AI and The Bluebook: Why ChatGPT Falls Short of Traditional Algorithms for Bluebook Legal Citation Formatting

ChatGPT, an advanced AI language model developed by OpenAI, has made significant strides in a wide array of applications, from creating engaging content to passing the bar exam. Despite its impressive achievements, however, ChatGPT is not currently suited for formatting legal citations in The Bluebook style.

Text Formatting Limitations

One of the primary reasons ChatGPT is not suitable for formatting legal citations in The Bluebook style is its inability to format text with italics, underlining, or small caps. These formatting options are essential for creating accurate citations that adhere to the rigorous standards set forth by The Bluebook.

For example, The Bluebook requires that case names be italicized or underlined. Similarly, some portions of citations, such as the names of certain authors, books, and periodicals, must be presented in small caps. Without these formatting options, a citation generated by ChatGPT would not conform to the proper style, rendering it incorrectly formatted.

Incorrect Abbreviations and Citations

Another issue with ChatGPT's handling of legal citations is its tendency to incorrectly abbreviate party names in court case citations. For example, when citing the case of Wisconsin Packing Co. v. Indiana Refrigerator Lines, Inc., GPT-4 incorrectly abbreviates the states in the party names to Wis. Packing Co. v. Ind. Refrigerator Lines, Inc., a notable deviation from the extensive and exacting Bluebook formatting rules.

Moreover, and more seriously, ChatGPT may generate incorrect or non-existent reporter volumes and numbers. This is a crucial issue, as accurate citations are vital for legal professionals to locate and reference the appropriate sources. An example of this issue is GPT-3.5 citing a Pennsylvania state court decision, Commonwealth v. Ferrone, as 595 Pa. 291 when, in fact, the correct citation is 302 Pa. Super. 282. This kind of error can have severe and disastrous consequences in legal writing, where precision is paramount.

To its credit, rather than fabricating a non-existent citation, the updated GPT-4 now simply refuses to answer the question, instead replying that “as an AI language model, I do not have access to specific case information,” and advising the “need to search a legal database or use a search engine to access the case details.”

The Achievements of ChatGPT

Despite these limitations, ChatGPT has achieved remarkable success in numerous fields. It has even managed to pass the bar exam, demonstrating a deep understanding of legal principles and an ability to reason effectively. Its capacity to generate engaging content and provide insights on various topics is a testament to its versatility and potential for future growth in the legal sphere.

President's Report

By: Traci B. Wolfe, PP
2023-2024 President

Let me begin by thanking you for your vote of confidence in leading our association for the 2023-2024 year. I am honored and humbled in your vote of confidence. I will do my best to lead our association forward, influence, and inspire each of you, and help each of you be the best you are! To start, I am excited for the board retreat in June. We will spend the entire weekend planning for the upcoming year and getting to know each other on a personal level as well. Then, July 21-22, we will meet in Columbia for our Summer meeting and CLE's. Then, August 21-23 we go to Texas! Please try and make plans to attend the NALS conference, it will certainly be a very memorable experience and a wonderful time to get to know fellow NALS pals.

President-Elect, Meredith Lazarski, ACP, SCCP will be reaching out to each chapter to begin scheduling the Officer visitation. The board looks forward to spending time with each chapter and getting to know the members we do not get to see often. Please be on the lookout for Meredith when she calls you to get them scheduled.

Also, have you seen it? Please take a moment to check out our newly formatted website www.lspsc.org. Past President Katherine Helms, PP, SCCP had a vision to update our website, and with the help of Cassandra Furtick, that site is now up and active. Thank you, Katherine, for your vision, and seeing the site to completion.

My theme this upcoming year is Charting your Course. During this year, I, along with the Board want to be your guide by providing personalized assistance in devising your course of action and effectively complete your self-development journey with our association. I encourage each of you to identify your goals in our association, craft a workable plan, and navigate around any obstacles that will allow you to successfully achieve the advancement you desire.

To help begin your course, the State chapter will again continue to pay for local chapters to continue the SC Bar Paralegal Certification Accredited Sponsors. The State Chapter will also continue to offer its members the study materials for certification exams. This is an extremely helpful tool to have at your fingertips. Will this be the year you finally get that certification? We want to give you all the resources necessary to reach your goal.

July 21-23, 2023, we will have our summer meeting. This year, we will meet at Homewood Suites off Greystone at the zoo. Plan to come early or stay later on Sunday, so you can visit the zoo. Visiting this time of year, is perfect to catch a glimpse of your favorite animal. FD of Education, Ann Marie Minerva, PP, EP/P SCCP is working on some fantastic speakers, and they will be announced soon. Sorry for the delay.

