Welcome from the Editor

As we begin our new year, we as Democrats look forward and push ahead as a community with a sense of optimism and accomplishment. I would like to thank all of our community members who voted in our last elections as our elections were impactful. Elections have consequences as does not voting. I have had the distinct honor and pleasure of supporting our elected officials, as many other community members also have. Regardless of the capacity of support that our member have provided, know that every single effort counts!. I would like to wish you all a very warm and supportive WELCOME and may our community continue being involved in local and national politics. Here's to a productive new year for Democrats!!!
