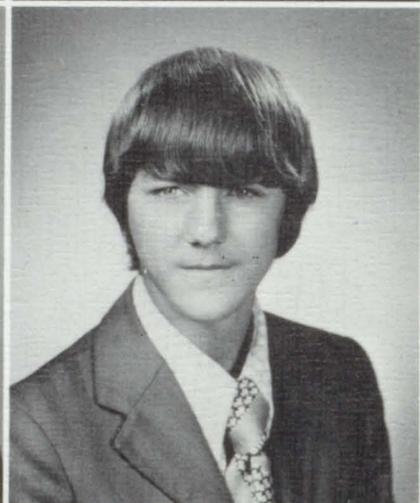

PARADIS, MARGARET

That unmeaning and abominable custom, swearing.

PARADIS, RICHARD

Take life as it happens, but try to make it happen the way you want to take it.

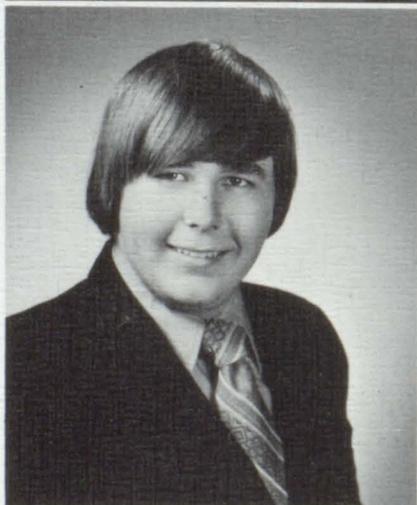

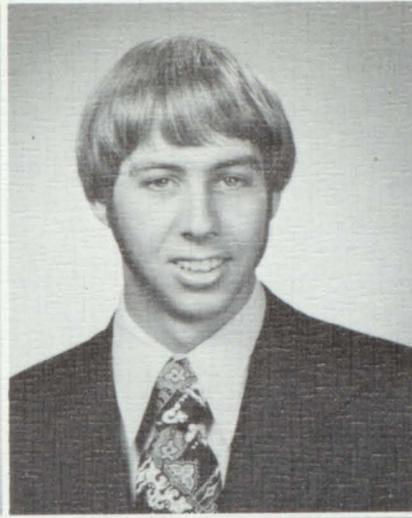

PELLETIER, JOEL

The wise make jests and fools repeat them.

PLOURDE, NORMA

Self is the only prison that can ever bind the soul.

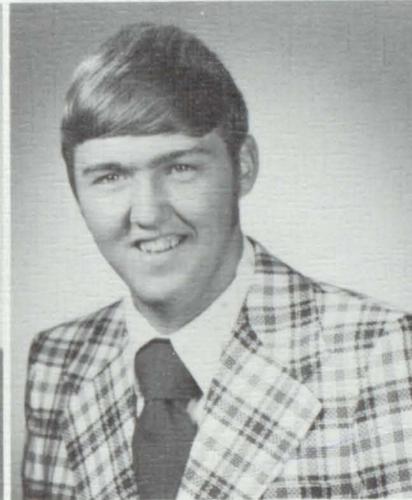

PLOURDE, PEGGY

In quietness and confidence shall be your strength.

RAYMOND, JOHN

Live and let live.

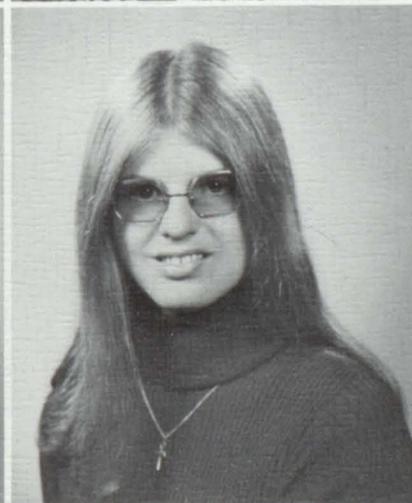

ROY, PHILIP

It is easy for men to talk one thing and think another.

ST. ONGE, ROBERT

You stand in your own light.

SINCLAIR, LINDA

The greatest feelings always find themselves in silence.

