

To whom it may concern,

My Name is Al Iannuzzi and I am the head strength and rehabilitation coordinator at Morris Athletic Club, formerly known as Ball Players Edge. MAC is a baseball/ softball training facility where we instruct students of all ages. Personally, my department focuses on strength and rehabilitation for all athletes. I established this department as a part of our business after I graduated from William Paterson, with a degree in Kinesiology.

I understand that a former worker of mine, Donovan Russo, has applied for a few of your internships. Well let me tell you a bit about Donovan; he originally worked the front desk at our facility when he was a freshman in college. He always showed up to work early, was great with the customers and always made sure the cages were neat and clean. At the start of last summer, Donovan came to me, wanting to work as a marketing intern. I was at first hesitant because having a marketing intern was not in our business's budget. Donovan insisted he'd work for free though, only wanting to help the business he once worked for and to gain some real world experience.

Because Ball Players Edge was in the process of transitioning into Morris Athletic Club, Donovan was only able intern for us in a four week program. In those four weeks though, he completely redesigned our website, redesigned our facebook page, made us a highly active snapchat and directed a fitness video for our strength and rehabilitation department. Donovan is by far the hardest worker I have ever been around and without a doubt, I can say that he will give whatever internship he is applying to his all.

I truly hope that someone from your company has the opportunity to meet Donovan because I know they will be impressed with his manners and hard working demeanor. Not only do I applaud Donovan for his professionalism but I applaud him for the young man that he has become. He is simply an amazing person with a pure heart and a brain full of wit. Donovan Russo is absolutely the intern that you want and I know that whatever you have him doing, he will catch on quick and make you proud.

If you would like to further discuss Donovan, you can call me at 201-546-0124 or email me at aiannuzzi7@gmail.com.

Warmest Regards,

Al Iannuzzi
