

Courtesy photo/Nancy Supran

Kendra Lewis, of Bear Lake, meets a duck Tuesday during an Easter egg hunt at the Circle Rocking S Children's Farm.

Children's farm hosts egg hunt for those with disabilities

FREE SOIL — Easter came early this year at the Circle Rocking S Children's Farm in Free Soil.

The 501(c)3 nonprofit organization held its annual Easter egg hunt for those with disabilities on Tuesday, and more 50 participants ranging from 4 to 60 years old came from Manistee, Mason and Lake counties to enjoy the free event.

Over 3,000 eggs were available for the hunt. Sections of the barns were separated for wheelchairs, walkers, the blind and those more flexible.

In addition to the egg hunt, there was a bonnet contest and Ukrainian Easter egg craft project. Bunnies, chickens, ducks

Courtesy photo/Nancy Supran

More than 50 participants visited Circle Rocking S Children's Farm in Free Soil on Tuesday for the annual Easter egg hunt.

and baby turkeys were all available to hold and

Courtesy photo/Nancy Supran

Sheryl Kuenzer, of Manistee, learns to create Ukrainian-style eggs.

pet.

For more information about Circle Rocking S Children's Farm and more upcoming events, visit circlerockingsfarm.org or call 231-462-3732.

Kyle Kotecki