Fallfest sponsor Knight's Automotive Repair is well known in the Roxbury/Randolph area. Located at 171 East Main Street in Ledgewood, owners Peyton and Nancy Knight have been providing superior automotive service and repair since 1984. If your auto, SUV or light truck is in need of high quality repair and service at affordable rates - then put their knowledgeable, well trained, ASE certified technicians and service advisors to the test. Knight's Auto Repair can service all foreign and domestic makes and models. And they can perform all the manufacturer's scheduled maintenance services listed in your owner's manual.

Owners Peyton and Nancy Knight are also very involved in the local Roxbury community. Of all the posts and causes that the Knights have held or been involved in, they are most passionate about the national "Wheels to Prosper" Car Give-Away program. For the last six years, the Knights, their employees, and other local businesses have worked together to refurbish a used vehicle to make it safe and reliable transportation and then it is presented to a deserving community member who is in need of a car. According to Mr. Knight, "Every year we seek nominations from the local area. With the help of other local businesses, we help change the life of someone who is struggling with transportation needs."

Kudos to the Knights and their partners for their charitable efforts. Their family owned AAA approved business has come to be known as the auto repair and service place that you can trust. Knight's Automotive Repair can provide simple automotive maintenance, an extensive overhaul or a complicated diagnostic procedure... all at affordable rates. Whatever your transportation needs, Knight's Automotive Repair will take good care of you and your car.
