Volume 18 Issue 4

July/August 2018

Dear Friends,

Many of us make promises. We privately promise ourselves to lose weight, work harder, or clean out that catch-all closet. If we don't keep this kind of promise, we can usually find a reason, sometimes even a good one.

Christians make public promises. There is great power in the public promise of a Christian, power to strengthen and enable people. But we must be individuals of integrity and not take our Baptismal vows lightly, but reverently and deliberately. The clarity and appropriateness of those vows is undisputed. The task before us is to live them. An enormous chasm separates the private world, where we often smile indulgently at broken promises, from the public one, where unkempt promises do great harm. When any one of us is missing from our weekly gatherings, whether worship, or education, or fellowship, the Body is weakened.

Each time we renew our Baptismal Covenant, we publically profess our faith and our beliefs. One of the things we promise to do is to "continue in the apostle's teaching and fellowship, in the breaking of and in the prayers." This means that we promise to gather with others of the Body. It means that we promise to be the Church. To be the Church, we must gather regularly to worship, to share, to support, to celebrate, to know one another. The importance of our doing this cannot be stressed enough. As the Body of Christ, we can accomplish a great deal. The message of God's love can be seen by the world; seen through the wonderful things which emerge from our care for one another, for our parish, for our local community, and our world.

Trinity Church, while small, is a vital and healthy parish. Your leaders are planning for the future. They are looking for you to be an active part of that future. During the past several months, there has been much planning and activity around The Sandwich Board, our annual One-to-Grow-On project, necessary stucco repair, door replacement, etc. We need everyone to help make our ministry the strongest it can be; our presence, one in which there is no doubt that God is with us. As the summer months continue, so too our worship at 9:00 am. Don't miss out on the opportunity of giving thanks and being strengthened for the coming week. Everyone's participation is important.

Plan to be at the worship. Please take seriously your Baptismal vows, for they are public promises you have made. Strive to keep those solemn promises. I look forward to seeing you. Nourish your spirits and experience the power of being a part of God's family at Trinity Church.

In Christ,

Denzil J. Luckritz, Rector
