Faster, Good Friday, and Palm Sunday are three of the most important holidays in the Christian faith, marking significant events in the life of Jesus Christ. Each holiday has a unique history and significance that is still celebrated and observed around the world today.

Palm Sunday, which falls on the Sunday before Easter, marks Jesus' triumphant entry into Jerusalem, as described in the Gospels of Mathew, Mark, Luke, and John. Jesus rode into Jerusalem on a donkey while his followers waved palm branches and laid them on the ground to create a path for him to pass over. The people of Jerusalem welcomed him with great enthusiasm, shouting "Hosanna," which means "Save now!" Palm Sunday is significant because it marks the beginning of Holy Week, which is the most important week in the Christian calendar.

Good Friday commemorates the day when Jesus was crucified on the cross, and it is traditionally observed on the Friday before Easter Sunday. The origin of the name "Good Friday" is uncertain, but it is believed to come from the Old English term "God's Friday" or "Gute Freitag" in German. It is a solemn day of mourning for Christians, and many churches hold special services and processions to mark the occasion.

Easter Sunday celebrates the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, three days after his crucifixion. The origins of Easter date back to the early Christian church, where it was first celebrated as a feast day. Some scholars believe that the name "Easter" comes from the Old English term "Eostre," which was the name of a pagan goddess of spring and fertility. Others believe that it is derived from the Latin "Pascha," which means "Passover," as Easter usually falls around the same time as the Jewish holiday. The date of Easter has been a topic of debate throughout history, and it was only in the fourth century that the Council of Nicaea established that Easter would be celebrated on the first Sunday following the first full moon after the spring equinox.

In many churches, Palm Sunday is celebrated with special processions and services, while Easter Sunday is marked with joyful celebrations, including singing, feasting, and attending church. Good Friday remains a solemn and reflective day, as Christians remember Jesus' sacrifice on the cross.

In conclusion, Easter, Good Friday, and Palm Sunday are important holidays in the Christian faith, marking significant events in the life of Jesus Christ. They remind Christians of the love, sacrifice, and hope that Jesus brought to the world, and continue to be celebrated and observed around the world today.

This year, April's full Moon is the first full Moon of the spring season. This means that April's full Moon is the Paschal Full Moon - an important Moon to those who celebrate Easter, since Easter's date depends on the date of the Paschal Full Moon.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Live

One quality that many Sunday Afternoon Live performances share is that each is a juxtaposition: A set of contrasts, a presentation of opposites. Tel Aviv Wind Quintet is a real juxtaposition of classical chops and theatrical whimsy. Yes, Tel Aviv Wind Quintet is a collective of award-winning and internationally-recognized classical musicians. But are you prepared for an ensemble that frolics onstage, wearing swim flippers, tossing ball caps, using their instruments as props (like oars)? In pieces such as “Peter And The Wolf”, and Berio’s comic “Barn Dance”, the players of Tel Aviv Wind Quintet turn music into theatre and bring the audience right along with them. Listening to show-stoppers like Gershwin’s “Rhapsody In Blue”, we are swept along dizzily, but these masters of precision are in complete control. Somehow, they are able to weave beauty, pathos, and humor together as each piece unfolds. As critic Pamela Hickman notes, Tel Aviv Wind Quintet is “polished, whimsical, and suitably teasing” (2020).

Tel Aviv Wind Quintet was founded in 2009 by five young Israeli musicians who were not only interested in sharing a stellar classical repertoire, but also exploring different musical and theatrical genres. The result is a completely unique performance experience that has entranced audiences in Europe, the US, Canada, and Israel. Critics have called these artists “the best wind players in Israel” (Haggai Hitron in Haaretz, 2014), and noted that “the long and loud applause did not let the players get off the stage” (Stadtzeitung Bad-Neuenahr Ahrweiler, 2018). Once again, Sunday Afternoon Live patrons are in for a world-class feast of entertainment!

Tel Aviv Wind Quintet performs at the historic Raymond Theatre (323 3rd St, Raymond, WA) on Sun, Mar 26, 2023 at 2:00 PM. Tickets are $25 at the door (cash or check only), or may be purchased in advance for $20 by mail. Send a SASE with check payable to Sunday Afternoon Live to SAL, PO Box 964, South Bend, WA 98586. Other methods of payment are by phone at 360-836-4419, or by credit card at www.sundayafternoonlive.org. Tickets for individual performances can be purchased at South Bend Pharmacy and at Raymond Pharmacy.