I look forward to a new and exciting year, and I have one question, have you charted your course yet?

AI and The Bluebook:

Why ChatGPT Falls Short of Traditional Algorithms for Bluebook Legal Citation Formatting con't

For instance, ChatGPT can help legal professionals draft persuasive arguments, analyze complex legal scenarios, and even aid in drafting contracts and other legal documents. However, when it comes to The Bluebook citations, its limitations currently preclude its use as a reliable citation generator.

In conclusion, although ChatGPT has proven its value in several domains, it is not currently suitable for formatting legal citations in The Bluebook style. The lack of text formatting capabilities, such as italics, underlining, and small caps, as well as its tendency to create incorrect or non-existent citations, make it an unreliable option for this specific task.

While ChatGPT's advancements are undeniably impressive, traditional algorithms remain the best choice for creating accurate and compliant Bluebook legal citations. As AI technology continues to evolve, future iterations of language models like ChatGPT may eventually overcome these limitations. Until then, legal professionals should continue to rely on established and dedicated Bluebook legal citation tools to ensure the accuracy and integrity of their work.

OFFICER & COMMITTEE REPORTS

Functional Director of Certification/Education
Ann Marie Minerva, PP-SC EP/P, SCCP

Thank you for allowing me to serve as your Functional Director of Certification/Education for 2023-2024. As I was pondering what to "report" to the membership in the Spotlight, several thoughts resonated with me as we arrived at the unofficial start of summer with Memorial Day weekend.

Firstly, I cannot help but remember all those brave souls who have sacrificed for the betterment of society and people they have never met or never will meet. Not only our servicemen, but our firefighters, police, doctors, nurses....and the list is endless.

Secondly, all those who choose a life of service take an oath. Servicemen pledge their fidelity and service to the Army, Marines, Navy, Air Force, Coast Guard, etc. Police pledge to serve their communities. Doctors take the Hippocratic Oath. Even our attorneys take an Oath.

So that got me to really thinking about a life of service. Are those professions the only professions of service? No. We are called to live a life of service, whether it is as a parent, a child of an aging parent, as a spouse, a sibling, a neighbor, as well as in our chosen profession, whatever it may be.

At our installation as LSPSC officers, we took an Oath or Pledge to be of service and perform to the best of our abilities. The first time I was installed as an LSPSC officer, the words of the Oath/Pledge I took were a powerful statement of my promise to serve the association and its members.

I ask you, have you really considered the words of the NALS Code of Ethics & Professional Responsibility? When we attend our LSPSC meetings and the NALS Code of Ethics is read aloud, do you really consider the depth of what each of us individually represents as a member of the association, to our attorneys, to our clients, to our co-workers?

Do you know the 10 Canons of the NALS Code of Ethics & Professional Responsibility?

Canon 1. Members of this association shall maintain a high degree of competency and integrity through continuing education to better assist the legal profession in fulfilling its duty to provide quality legal services to the public.

Canon 2. Members of this association shall maintain a high standard of ethical conduct and shall contribute to the integrity of the association and the legal profession.

Canon 3. Members of this association shall avoid a conflict of interest pertaining to a client matter.

Canon 4. Members of this association shall preserve and protect the confidences and privileged communications of a client.

Canon 5. Members of this association shall exercise care in using independent professional judgment and in determining the extent to which a client may be assisted without the presence of a lawyer and shall not act in matters involving professional legal judgment.

Canon 6. Members of this association shall not solicit legal business on behalf of a lawyer.

Canon 7. Members of this association, unless permitted by law, shall not perform legal functions except under the direct supervision of a lawyer and shall not advertise or contract with members of the general public for the performance of paralegal functions.

Canon 8. Members of this association, unless permitted by law, shall not perform any of the duties restricted to lawyers or do things which lawyers themselves may not do and shall assist in preventing the unauthorized practice of law.

Canon 9. Members of this association not licensed to practice law shall not engage in the practice of law as defined by statutes or court decisions.

Canon 10. Members of this association shall do all other things incidental, necessary, or expedient to enhance professional responsibility and participation in the administration of justice and public service in cooperation with the legal profession.

The first canon directly relates to the position of Functional Director of Certification/Education. I would like to encourage everyone in our association to continue to attend the educational seminars, study for your first NALS certification or a second, or a Specialty Certification. We can only be of service to our association, our profession, and to each other if we never stop improving ourselves.

The last canon directly relates to each and every one of us to be mindful of how even the smallest task performed in our work lives strives to “enhance professional responsibility” and “public service” of the legal profession.

