Igniting leaders in tech to banish burnout, build high-performing teams, and be present for the moments that matter.

SPEAKER | EVENT FACILITATOR | BURNOUT PREVENTION EXPERT

Lisa Duerre is the CEO & Co-Founder of RLD Group, a Collective of Leadership Development Coaching and Consulting Experts helping Tech Companies take culture transformation out of the clouds, banish burnout, and drive bottom-line results.

RLD Group is a certified (WBENC, WSOB) Woman-Owned Leadership Consulting Firm specializing in co-created Organizational-Level Leadership Development Programs to help Leaders in Tech thrive at work and in their lives.

Lisa spent 20+ years in Silicon Valley as a top-level executive inside Fortune 500 tech companies. Now, she leverages her corporate experience and gift of facilitation and leadership development to help organizations to put the heart of the human back in Tech and create the FIRM Leaders of tomorrow. Lisa's insights have been featured by leading NBC, CBS, ABC, The Wall Street Journal, Forbes, Entrepreneur, FeedSpot, Thrive Global, Authority Magazine, Romper, The Mercury News, and more.

Lisa is also the host of Ctrl+Alt+Delete with Lisa Duerre™ Podcast, a FeedSpot Top -10 Podcast on Technical Leadership

Lisa is actively raising awareness for a disease she lives with called Lipedema, a misunderstood and underdiagnosed condition affecting as many as 1 in 11 women.

When she's not living the busy CEO life of leading RLD Group, Lisa loves exploring her home area of Portland, Oregon with her co-founder & husband, Randy, their daughter Emily, and their fun-loving Cavapoo, Yogi.
