Ponds Meeting Canceled but Plant Sale Will Happen

Since our last Pond Views email, our Ponds Education Meeting scheduled for May 12 has been canceled along with many other community meetings and events. It is possible we could reschedule the meeting for later in the year, but that remains to be seen. Considering the social distancing regimen that we are used to now, the POA Ponds Committee feels that the Pond Buffer Zone Plant Sale can still take place on schedule.

There will be no meeting to kick off the sale but there will be notifications and links to download order forms and information about the 16 different plants available for sale. Like last year, your filled-out order forms and checks (all orders are prepaid) will be sent to the POA office. Last year these were dropped off at the office but right now the office is closed to the public, so mailing is a viable option.

Buffer zones absorb runoff of harmful nutrients and prevent erosion.

There will be a 2-week window to order starting on May 12 ending on May 26. On Saturday, June 20, plants will be delivered to the Community Center parking lot for pickup by residents. This is the way plants were delivered last year with a 2-hour window of time (10:00 to noon) for pickup. The Ponds Committee stages the orders in advance, so many of you will not have to exit your vehicle to receive your plants. All social distancing rules will be enforced during the pickup time.

Our protocol for this plant sale will keep residents safe following strict guidelines. We feel this plant sale is needed in our effort to beautify and enhance the health of our ponds throughout the community. This is a great time of the year for planting and another year without adding plants is a year lost. We hope you agree. Stay tuned for more detailed information coming your way.