Functional Director of Membership/Marketing Cassandra Furtick

Membership organizations rely on a strong membership base to achieve their goals and fulfill their mission. But how do you build and maintain a thriving membership program in today's fast-changing landscape? It can be challenging for us to adapt to new trends and technologies while staying true to our core values and mission. However, by charting a course for success and taking a strategic approach, we can navigate change while maintaining our identity and purpose.

Our identity is our members. What do our members stand for? What, as a whole, are our core values? As Functional Director of Membership and Marketing, my goal is to reach out to every chapter to learn about what drives them to be a leader. Our goal is to shed a shining light on what each chapter is doing in their community. Bring a light to what drives each of us to hold the torch high and keep it burning. As a state chapter, how are we helping our members hold their torch high when life makes it heavy? Charting your course means helping others find their path when they are having trouble lighting the torch. During this year, we are hoping to build on the lessons those who came before us laid, while gaining new knowledge to help each of us. We will be using technology to expand our reach and grow our platform. Knowing that our members learn at different levels will help us teach, mentor, and lead better.

To help to shine the light on our members, please remember to utilize our spotlight advertisement forms as well as the Happy Grams. Happy Grams are a special way to congratulate, recognize, or encourage your fellow chapter members in the Spotlight while supporting our state chapter. Encourage your employers to participate in the Spotlight with advertising. If you own your own business, you can advertise as well. We want to share everything about our members, including any businesses you may own, or even special interests you have.

To date we have 103 members! Our family will continue to grow and like every family, we welcome new members with open arms. Let's all welcome our new members who have joined since March: Catharine Butler and Elizabeth Ramsey.

While we continue to grow, we encourage everyone to share our organization with others and invite them to your local meetings and our state meetings. On the state level, we are reaching out to other firms to inform them of our growing family and to invite their staff to attend a meeting. Our social media presence has grown as well. If you haven't already, please check out our Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, and Instagram pages. Share them with your colleagues and encourage them to like our pages as well.

In conclusion, thank you all for everything you have done and continue to do with NALS, our local chapters, our state chapter. We could not do it without you. We are only as strong as our members. I look forward to continuing to work with each one of you to help our family grow. Please feel free to reach out to me if you have any questions, concerns, ideas, or even if you have anything you like more information on. We have a growing family and a wealth of information to share.

The NALS Foundation, a 501(c)(3) non-profit educational foundation, was established in 1989 with the aim of providing educational opportunities in the legal support profession. In partnership with the National Association for Legal Support Professionals, the foundation works tirelessly to enhance the knowledge and skills of legal support professionals across the country.

Its branches extend far and wide, providing a wealth of educational opportunities to those who seek to advance their careers. The foundation's continued success is dependent on the generosity of donors who share its vision of promoting education and excellence in the legal support profession.

Technology

Cassandra Furtick and Colleen Qunell

Technology is ever so changing! We are happy and pleased to announce that our first project of the year is up and running. Yes, the new webpage is up and running. Please be on the lookout for an email to create your password for the members only section of our page. If you haven't received it, please let us know.

To continue on growth for technology, we have ideas of creating virtual events, community service drives, and so much more to discuss with the board and the chapter. For now, we will continue to utilize our social media platforms, emails, and text messages to spread knowledge. As you may have already seen, we will utilize Loom for sharing processes, quick "how-to", and even a simple hello. This also allows us to connect to our members who learn visually. For our members who would rather have a quick text, we will utilize a group chat app that will send group reminders, or if we need to have a quick update from the state. We will try to send less emails this year but share more information.

One big important project this year is to better utilize Zoom. While we love to see everyone in person, scheduling sometimes doesn't allow it. Being on the Zoom audience side, I know how frustrating it can be to not hear. As the technology committee, we will work with the state board to gather ideas and implement them to allow a Zoom option where you can not only see but hear as well.

We look forward to a bright year growing our technology for our members and taking LSPSC into the future.

Legal Staff Professionals of Orangeburg

I attended my first-ever Legal Staff Professionals of South Carolina Education Conference and Annual Meeting held in Beau fort, SC. I attended the convention with my fellow Orangeburg Chapter. We had a blast spending the days listening to different stuff like Elder Law. Cathy West Olivetti, Esq talked about area of legal practice that specializes on issues that affect the senior population. The purpose of elder law planning is to prepare the elderly person for financial freedom and autonomy through proper financial planning and long-term care options. But as with anything in life as the day go by we had speaker State Senate Thomas C Davis. He talked about four topics: abortion, hate law, gun law and the transgender bill. Then after we had a banquet, where we present the past board into the new board. I really enjoyed attending my first conference experience and NALS. I could have planned a better experience using the takeaways above, but overall, it was an excellent weekend, and I learned so much. I'm excited to put these takeaways into action for my next conference.

