EXCLUSIVE OFFER:

MILLER ALIEN: Purple People Eater

1958 J.H. Miller Mfg Co

This, my friends, is the VERY FIRST MILLER ALIEN made from its original JH Miller Mfg. Co. moldset in over half a century! For a very limited time only (i.e., while it is still on the MOLDVILLE.com machine) you can go back to 1958 and buy your very own Purple People Eater MILLER ALIEN, made from the original equipment used at the JH Miller facilities in 1958. An original 1958 casting of the Purple People Eater MILLER ALIEN is extremely rare, and even rarer if it hasn't been broken. I bought my 1958 Purple People Eater MILLER ALIEN for somewhere around $300 a while back, and that was a reduced price because the horn had been glued back onto it.

If you too want a Purple People Eater MILLER ALIEN made from its original JH MILLER equipment, please email MoldvilleMachine@gmail.com TODAY.

"Dancing With The Stars" (MOLDVILLE.com style!)

The original Purple People Eater MILLER ALIEN moldset is signed (at my request) by JH Miller's nephew Kip Miller, whose father Max Miller ran the JH Miller operation in Puerto Rico in the 1950s, and is credited as having designed the Purple People Eater MILLER ALIEN.

Very little was needed to make the JH MILLER era moldset work on the 1960s coin operated MOLD-A-RAMA machine. Aside from the need for the use of an adapter for the water fittings, and for attaching mold arm collars, the JH MILLER moldset for the MILLER ALIEN called Purple People Eater works perfectly on MOLDVILLE. So well made is this moldset that the original water seal (the brown vertical stripe on each half of the moldset) is bone dry in operation with cooling water running through the back!

The Purple People Eater MILLER ALIEN moldset evidences that the MILLER ALIENS were in fact made on early manufacturing versions of the Mold-A-Rama type machine. It is also believed that the JH MILLER DINOSAURS, and in fact all plastic toys from JH MILLER, were made on the manufacturing versions of the Mold-A-Rama type machine. I asked Kip Miller what his recollections were of the machines that the Dinosaurs were made on. He said "Yes, I remember seeing the machines working. Some of my recollection may be confused, but I remember the molds coming together and then, after a little bit, they would part and then the toy would drop into a big bin. And they were definitely dinosaurs, because my sister Jody and I would collect the damaged ones and take them home to play with."

Some years back this particular set of 1958 MILLER ALIENS sold for $4750 - and it doesn't even include the ultra-rare 18th Miller Alien - the PURPLE PEOPLE EATER!

If you are lucky enough to find an original 1958 casting of the Purple People Eater Miller Alien - above is indicative of the condition you might find it in (with broken or missing horn, musical note, etc.) The one-year-only experience from MOLDVILLE.com truly was a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for collectors!

This undamaged original Purple People Eater sold on ebay in May 2012 for $809!

At right is another J.H. MILLER figure designed and sculpted by JH Miller's brother MAX MILLER - purportedly the very last figure issued by J.H. MILLER MFG.!
