British Marque Car Club News

When you've finished with the tasks of the day, the home team has won, and the family's gone off to bed - what do you do? The TV can't save your sorry state and you're too tired to pick up The Man Without Qualities. But you can't go to sleep. Not just yet. And you'll never finish Robert Musil's classic novel. (Who does?) Why not fix a gin and tonic and if you're a subscriber, pick up your copy of the British Marque Car Club News? Problem solved.

Bruce Vild is an NJTA supporter, writer, and executive editor of the British Marque Car Club News. It is a tabloid style newspaper, published eleven months a year, containing news and information about British car clubs. Articles come from participating car clubs across the country, such as the NJTA for example.

Read reports and accounts of what other clubs are doing, written by fellow club members like you and me. The Marque is a unique publication. Get an idea for a club activity by reading about the exploits and adventures of others. Or leaf through it for the simple pleasure of reading about British cars and like minded enthusiasts. I've been enjoying it for some years now. And truth be told, I've yet to finish The Man Without Qualities either. But that's Austrian literature, not car club news. And I'd rather read the British Marque Car Club News. Besides, if Mr. Musil was alive today and if he even owned a car, it would probably be an old Volkswagen, not a Triumph.

Subscriptions to the British Marque Car Club News are available through the website for the Print Edition and/or the On-line Edition. (Members of the NJTA are participating club members.) You can also download a sample of the On-line Edition in order to see what the Marque is all about. Check out some of the featured stories and photos, editorials, tech tips, and classifieds. Find out about rallies, autocrosses, car shows, and other events. Utilize the helpful search function on the advertisers page. Learn about Triathlon X. And even buy some classy British car themed Holiday Cards or All-occasion Note Cards.

The British Marque Car Club News, in print or on-line, it's classic literature for the car club crowd. Read it.