SIROIS, LOUISE

It matters not what you are thought to be, but what you are.

SIROIS, MARGIE

Accept me as I am so I may learn what I can become.

SIROIS, ROBERT

Rather than love, than money, than fame, give me truth.

SOUCY, JEAN MARC

Life is but a walking shadow.

TARDIF, HELEN

Justice is truth in action.

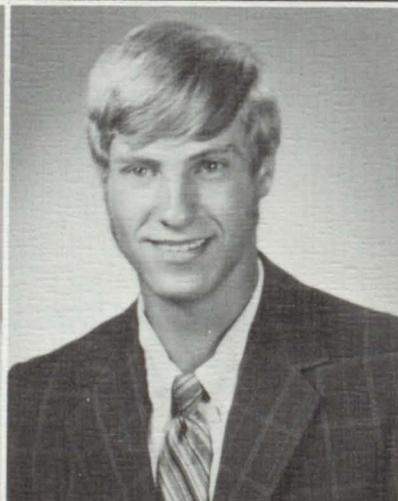

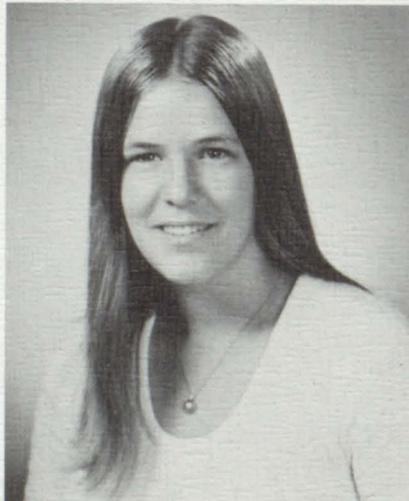

TARDIF, KAREN

A madman is not less a musician than you or myself; only the instrument on which he plays is a little out of tune.

TARDIF, RICHARD

My tastes are simple, I like the very best.

NEWS IS AS HARD TO HOLD AS

MORE RAPIDLY THAN ANY MORNING GLORY

— STANLEY WALKER —

Initiation Day . . . The schoolyear begins in a spirit of fun and togetherness. It's a new situation for many. Although our days are scheduled for studying, listening and comprehending, the learning experience continues amidst laughter and relaxation.