Chapter Reports

Legal Staff Professionals of the Midlands Stephanie A. Jones, PP, SCCP

What a great year we had with the 2022-2023 LSPSM Board Members. Traci Wolfe, PP, our past president was a great inspiration to us all and we thoroughly enjoyed being a part of another creative and exciting year. I want to congratulate the new 2023-2024 LSPM Board as we have several who are novel members holding positions: Cassandra Furtick, P-E; Colleen Qunell, Secretary/Treasurer; Jenny Leininger, FD of Membership/Marketing; and Morgan Rivers, FD of Education/Certification. I am encouraged by this as a new President and, frankly, a newish member myself. While our focus is always gaining members and growing as an association, I would like to emphasize our current members as well.

I am making it my personally goal to reach out to each member. I want to meet for lunch, get a drink, or just talk on the phone. I want to know more about what each member wants out of the association, what brought them to NALS, and how I can personally help them reach their goal. I think this is so important. One thing I've always loved about this chapter, and the state and national associations, is that we are so close – we are friends – not just colleagues. There's no reason at all we don't sit down and talk openly about the direction of our members and how each of us are proceeding in our personal goals. I want to get to know everyone and share with them the feeling I have as I move through my membership with NALS – pride.

This year will be a lot of fun. I have a lot of ideas of how we can get together and serve in our community as a group. We will have some very new and interesting community service projects that I am excited to announce as we move through the year. So, stay tuned to what we are doing in the Midlands! You will not be sorry!

Legal Staff Professionals of Greenville Tara Jean Brown, PP, PLS, SCCP

March and April were very busy and exciting months for LSPG. During our March monthly luncheon, we held our elections for our board members and we had a gift raffle. This gave us time to be able to network with one another and take home some really cute gifts. We installed our new board officers at our April monthly luncheon. The theme of our officer installation was Gardening for Growth. We all know how much work has to be put into a garden and how many different tools are required to do so. This year, the goal of LSPG is for all of us to work together to grow our membership.

We are very excited to announce all of our new board members for the 2023- 2024 year.

President – Tara Jean Brown, PP, CLP, SCCP
President-Elect - Terri Coker, ACP, SCCP
Treasurer - Audra Webb, CP, SCCP
Secretary - Matthew James
Vice-President for Marketing & Membership - Victoria J. Mayfield
Immediate Past President - Lois J. Belle, CLP

We are thrilled to have every position filled, and to have some of our newer members serving on our board this year and wish them all a very successful year.

During April, a several of our members attended the LSPSC Annual Meeting in Beaufort, hosted by LSP Hilton Head. During this meeting, we got to attend some great CLE's with Cathy West Olivetti on Elder Law and Thomas C. Davis on Hot Topics in South Carolina Legislation. On Sunday, we attended Leadership Round Tables; this hour gave new members and officers the opportunity to discuss the different state board and committee positions to help them understand what the different positions are and what they involve.

On May 6, 2023, we will have our annual planning meeting for LSPG and we hope to come up with some new creative ideas to try to grow our membership this year. We are anxious to see what this new year holds for LSPG.

During the month of May, our speaker for our monthly luncheon will be James Brammer with Guest and Brady and he will be talking to us about Real Estate. Our speaker for our June luncheon will be someone from Angell Maloney, LLC to teach us about legal asset portals.

See you at the Summer Membership meeting in Columbia in July.

Hilton Head Legal Staff Professionals

Birdie Sargent

It seems like yesterday we were discussing the transition of our incoming 2023-2024 HHLSP's Board Members. A lot has happened since that time! Our most important event was the 58th Annual Meeting and Education Conference held in Beaufort, SC on April 21 -23, Meeting on the Marsh. We owe the success of the conference to many dedicated members of our chapter as well as our supportive sponsors.

We are very appreciative of president elect, Christine Vandenberghe, for hosting a beautiful dinner in her home for our May, 2023 meeting. Our August meeting will be held at the home of Carlene Kilgore, which will be just as amazing.

As we move into summer weather and more traffic than we like to think about, be aware of the out-of-state drivers. Being a resort community, we expect this, but it is still difficult to handle at times. If that's the only issue we are confronted with then we will count our blessings! I, personally, cannot imagine living anywhere else. Looking forward to dipping my toes into the ocean!

Sonia L. Hunt

We have been busy in Orangeburg the last couple of months. We gained two new members from our membership drive in February. In March we met at The Dean Law Firm for election of our 2023-2024 officers. Many thanks to those who were willing to take on a position for the new year. After that we enjoyed our first "paint" party where members got to choose the project they were going to tackle.

