EQUINE ASSISTED LEARNING

Connect. Learn. Grow.

OUR SERVICES

What happens in an EAL session?

In EAL, clients are offered 'safe' (physically and emotionally) experiences with horses for the purpose of exploring self-experience in relationship, building self-awareness, building awareness of patterns or habits that are no longer serving clients well, developing social and emotional skills, and addressing learning goals clients have identified.

What does this look like?

- Observation of horses
- Meeting with horses at liberty
- Lead-line experiences including touching, grooming and leading
- Liberty leading (leading horses without a lead rope)
- Creative activities with horses

Why Horses?

Horses are beautiful, intelligent, sensitive and strong beings who can evoke strong feelings in clients or engage clients in the learning process. Calm and healthy horses can assist in co-regulating a client's nervous system, can model healthy living and expression of feelings, as well as offering non judgemental safety and trust. Horses can offer unique bio feedback and hold clients in a way traditional learning environments cannot. The natural environment can also contribute positively to learning outcomes for clients.

WHAT IS EQUINE ASSISTED LEARNING?

EAL is an innovative form of experiential learning – where clients develop new insight and learn new skills via relational experiences with horses.

EAL can assist in personal development, professional development and developing leadership skills in teams and individuals.

EAL is a fast-growing modality across Australia as well as internationally. National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) clients benefit greatly from EAL services as do children and adolescents.

"Horses can see the real you. Being seen is incredibly healing."
