Class of 1997

Being the smallest class had its ups and downs throughout high school. We faced many challenges, but we always seemed to pull through. Winter Carnival is one such challenge. Although we had a very small group, we performed well in past Winter Carnivals. We came together as one, and turned intense competition into lots of fun. We worked well together, and gave our best to all our endeavors.

Our class had the opportunity to become very close. With only 26 students, many of us have made some unbreakable friendships. We are now looking to the future. Some of us have made the decision to attend college, enlist in the armed forces, or enter the work force. Although a few of us remain undecided, I know that we will all succeed in the "real world."

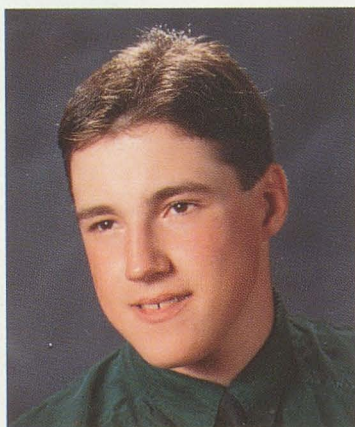

It is now time to turn a new chapter in our lives. It is important that we never forget our past, but, take a leap towards our future. Best of luck to all!

Class of 1998

START THINKING ABOUT THE FUTURE

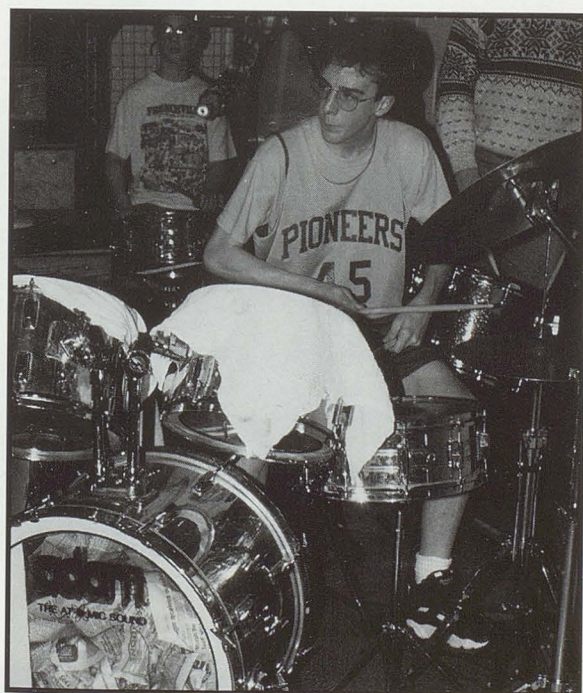

The class of 1998 is undoubtedly one of the closest knit ones in the school. All 38 students of the junior class have been through just about everything together: car accidents, ATV accidents, deer and moose accidents, and how could we forget our eighth grade class trip to Augusta?

We have the power to do anything we set our hearts to, whether it has to do with acting, chess, music, athletics, and most definitely, winning Winter Carnival.

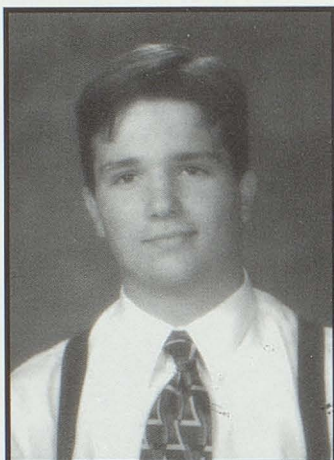

The diverse bunch that this class consists of, actors, athletes, the academically inclined, and the mechanically inclined make our daily lives more interesting. We all learn from each other in the best possible way, friendship

A very close-knit group is what the class of 1999 tends to be. Most of us have similar interests, but we aren't the same personality wise -- in fact, we are all quite different. Being a large class by Wisdom standards, of 46, we are very active in our school, and it shows. Most of us take part in many extra-curricular activities each year. Each quarter, a large number of us strive for academic excellence, and take part in the "competition" between each other trying to make high honors, while others may find success by appearing on stage in the drama program. Another large part of our class may find joy in scoring a goal in soccer, hitting a home run, or doing well at a ski meet. We have high aspirations and standards that we set for ourselves, which contributes to our high level of success. So whether it is in student leadership, athletics, drama, or academics, we are a class of go-getters, and will continue to be as we end our sophomore year and begin the second half our high school career next August.

Class of 2000

We are the Class of 2000 -- the turn of the century is what we like to call ourselves. Just like every other class we are all different in our own ways. Though we are a class, we live, listen, and obey ourselves as well as our feelings. As a class we respect and learn from each other. As we grow up and mature, we see our class grow and blossom just like a flower. Live for today and save for the future!
