Usefulness is Key and Consumers will be much more likely to keep a promotional product that is useful, according to the survey. For writing instruments, the percentage for USEFULNESS is 91%.

Study also asked respondents whether they could identify the advertisers on the promotional items they currently owned. The result: Nearly nine in 10 (86%) U.S. recipients of promotional merchandise can identify the advertiser on the item, the highest of any country in the study.

On Study, the average number of impressions each promotional product receives was calculated. The number of impressions a product makes was derived from multiplying how long a recipient has the product to how many people he meets each month while using it.

The world's first biodegradable pen made from corn! Corn? Yes, corn!

Except for the ink refill, this green pen is made from corn, a revolutionary new material derived from cornstarch. Corn is remarkably similar in look and feel to ordinary plastics with one important exception: it is completely biodegradable! This means that unlike conventional plastics that never breakdown, this green pen will disintegrate in about a few months after being discarded (breakdown occurs in soil, corn posters, landfills, etc.)

Corn raw material supplied by BIOPLA, and we do have certificates for DIN EN 13432 ASTM D6400 test and SGS reports.

100% biodegradable plastics is only option to save the environment. It is important for Growing Economies.
