Tony Krome from the Education Forum created this juxtaposition. He writes: "The picture below is one I created a while back. Seems to show different sideburns. The one on the right is Friday night at the DPD with Basement Ruby's hat and strange eye shadow superimposed.

1. I did not believe John Armstrong had ID'd Ruby correctly until I saw this juxtaposition above.
2. You already have this one - this one is a screenshot with additional information beyond John A's diagram below (like the routes Ruby may have taken, and added references to people's numbers.
3. This is John Armstrong's colorized and more-legible version.
