

The HCFB Youth Corps Making Good Things Happen!

Volunteering is a great way to learn new skills, find friends with similar interests and gain valuable experience. It is also super flexible and rewarding!

More than anything, doing good things makes you feel pretty BRILLIANT!

At HCFB, we are always recruiting for committed youth who can join and help us adults deliver on our mission.

Interested? Well, read on then!

Your skill sets:

Someone might describe you as:

- Passionate - You are enthusiastic, keen to get your voice heard and comfortable talking to other young people and adults.
- Encouraging - You are supportive, respectful of other people's opinions and enjoy working with others.
- Hopeful - You believe in change and are up for a challenge!
- A budding superhero - You are ready to flex your muscles and ready to do what it takes to make the world a better place for everyone!

What is in it for you?

- With adult guidance, be directly involved in planning, developing and launching campaigns to raise awareness about hunger.
- Get the creative juices flowing! Come up with fun ways youth can support fundraising efforts throughout the year.
- Oh the dreaded meetings! But they are important and we promise they are kinda fun and not at all gloomy!
- Help with onsite packing, sorting and distribution of food depending on your availability.

Learn new skills:

- Develop leadership skills, learn how to speak in public (we'll teach you all the tricks!)
- Meet like-minded, passionate youth like you who care for their community and want to make a difference!

Lead the way:

- Encourage other young people to get involved.
- Find ways to share your work

Other opportunities:

- Collaborate with the HCFB Board.
- Tell others about your experiences- write a short blog for our website, maybe a newsletter article or how about draw your experience?
- Feature in our social media platforms in videos to talk about your work.
