

The Shyampur Siddheswari Industrial Park (SSIP) is a significant project approved by the Department of Micro, Small & Medium Enterprises and Textiles, Government of West Bengal, India. It has been established under the Scheme for Approved Industrial Park (SAIP) 2020, which is a strategic initiative by the West Bengal government to boost the growth of the textile industry.

Situated in the Howrah District of West Bengal, this industrial park is strategically designed to provide a comprehensive platform for textile businesses, encompassing various stages of the textile production process. The park is envisioned to host diverse textile units, including knitting, dyeing and printing units, garment manufacturing setups, and associated ancillary services.

The primary objectives of the Shyampur Siddheswari Industrial Park are to stimulate industrialization, create employment opportunities, attract investments, and enhance the competitiveness of the local textile sector. By furnishing state-of-the-art infrastructure, streamlined supply chain mechanisms, and a collaborative environment for different stakeholders in the textile industry, the park aspires to contribute significantly to the socio-economic progress of the region and the broader state.

The SAIP scheme, under which the Shyampur Siddheswari Industrial Park was approved, falls under the jurisdiction of the Department of Micro, Small & Medium Enterprises and Textiles. This scheme is designed to establish self-sustained industrial clusters that facilitate the seamless flow of materials, minimize production costs, and elevate product quality within the textile sector.

The establishment of the Shyampur Siddheswari Industrial Park exemplifies the government's strategic commitment to the growth of the textile sector, driven by a comprehensive approach that addresses various aspects of the industry's value chain. It showcases the state's dedication to fostering economic growth, industrial development, and sustainability within West Bengal's textile domain.
