Title: Series of Self Portrait

Description :- Every unique story is worthy of being told honestly. Photography is not just clicking the button; These portraits are just my desire and their stories to be told with compassion & creatively. Every picture is distinctively attractive, narrating their inner tale which connects to me deeply

Title: Serenity Underwater

Description :- Water is necessary for survival of life, but what if the mode of survival is itself in danger. How long has it been since we saw a goldfish in naturally occurring freshwater, not realising that water needs the fish just as much. Coincidentally we all keep looking for gold, running around in circles and crashing into oncoming waves. The only memory of peace is left in soundless depths of these very oceans.

Title: Outlandish possibilities

Description :- A young mind has boundless ideas awaiting expression, when a mature one only wants law and order. Straight lines dominate the urban areas while nature has crooks and turns. Man insists on made up realities – of money and religion and matrimony, as he forgets the unlimited possibilities of life. The art is an effort into bringing these opposing phenomenons together. Somewhere where straight lines create confusion and bends seem factual.
