Healing Prayer Level 4 Workshop Highlights

Trauma will hit you in our fallen world, whether it's something that makes headlines, like a disaster or terrorist attack, or something more personal, like abuse, a loved one's death, or an accident, no matter what kind of trauma you suffer or how it affects you, there is hope in Jesus Christ. He knows what trauma is like; He suffered it while dying on the cross. Jesus cares about what you're going through, and He'll help you heal. —from: H. Norman Wright, Matt Woodley, & Julie Woodley, Surviving the Storms of Life: Finding Hope and Healing When Life Goes Wrong, 2008

Understanding Trauma

Ken Nelson

Nigel Mumford has a book titled After the Trauma the Battle Begins. As that title indicates, the effects of trauma are not isolated to the traumatic event, but they continue until they are addressed.

When I was a teenager, I threw a javelin that impaled my friend. I felt numb, like I was going to pass out. The effects of that trauma lasted long after my friend's physical wounds healed. For decades, every time I saw a significant amount of blood, I would feel faint and then pass out. My experience lines up with what CHM says, “trauma is anything that happens to us, or something we witness that is unpredictable, out of our control, and threatens our sense of safety or the safety of those we love.”

Often, trauma experienced early in life leaves wounds that last into adulthood. As I read through descriptions of trauma and its effects, my mind went to my son Scott's struggles. After his death earlier this year, we found out that he had been sexually abused as a child. In retrospect, I could see his struggles with drugs and alcohol were an attempt to numb the pain of a hurt that was so deep, he couldn't tell us about it. And unfortunately, his attempts to self-medicate turned into addictions and life-long struggles.

The fact that traumatic life experiences often precede substance abuse and mental illness is not surprising. Unfortunately, trauma is also one of the ways that demonic oppression can start in a person's life. When I first learned about this, I was shocked at the unfairness. Not only does the person experience the trauma, but it can open a door for the enemy to further damage the injured person. Satan uses these wounds to foster self-hatred and resentment. He whispers, “no one loves you.” And sadly, many victims of abuse believe the lie. So much so, that some take their own lives.

Trauma left unhealed has devastating effects that accumulate over a lifetime. This all seems very bleak, but there is good news, Jesus can and does heal the effects of trauma. He removes the pain and the shame. He does restore life. For Ken's full talk, click here. Click here to view Ken's talk.

Praying for Healing of Trauma

Nancy Wilson

The experience of trauma, whether it is the absence of good things or the presence of bad things impacts us physically, spiritually and emotionally. It can affect our beliefs going forward, the way we respond to others in relationships, and the way we respond to God. Sometimes we might even blame God or be mad that He allowed this to happen.

Jesus knows trauma:

When He was very young, He and His parents fled to Egypt so He would not be killed with the other baby boys. His cousin John was beheaded. He was scorned, mocked, ridiculed, spat on. He suffered betrayal, separation, trials, beating, and death.

God never intended for us to experience pain or even discomfort without returning to a state of peace, HIS PEACE.

And everything I've taught you is so that the peace which is in me will be in you and will give you great confidence as you rest in me. For in this unbelieving world you will experience trouble and sorrows, but you must be courageous, for I have conquered the world! —John 16:33 (TPT)

A prayer ministers' job is to bring God into the trauma. His peace comes to the trauma, His love is communicated. Trauma threatens the safety of the recipient, so love is key. Listen lovingly to their story, this may be the first time they have ever told it. It may be that the recipient is reluctant to share because they were told NOT to ever tell anyone. The recipient may fear that you will not believe them or that their “trauma” is not valid enough to be “trauma”. Listen to the person as Jesus would listen. Compassionately and lovingly, giving them and their story validity.

Lord, we pray your peace and love soothe our traumas so that we can pass on your peace and love to others. As we grow in you, increase our capacity to love, Amen. Click here to view Nancy's talk.

Healing from Fear

Roxie Watson

Only Jesus can transform our minds and hearts and truly set us free from fear. I know firsthand that I NEED Jesus, and I know what His love can do for you. There is Hope, and He has a name - Jesus!

