

A

Design

ProjectC Design department offers full-service design customized to a variety of client needs. From an interior refresh to new construction and large-scale remodels - our personalized approach to every project has you covered.

We believe the best spaces are truly individual and a reflection of you or your business. We strive to create thoughtful interiors that delight and inspire you on a daily basis. We scour the globe to find you the most unique and beautiful pieces to enjoy for a lifetime.

We value function, comfort, and beauty and achieve this through classic design practices and an artistic approach to composition. Beginning with research and inspiration, we move through the stages of design to find you the most efficient, functional, and elegant solution, while adhering to practical measures such as budget, accessibility, and timeline.

B

Contracting

ProjectC Construction department offers wide range of service such as:

Custom Home building: Our projects are all executed with every detail tailored to your vision. We bring to the table a network of professionals from every field required to execute your project; architects, interior designers, engineers and more. We truly believe our crew is as excited as you when creating your unique custom home.

Renovation and additions: Our expertise has led us towards projects that are large scale and elaborate that requires a high level of expertise and demand extensive attention to details. To retrofit an addition with the same quality as a new custom home is right in our alley.

Project Management: Simply need one of our PMP certified team members to help manage your project? Our team has the proven expertise and abilities required to provide a seamless integrated solution. The result of our strategic planning, project budgeting & scheduling, seamless coordination and team assembling, equates to relieving you of stress so you can focus on the big picture, while we tackle the day-to-day responsibilities.

Project recovery: There are many reasons why a project might fail, poor communications, bad planning, the wrong contractor. Early detection is the key to recovery. We've taken over multiple projects that were half complete and/or poorly executed and have proudly finished each and every one of them. Keeping an open and constant communication flow with our clients is one of the main keys to our success.

Commercial & Hospitality: ProjectC has many years of commercial office space, boutique shops and condo tower construction experience. From structural steel framing to delicate boutique fixture assembly, much has been accomplished in those years and the love for commercial design has always remained.

C

Explained

They call it Design/Built service, we call it ProjectC experience!

Simply by offering both services that our design and construction departments are specialized in, we offer a whole new Client, Consultant and Contractor experience by integrating these parties together at a very early stage on the same table.

Spend less, and spend well. a shared front load allows what is of true value to the client to be prioritized. The project team, working in an integrated manner, determine where to spend well the budget be more lean.

The right quality. zone by zone, detail by detail. Refining and adjusting together the list of Client Values and their priority.

Saving 25% of projects duration. Optimizing the process by 25% from a traditional typical design and construction process. With our Vision, 30 steps could become 23, and a further 10 steps could be optimized.