My career experience is multi-faceted and encompasses roles in sales, management, leadership, customer service, real-estate, accounting, and record keeping. With a strong mechanical background and proven problem-solving skills, I am a self-starter and a highly motivated individual. Additionally, I am a life-long learner and will be a great asset to your company, as I have excelled in all past employment positions with positive feedback from all former employers. I am hoping to expand my career path in a new direction, and your company will fill this personal career endeavor.
