

Charlottesville Story

So the left threatens the local communities to remove memorials that honor the dead confederate soldiers of the civil war. Why? They are part of our country's history and it is meaningful for us to remember how we got here. Nobody should be surprised that there would be push back from some organizations regardless of their motives. So now we have people dead and injured because of a statue. How stupid is that?

The gathering of the White Supremacist groups was legal whether we like their message or not. The opposition, the Antifa and Black Lives Matter groups were illegally gathered to protest the white Supremacist rally. Both sides have a first Amendment right to voice their opinions and protest peacefully, but without violence. The violence started when the white supremacist rally speaker was attacked when he started to speak. Both sides came looking for a fight.

The progressive leftist have successfully baited the conservatives into this amped up race campaign against the republicans. The history of the KKK is also the history of the democrats. Notable anti-black democrats like Gov. Wallace of AL, Gov. Faubus of AK, Sr. Byrd of WV, a former Klan member, were strongly against desegregation.

The leftist have ignored all the violence (Berkley) and anti-white movements (Evergreen) on our college campuses. The left stays mute on the anti-cop movements of Black Lives Matter (Five cops killed in Dallas). They accept the violence promoted against a sitting president by the Hollywood elites. The attack on Congressman Scalise was by a Bernie Sanders supporter. What violent action has been perpetrated by the right?

President Trump condemned the violence in Charlottesville by all sides. What is wrong with that statement? He did not promote one groups violent action over the other. He did not take sides as President Obama did in the events in Ferguson or Trevor Martin or Henry Louis Gates. The anti-Trump factions in the MSM and in D.C. are driving a wedge in this country that is not healthy. Somewhere along the line, people forget that half the citizens in this country voted Trump president. President Obama initiated this societal wedge of racial discord after decades of achieving improved racial harmony.

The White Supremacist groups are getting more press than they deserve. Mainstream America does not agree with these groups and they should be shunned. We must not let race baiters like Maxine Waters, Jon Conyers and Al Sharpton divide this country. We as a country have been the most successful in assimilating race, religion and ethnic peoples. Charlottesville is not representative of the real people of America.
