

Rainbow Girls Are Geared for Life

With college entrance requirements becoming more and more competitive, if your daughter wants to attend college she needs to fit a more diverse profile. Good grades and high SAT scores are not the only things in review. Colleges want students who are involved in their community and who invest their spare time productively. And if college isn't in the plan, Rainbow will help her gain the confidence to make any career rewarding and successful. Either way, joining Rainbow is a smart investment in your daughter's future.

Go Rainbow today for a better tomorrow because...

- Many high schools require community service before graduation.
- Most colleges and universities look for students who are active volunteers.
- Members get to experience different areas of work while networking with professional people.

Rainbow Girls Dream BIG!

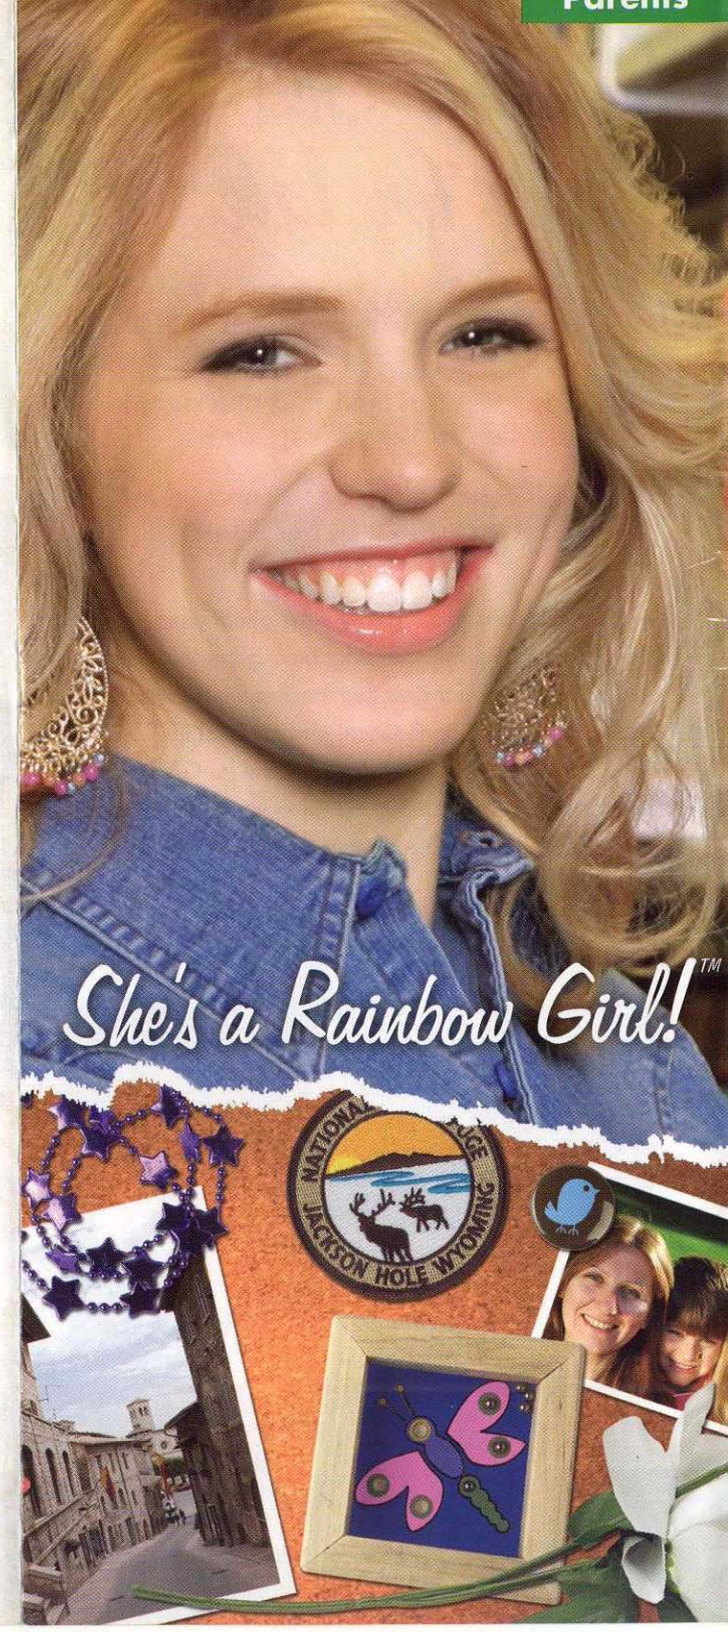

The International Order of the Rainbow for Girls uses fun events and challenging workshops to help girls learn important life skills. Members learn quickly that the big dreams they had as little girls are all within reach when they put their heart and soul into achieving them.

Rainbow Gets Girls Ready for Life

- ✓ Is your daughter confident in school?
- ✓ Has she traveled and met people outside of her hometown?
- ✓ Will she be ready to succeed in life once she's on her own?

If these questions make you wonder about your daughter's future, then consider having her join an international club for girls that teaches what matters most—leadership, confidence, and citizenship. The International Order of the Rainbow for Girls is a nonprofit organization that strives to give girls the tools, training, and encouragement to let their individual spirits shine bright.

What is Rainbow?

The International Order of the Rainbow for Girls is a dynamic organization that has played a vital role in cities large and small since it was founded in 1922. In addition to volunteering countless hours of community work, Rainbow Girls raise hundreds of thousands of dollars each year for world-class charities like Relay for Life, Habitat for Humanity, the American Heart Association, and the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

Through working and sharing together, members grow in many ways. Their confidence grows. Their public speaking ability is sharpened. They blossom into confident leaders. Most importantly, your daughter will make memories and learn life skills that will stay with her into adulthood.

What Will My Daughter Learn?

She'll learn the power of knowledge—to know right from wrong and to be able to make decisions by using her head and her heart instead of peer pressure. She'll get the opportunity to travel and meet new people—creating friendships that will last a lifetime. While the day-to-day tasks and events will be fun, your daughter will learn the joy of making the world a better place through volunteering in her community.

While research shows that students who volunteer tend to be more well-rounded, productive people, Rainbow service projects and challenging workshops allow girls to network and meet with professionals for solid guidance—the perfect way for your daughter to experience different areas of work, making it a lot less overwhelming when she chooses a career path.

Talk with your daughter today about joining us!

Rainbow welcomes girls between the ages of 11 and 20, regardless of race or religious background. Younger girls between the ages of 6 and 10 can also join as Pledges.
