

McLean Hunt

McLEAN, VIRGINIA

The warmth of traditional architecture . . .
the pride of superior craftsmanship . . .
the refinement of its prized neighborhood
. . . all these things are McLean Hunt. Through its impressive private entrance, along its gently winding roads rich with scenic parks, the tranquil setting is the perfect prelude to each luxurious home. But more than seclusion alone has come to make McLean Hunt so prized a community. Its proximity to downtown Washington is well known. Four major shopping complexes are only minutes away, and a full complement of Fairfax County schools, ranked among the finest in the country, are within easy reach. The Capital Beltway, moments away, brings neighboring Montgomery County, and all points in the Metropolitan Area, within minutes of your home. With the total prestige and convenience of McLean Hunt well established, there leaves only the meticulous quality of each custom home to explore. Award-winning Berlage-Bernstein Builders have labored tirelessly to retain the rich heritage of this proud setting . . . and every home bespeaks this effort. The innovation in design, the painstaking detail, the accomplishment of complete individuality . . . all this in incomparably beautiful surroundings . . . this is McLean Hunt.

Directions: Across Key Bridge and north on George Washington Memorial Parkway to Rte. 123 (Dolley Madison Blvd.). Right on Rte. 123, 3 miles to Rte. 694 (Lewinsville Rd.), right one mile to McLean Hunt.

Or: Across Chain Bridge, right on Rte. 123, continue 4½ miles to Rte. 694. Right one mile to McLean Hunt.

Or: Take Capital Beltway to Exit 11 (McLean) North on Rte. 123 one mile to Rte. 694, left one mile to McLean Hunt. Model Home Phone 356-0666.

*Landscape Architect: David B. Wolfe, Assoc.
Architects: Horowitz-Seigel & Assoc., A.I.A.
Patterson & Worland, A.I.A.*

FRIGIDAIRE
PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS