Winnipeg Modern Quilt Guild

NEXT MEETING: 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 17, Riverview Community Centre.
Pouch swap, group quilt project reveal, and show and tell at 2 p.m.

SWAPPING POUCHES: There's still time to make a pouch for our swap. Make a pouch in any style or pattern, measuring at least 6 by 10 inches, put your name inside on a slip of paper, and wrap the whole thing in paper or fabric. All pouches will be placed in a large bag, and members participating will pull a pouch blindly from the bag. Everyone participating is eligible to win a fabric bundle from The Fabric Curator, a new Canadian online store. If you can't attend but will still like to swap, please arrange for a friend to bring your pouch.

MORSE CODE AND MODERN QUILTING: Pat Daniels will talk about her design for our first group quilt. We plan to send it to QuiltCon in February as part of the guild charity quilt challenge. Pat is using the theme of text to design a quilt spelling out Save our Planet in Morse code. It's an exciting design that incorporates patchwork and applique blocks from many participants, so please consider adding your piece to this project.

RENEW YOUR MEMBERSHIP: Memberships of $60 for 2020 are due Dec. 1. Bring your cash or cheque to the November meeting, or pay online through PayPal using this link. An annual membership includes 12 monthly sewing meetings in Winnipeg, early registration and member pricing for our workshops, and access to all the features on the Modern Quilt Guild website, including online webinars, classes, patterns, and more.

UPCOMING MEETING at Riverview Community Centre, 90 Ashland Ave.:
Dec. 8: 2 -6 p.m. Please note the time change. Bring a Christmas or winter quilt to display at your work station.
