

“ Nuclear Energy is fun, romantic, hip, sexy, and free. People who advocate for nuclear energy are better looking, have higher morale, superior bowel movements, and more antibodies against disease. They also become wildly popular, tax-exempt, and get elected to office. And they get placed on nuclear regulatory bodies where they approve of building dozens of big HUGE nuclear reactors, and 1,000 small modular reactors at the same time. And everybody, everywhere loves them for it. ”
