About Us

Delivering installation works on all aspects of fire protection, we work with our clients to give a bespoke service and provide a solution to meet their needs. This is achieved as part of a holistic offering across the Delta Innovation Group, with in-house technical experts as well as experienced and professional installation teams working together to solve fire safety problems in new-build and existing premises. We provide dedicated specification, installation and accreditation of passive fire protection on projects across the UK.

Why Choose Us?

Delta Fire Protection provide a unique approach to market. We take a consultative style, always putting our client, its people, and buildings at the forefront of everything we do. We build relationships to understand our clients needs and to offer solutions that fit ethically, commercially and for compliance. Our aim is to reduce liability and increase safety on all projects we complete