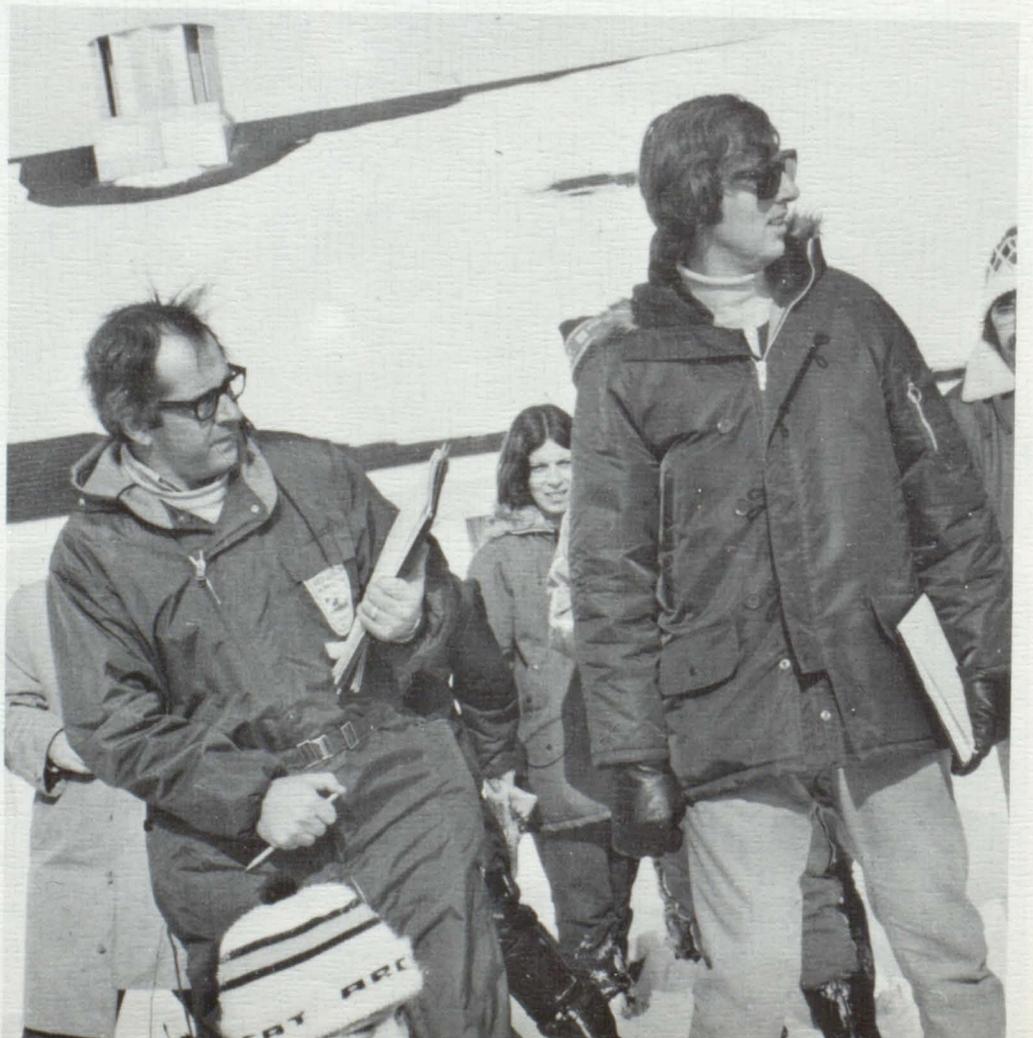

The newness wears off as we involve ourselves in a multitude of school activities. We quickly become comfortable in assorted experiences that will be remembered for a lifetime. Basketball is one of the extras that served to unite.

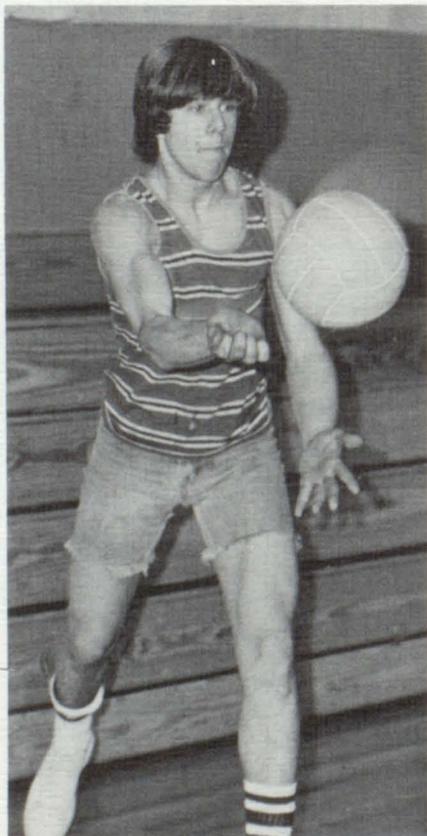

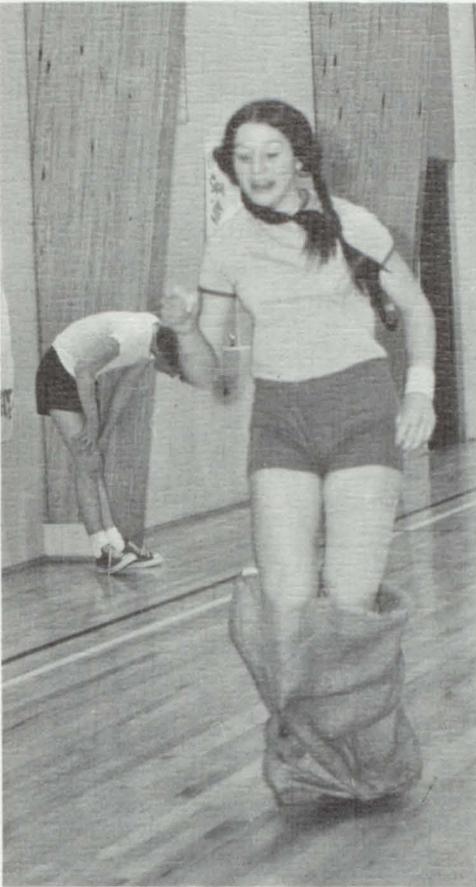

Winter Carnival . . . The students become anxious as the big day arrives. Each class awaits the opportunity to display a spirit of togetherness and a will to win. Eagerly we participate.

