

As CEO of JetPro Egypt, Kyle has garnered worldwide attention as an industry leader and expert in the field of the Boeing and Airbus aftermarket sales. Overseeing all things related to airframe parts, engine parts, whole assets, whole engines, acquisitions and aircraft trading, Kyle relies on his intimate market knowledge to help make key decisions in bringing projects to JetPro. As one of the key players in JetPro's acquisitions and sales platform, Kyle assists in shaping the canvas of JetPro's branding and marketing approach to all our customers around the globe. Assisting JetPro after successfully owning and managing several businesses – such as exotic car dealerships, off-highway heavy equipment trading, and real estate investment firms – Kyle brings a wealth of innovative thinking, business acumen, asset management, personnel management, marketing, and sales expertise to the JetPro team. Now, with just over 4 years in the industry and through his aggressive approach to business, Kyle has asserted himself as a respectable and reputable leader in the industry amongst his peers. Kyle can easily be found traveling the globe meeting with leasing companies, airlines, brokers, MRO's, etc., either at their place of business or at any one of the industry's worldwide trade shows.

