Dear Executive Producer,

On behalf of all the citizens of British Columbia that have taken the time out of their lives to participate in creating awareness with regard to the World Health Organization's Pandemic Preparedness Treaty, and who stood outside the station today, we are requesting that the trusted CTV News network will take into consideration that there are many Canadians that are uninformed in regard to this international law and what this legally binding act really means to the liberty and sovereignty of Canadians if this treaty is enacted.

Withholding this critical information from citizens is criminal as at this point, we are only three months away from potentially forfeiting our governance to a non-elected organization without any media transparency.

Canadians are watching, and there is no denying that it is your responsibility to report the facts to inform Canadians about national threats that have the potential to alter this country forever.

We need our mainstream media to do a deep dive into what is really going on and for your journalists to share this information with the public at large.

Regards,
