The President's Corner

This has been an interesting year and seems like time has flown by. Almost all family and friends have been seen from a distance.

Thanksgiving was different for my family. Plans for a get together in Union were squashed and each family celebrated in their own home. Zoom and facetime really don't get it. I'm sure most of you celebrated the same.

With Christmas coming I'm sure we will be cautious again and come up with some creative plans.

Does this all sound sad, "yes it does". We have lost friends, family members and some have lost their loving pets.

Corvid 19 has changed our world. I have reflected on this whole pandemic world. What is the Lord telling us? Think about all the illness, terror and negativity going on. Has God been forgotten? Have some of you prayed so hard that we will be safe and kept healthy.

So what have we learned about Corvid 19. We are all in this together. Sad that some think this is not real and not necessary to help stop the spread.

These are just my thoughts of what we are all going thru. If anything, it has drawn us closer to family, friends and God. Teaching us to appreciate our lives and blessing of what we have both materially and spiritually, understanding the true values of life.

Be grateful for each other and the love shared. It is because of our schnauzers that we share this camaraderie. Personally, if it wouldn't be for Rosco who gives his unconditional love, I would be lost. I'm sure all of you share that feeling.

Hang in there, we will all be together one day. There is a light at the end of the tunnel. Looking forward to 2021 getting together with friends and sharing new experiences.

A Merry Christmas to you and your 4 legged family members and a quiet New Year.
