Raceway Park was a NASCAR park across from Valleyfair in east Shakopee. People would have their passions stirred for the squeal of tires and the rumble of revving motors. It started as a dirt track in 1954, then switched to asphalt. Many generations stood in long lines to get into the quaint track that made racing up close and personal to Minnesota motor sports enthusiasts. Many young girls (and boys) enjoyed watching Marge Beckrich beat the men!

Raceway Park was a 1/4 mile asphalt oval race track located near Valleyfair in Shakopee. One woman who became “The Janet Guthrie of Figure-8s.”

Marjorie Marge Beckrich was born in Shakopee on June 7, 1954. Her parents were Harold and Marie Anderson Beckrich.

And she loved driving cars!

Janet Guthrie was a professional race car driver and the first woman to qualify and compete in both the Indianapolis 500 and the Daytona 500.

Janet Guthrie, a professional race car driver, and an idol of Margie Beckrich.

At Raceway Park, Marge Beckrich became the Janet Guthrie of Figure-8s! In fact, Marge was the first (and only at that time) woman who raced the Figure 8.

Marge was the first female race driver at Raceway Park in Shakopee, where she raced in the 1970s and 1980s.

Many people looked up to Marge, who competed with men, and did well!

Over the years, the lines to go to Raceway Park started to slow down, and during the recent years, fewer people attended the park. After 60 years of up-closer racing, Raceway Park closed in 2013.

According to owner John Hellenbrung, there was not enough fan support in recent years to sustain the place. Raceway Park was closed, and an asphalt recycling plant was built there.