In April, we met at the Orangeburg County Library where Stacy Russo-Strobel, PLS installed our officers. Officers for the coming year are as follows:

Sonia L. Hunt	- President
Mikki Hancock	- President-Elect
Keshia Shuler-Johnson	- Secretary/Treasurer
Michael Howell, Jr.	- Functional Director Certification/Education
Necchia Middleton	- Functional Director Marketing/Membership

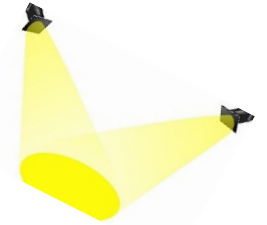

LSPO had five (5) members attend the annual meeting in Hilton Head. Many thanks to the Hilton Head chapter for a great "Meeting on the Marsh".

May will find us meeting at the offices of South Carolina Legal Services for our planning session for the year.

Strawberry Shortcakes

Ingredients:

6 servings
2 cups all-purpose flour, plus more for surface
1½ tsp. baking powder
¼ tsp. baking soda
½ cup plus 1 tsp. sugar, divided
1½ tsp. kosher salt, plus more
1 lemon
½ cup (1 stick) cold unsalted butter
1 cup sour cream, divided
2 cups heavy cream, divided
1½ lb. strawberries
1 tsp. vanilla extract

Directions:

Place a rack in center of oven; preheat to 400°. Line a rimmed baking sheet with parchment paper. Whisk 2 cups flour, 1½ tsp. baking powder, ¼ tsp. baking soda, 4 tsp. sugar, and 1½ tsp. salt in a large bowl to combine. Finely grate zest of about half of 1 lemon right into bowl (reserve lemon for later). Cut 1 stick cold butter into ½" pieces and toss with dry ingredients until coated. Work butter into dry ingredients by pinching and rubbing it between your palms until there are lots of flat shards and pea-sized bits remaining. Those small, uneven pieces of unincorporated butter create steam pockets as the shortcakes bake, resulting in a tender, flaky end result. Combine ¾ cup sour cream and ½ cup heavy cream in a medium bowl. Create a well in the center of the dry ingredients. Scrape cream mixture into well. Working in circles from inside the well outwards with a rubber spatula, mix dough until large, shaggy clumps form. Knead once or twice (don't overdo it!) until it forms a mass and most of the flour has been incorporated into the dough. Transfer to a lightly floured surface. Pat to a 1"-thick square (it should be about 6x6"). Cut dough into 4 equal squares, then stack them all on top of each other, creating one very tall tower of dough. Press down on stack with your hands, flattening dough back to a square. This stacking method is what will create lots of flaky layers. Pat to a 7½x5" rectangle about 1" thick. Cut rectangle in half lengthwise, then cut each of those 2 rectangles into 3 squares. Transfer squares to prepared baking sheet. Sprinkle tops with 1 Tbsp. sugar. Freeze 10 minutes. (This will help ensure that the shortcakes rise—rather than spread out—in the oven.) Bake shortcakes until golden brown all over, 20–25 minutes. While shortcakes bake, make your strawberries and whipped cream. If whipping cream by hand, place a large bowl in freezer to chill. Trim and discard stems of 1½ lb. strawberries. Cut smaller ones in half and larger ones into quarters. Transfer to a medium bowl. Cut reserved lemon in half and squeeze 2 Tbsp. lemon juice into bowl with strawberries. Add 3 Tbsp. sugar and toss to combine. Let sit at room temperature, tossing occasionally as you wait for the shortcakes. They will naturally create their own syrup through the mingling of the fruit juices with the sugar and lemon juice. Pour remaining 1½ cups heavy cream into chilled bowl. Add 1 tsp. vanilla, 3 Tbsp. sugar, and a pinch of salt. Vigorously whisk with your largest whisk, making figure-8 motions, until soft peaks form. This will take 3–5 minutes of good ol' elbow grease—but don't be discouraged if it takes longer! If you're not feeling up to the challenge, use an electric mixer and beat starting at low speed, gradually increasing to high as cream begins to thicken. You're still looking for those nice, slightly floppy, soft peaks. Whisk in remaining ¼ cup sour cream until just incorporated. Let shortcakes cool at least 15 minutes. Gently split shortcakes in half with your hands. Place bottom halves in serving bowls. Divide whipped cream, then macerated strawberries among bottom halves. Drizzle any syrupy juices left in bowl over. Close with top halves of shortcake.

Marvel at your creation. Serve and enjoy!