Oh, how kind our Lord was, for he showed me how to trust him and become full of the love of Christ Jesus. —1 Timothy 1:14

We know that God has made all things, and He is all good, so the original intent or purpose of fear was good. It was for our own protection. As we live in a fallen world, fear can begin to control our lives and isolate us from others. We become afraid to trust, afraid to love, afraid to step out and be vulnerable. We need healing from fear because it can prevent us from living out God's perfect plan for our lives. Trust is the opposite of fear, and I have come to believe that learning to trust God is a process. Our magnificent Creator made us with brains and emotions that can be healed and transformed. ### Healing of Relationships

Edi McHenry

If it can be done, as much as is possible on your part (not others), live in peace with all men. —Romans 12:18

Once I stopped asking God to fix the other person and allowed Him to heal my own wounds, there was a SHIFT. My prayer became: Bless them and change me.

Edi McHenry incorporated her powerful personal testimony into the lesson on healing of relationships. She focused on 4 main areas: our own will, our own grumbling, the hazard of holding onto offense, and the importance of being willing to forgive. Click here to view Edi's talk.

Deliverance in a Healing Prayer Session

Lucinda Nelson

Lauren Daigle's song, Rescue, speaks to this topic of deliverance. She sings, I (God) hear you whisper underneath your breath. I hear you whisper you have nothing left. I will send out an army to find you in the middle of darkest night, it's true, I will rescue you.

All believers are part of God's army. We are a powerful force that finds people in the middle of their darkness, and helps clear the way to the Deliverer, Jesus Christ. Getting demons out of the way during a HP appointment truly makes a miraculous difference and healing can proceed.

We have discovered certain things in our humanity can block healing like unforgiveness, excessive fear, or feeling worthless. These can lead to more blocks through demonic interference; it's not fair, but it's true; Satan is never fair, and that is true.

As you yield freely and fully to the dynamic life and power of the Holy Spirit, you will abandon the cravings of your self-life. —Galatians 5:16 (TPT)

Problems that come from our "self" require repentance and restoration. Problems that come from Satan require a casting out of the demons. A common blocking spirit is one of unworthiness, rejection or condemnation. Sometimes people report another blocking spirit that seems to bring on their anxiety or depression. Finally, forgiveness, if we do not forgive, a doorway is open for possible demonic blocking. Jesus taught we are to forgive, even going so far as to say, forgive everything against anyone (Mark 11:25). When demons are involved in unforgiveness, they are working to prevent us from following Jesus and being set free. Click here to view Lucinda's talk.

Testimony

The Revelation of "I Choose"

The [Healing Prayer Level 4] sessions on Saturday ended with a time of personal reflection: Where does God want to work in me right now?

The topics that we learned about during the workshop were listed on a sheet of paper. Holy Spirit immediately brought to mind an incident of trauma that I experienced in childhood, and a habitual sin of eating sugar that could be tied to fear. The prayer minister came to pray for me. I instantly felt Holy Spirit's presence rising in me and all around me. The prayer minister asked if I felt that the 2 issues were tied together. I was open to the idea that fear could have entered me during the trauma.

"The enemy uses fear to control us" – Roxie's words came into my mind. So, yes, I do think the enemy started to use my basic need for food against me and used it to control me. A life-long habit was formed. The prayer minister followed Holy Spirit's lead. I experienced a "Saul encounter" – I was knocked off my horse... a horse made up of fear, doubt, sugar and habitual sin. When I was laying on the ground Jesus was there, He took my hand and said come with me.

The minister prayed lots of words during the prayer. These 2 words were amplified as they were spoken. YOU CHOOSE. The words penetrated my soul in a powerful way. I CHOOSE: Self-care and Self-respect. I choose to no longer allow habits learned in childhood guide the way I eat.

Recently I read a book that described the principle of exchange as a "deep spiritual experience". I scoffed when I read it – that's not right, that's not biblical. Well, I believe that during my prayer session that Jesus exchanged my living in the past with him holding my hand and living with him now. Thank you, Jesus, for your tender compassion.
