Elizabeth Parker and Suzanne Spaulding work together as consultants out of CSIS. Elizabeth spoke at the CLC in October 2019 and met with the Disinformation Task Force immediately after for our first TF meeting. I know we covered her transportation but I wasn't involved in any of the logistics or finances. Elizabeth still attends our TF meetings remotely as an invited guest, but hasn't mentioned payment. Elizabeth was a last-minute addition to a CCPIO webinar on disinformation last week and I asked if she requested an honorarium but I don't think she did. Suzanne Spaulding appeared remotely to speak at one of our task force meetings, but that was well under an hour and she didn't request a fee for talking to our group, but that wasn't a formal program. I don't remember Suzanne addressing other groups of ours, but I lost track of when I've seen her and if it was through NCSC or other online events.

Aaron, we're in the process of negotiating with Suzanne Spaulding to present a breakout session at the Judicial Conference in June. Her normal fee is $10K – which is about $9K more than our normal speakers fee for a judicial conference breakout.

I recall that she (or perhaps someone else from her organization) spoke at our Leadership Conference in 2018 or 2019. And, we may have also had her come speak to your committee in the early days of its formation.

If this is the case, can you provide details about when she's spoken to our judicial branch in the past, and how much we paid her?

I think this info will help with negotiations, and perhaps will provide us an amount to offer her in-line with what she's been paid to present to us in the past.
