

Remembering 9/11/2001

It is important that we remember the catastrophic events that hurt our country and 9/11 is certainly one of them. I am sure everyone over the age of 30 remembers where they were when our country was attacked by Islamist terrorists. Same as my parents and grandparents remembered Pearl Harbor Day, December 7, 1941. The event spurred many to enlist in the military to avenge the attack on our country. Our country was united, as it was in 1941/42. We came together to support the actions to retaliate against the terrorists who attacked us – on our soil.

I hope all took at least one minute to pay homage to those that died that day, especially those on Flight 941 who bravely sacrificed their lives to save our country. In your remembrance do not forget the brave police and fireman who not only ran to the disaster, but went into the buildings to rescue our neighbors, friends and family. There are also the heroes that bore the trials of looking through the rubble for survivors.

Ninety-nine percent of the country wept at some point in agony, horror and anger. Yes, there was the one percent who thought we deserved the attack. There are always morons and anti-Americans in our country. Without doubt everyone with an anti-American sentiment was, and is, a liberal democrat. Want proof? Just look at houses displaying the American flag. I bet you 99% are republicans. I venture to guess that homes displaying flags or banners without an American flag are liberal democrats. Of course, there is the current democratic administration flying flags to support the queer conglomerate and BLM/antifa terrorists at U.S. Embassies around the world. That just underscores my point. Republicans promote American values and embrace America, warts, wounds and glory.

This article reads as an anti-democrat hit piece. I assure you my parents, who were democrats, would not recognize the democrat party of today. I don't recognize the republican party that I have embraced for the past 50 some years. The current republican party is more like my parent's democratic party and their democratic party has become a Marxist/Communist party. My republican party still stands by the Bill of Rights and America First, but have become socialist-like in domestic policies. They have little backbone to stand up to the Marxist. Not all, but many.

As to the democratic party, and we need to stop calling them democrats, they are hell bent on destroying our American dream. A dream where if you work hard, study hard, you can achieve in this country. It is a key reason why so many people around the world want to come here. The Marxist Party want to emulate the Cuba and Venezuela regimes. Countries where the elite dictate the way of life for the minions while they enjoy the benefits of success. Think I am crazy? Is North Korea's Kim Jon Ung fat compared to the people of his country? Did Fidel and Raul Castro live in luxury while the Cuban people struggled to stay alive on meager conditions? Does Maduro struggle for his next meal or toilet paper?

The Marxist like to portray President Trump as dictator, but what Executive Order did he issue that caused harm to the citizens of this country? He imposed immigration reform to stem the invasion of illegal immigrants. He hammered on corporations to bring their overseas stash of money to the US. He fostered policies to stimulate the economy and reduced unemployment drastically. This affected people of all races and ethnicities. But the hatred of the Marxists fought against the values of the American dream.

What do we have now? A puppet president, who on his best days cannot deliver a coherent speech. He dictates that citizens obtain a flu shot to work or go to school. All in denial of medical science. He promoted wearing masks, when science said masks were of little value in containing the flu. He dictated that the Border Patrol and ICE to not perform their duties to control immigration. His dictatorial stances has escalated inflation to the point the Carter economy would be a welcome relief. His treasonous policy in the evacuation of Afghanistan caused the deaths of 13 marines and hundreds more American citizens and allies. Presidents have been impeached for far less actions.

While we bow our heads and remember the tragedies of events such as 9/11, Pearl Harbor, JFK assassination and Chappaquiddick we can add January 20, 2020 to the list. It was the day a hollow man was installed as *president. A *president who may even be controlled by his son's business partners, the Chinese Military. 01/20/20 a day of infamy to be sure.

May god have mercy on those who cast their votes for our Marxist leader. They bear the responsibility of the deaths of those marines and those abandoned behind enemy lines in Afghanistan.