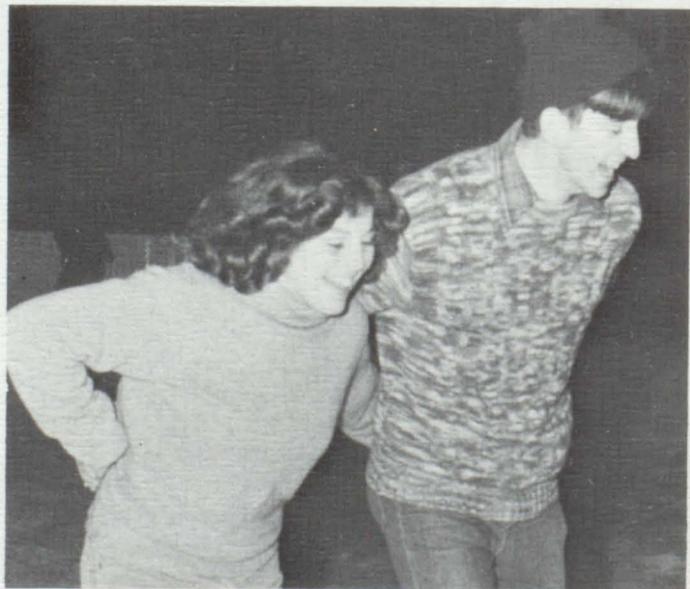

Each person's face reveals a strong desire to triumph. We thrust onward even when faced with defeat, realizing that it's not whether we win or lose, but that we do it together.

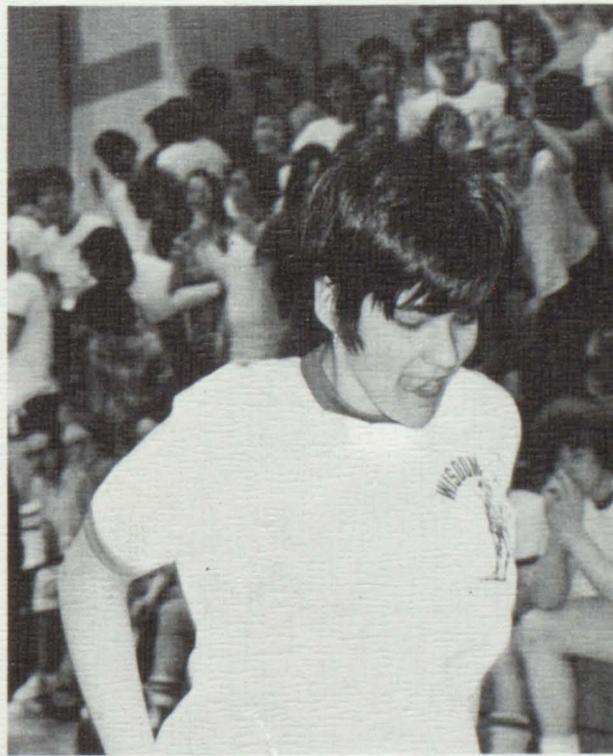

Skates sliding on the sparkling ice;
legs gliding in perfect rythm;
bodies moving with breathtaking speed and agility - individual efforts are combined to produce points for the respective classes, each with the desire to be victorious.

Happily, we celebrate. Victory has been gained through a united effort. But through it all runs a ribbon of sturdy silence. Togetherness can't always be explained by noises or words. It's best considered in the quietness of our afterthoughts.

And now the climactic evening begins
As everyone proudly sings
Every event counts - every class waits
Judges speak - one class wins
Four years of participation are climaxed by coronation.
