15th ANNUAL WATERSHED WEEKEND
September 23 & 24, 2017

“WE ALL LIVE IN A WATERSHED”

Watershed:	Lower Susquehanna River Basin
Organization Name:	Lancaster County Conservancy
Venue Title:	6) Tending the Susquehanna Riverlands: Regenerative Agroforestry for Farmers and Landowners
Description:	Healthy ecosystems maintain, fertilize, and renew themselves, naturally. Land management techniques that mimic such healthy ecosystems can produce food, fiber, medicine, and other products while simultaneously regenerating the landscape. Researcher, author, designer, and educator Dave Jacke will walk through some ecological history, ecological theory, and practical design examples that demonstrate the potential of regenerative agroforestry systems for farmers and landowners in the Susquehanna Riverlands region.
Date(s):	Friday, September 22, 2017
