- Devotional Revisions

Key questions for your devotionals:

1. Did you connect Scripture to real life experiences and needs?
2. Does your devotional have an illustration?
3. What is our POWER POINT (key takeaway)?
4. Does your story become the reader's story?
5. How does the Gospel of Jesus Christ speak to the story?
6. Did you clarify the W.I.N. (what's important now)? How did your devotional bring delight out of dismay?
7. How did your devotional provide a clear, simple, path from vulnerability to value and victory?
8. Did you paint a picture of the person that the reader is called to become and pave the road to progress?
9. Does your devotional speak life to the whole person?
10. Speak life and only life to the whole person – heart (emotional), mind (mental/intellectual), soul (spiritual), and strength (volitional).
11. What is your hook (a profound lead or persuasive anecdote to grab and hold the attention of the reader)?
12. Did you paint a picture? Did you turn ears into eyes?
13. Does your devotional have blind spots?
Inferences or thoughts that create unnecessary tension or may distort the message (i.e. racial, political, social, rational assumptions).
14. Did you point the reader to the next step (issue a call to action)?
