The class of 1998 has been through so much together and we've come out stronger than ever. We have survived and we will continue to survive through all of our experiences in the future, whether it will be college, or working, or anything else.

In our freshman year, we had to worry about fitting into the new block scheduling and the thrill of finally being in high school was almost mind-boggling.

Sophomore year brought in many new things, class rings and drivers licenses. It also brought us closer together. We had to deal with almost losing three classmates in different car accidents involving a moose and a really big curve.

Junior year was our second straight Winter Carnival victory. In Oct., we had a new classmate and later on got into an accident, which got us worrying about his recovery.

And finally, senior year. The one we've all been waiting for. The majority of our class is preparing to apply to colleges, some are just biding their time until graduation so they can get a job. We have stuck together for the past twelve years and although this will be our last year together, we will always be friends till the end.

Some areas were without power for only a few days but others were not as fortunate. The widespread path of devastation and destruction meant that utility companies had to call for help from companies farther south. Despite the tireless efforts by power crews, many areas were without power for two weeks; parts of eastern Canada were crippled for a month.

It was a time of community — a coming together to help each other endure and even overcome the great Ice Storm of '98.

Maine Declared A National Disaster Area

A Storm Beyond Compare

Five days of freezing rain left everything coated in thick ice. Trees and poles snapped like toothpicks. "It sounded and looked like a war zone," said Lori Hanson, yearbook advisor from Messalonskee High School in Oakland, Maine.

According to Central Maine Power over 523,000 residents in the state lost power, affecting over 340,000 households. There were twenty-six hundred utility poles replaced and two to three million feet of line or cable restrung on them. Fifteen of the sixteen counties in Maine were declared disaster areas.

Luckily, many "Mainers" could revert to wood stoves for heat. Generators were in great demand also as people rushed to buy them to make their own power.

Vice-President Al Gore arrives in Maine to survey the storm damage with Governor Angus King. They announced that the federal government would extend at least twenty-eight million dollars for disaster relief to individuals and small businesses in Maine.

One way to get rid of all the ice - eat it!

There was beauty despite the widespread destruction.

In a typical view of the ice storm damage, motorists veer around trees and downed lines on the road. With falling limbs an ever-present threat, many "feared for their lives" and stories of near misses were prevalent. Special thanks go out to the line crews from CMP who worked tirelessly to restore power to the region. With the assistance of the out-of-state crews, CMP was able to accelerate the recovery process.

Neighbors helping neighbors was a common sight; clearing debris was a massive job.

From Around New England . . .

Scenes from other New England states show that this storm had a widespread effect on hundreds of thousands of people. The broken trees will be a constant reminder of this destructive storm for years to come. Especially hard-hit were the maple syrup farmers whose livelihood depends on the maple trees. With this years' crop essentially ruined, fears about future production haunt the farmers' thoughts.

Northern New York Devastated

Upstate New York Held Hostage

The devastation from this storm was unimaginable in upstate New York. For five days the mercury hovered just above the freezing mark and the sleet and rain continued to fall until the ice build-up reached incredible proportions.

The ice brought everything to a halt. Students, out on Christmas break, never thought that the break would last until January 20. Folks worked together to help those around them. People arrived from all parts of the country to donate food, blankets, generators and their time.

Roads were impassable due to downed trees and lines.

While it was a near miss for this shed, many other structures suffered severe damage. Millions of dollars in damages resulted from the weight of the ice and falling trees and branches - some of which even crashed through dwellings.

Vehicles and crews from North Carolina were flown into the Brunswick Naval Air Base as part of the federal disaster relief effort. They joined other crews from the Northeast.

This special ice storm section was generously donated by Jostens Printing and Publishing to schools throughout New England. Thanks to all the people who contributed photos, including Toby Youngs at the Maine National Guard, The Portland Press Herald, and Lori Hanson at Potsdam High School.

We are confident that these pages will serve as mementos of the worst natural disaster to hit New England in recent history for the people who overcame it.

The class of 1999 is truly unique because we are the last class to graduate before the new millennium. We are a high-spirited class of 45 students and presently the largest class at Wisdom/Middle High School.

Not only are we the largest class, but we are also fun-loving yet hard-working. Most of our energy during our junior year will be focused on our studies, competing in the Winter Carnival, and planning the Junior/Senior Prom. We have selected "Almost Paradise" as the theme to the prom.

With only one additional year of high school left, we already are giving serious thought to college applications and career goals. We are striving to do our best, setting high goals, and preparing for our future. We realize that the road to success can only be achieved through perseverance. Whatever road we travel, we will cherish fond memories of our school years and friendships that will last a lifetime.

We, the class of 2000, have been through many changes. At the beginning of the year we had to find a new advisor, and fast. We asked Mrs. Ann Pelletier, and she accepted. We started having fund-raisers and class meetings. She is a great master-piece and a super gem that we found. Our class has pulled together and has become one.

When I think of our class, I think of a bunch of roses. Roses are carefully hand picked. When you put all the roses together, they look beautiful. Individually, they look just as unique. Roses also have thorns to protect each other, and themselves. I believe that our thorns enhance our class. Roses are loved and enjoyed by all.

The Class of 2001 is a very close-knit group. We are all good friends and have been for a long time. Ever since Dr. Levesque, we've been known as a "good bunch" of kids, besides the fact that we talk too much. All of us hold memories of when we've been together — 8th grade trip to Quebec City, Les Jeunes Chanteurs, water-fights, get-togethers, etc.

We all are active in our school and have many varied interests. Some people like athletics, others music or art and still others, drama. Even though we may not all like the same things, we all get along and learn from each other.

We, the class of 2001, look forward to the twenty-first century. Knowing that it will be a time of tremendous change, we strive to be life-long learners.
