MISSOURI'S LARGEST TOWNS.

There are twenty-nine cities in Missouri having 4,000 or more inhabitants. Columbia is the smallest of the twenty-nine, having just 4,000 people. There is probably no other town in the union with an even number. In 1880 only fourteen cities had over 4,000 inhabitants. According to the census figures of 1890 they have increased to twenty-nine as follows:

| Cities.            | Population. |         | Increase.Per cent. |
