

Keiffer's Legacy Farm Sales Agreement

Reserving any animals on the farm

We will start taking reservations once a baby is born on the farm. However, we will require a 50% down payment in person at the time a reservation is placed. If something happens to the animal from the time the down payment is received, until you pick up your animal the down payment will be refunded in full. The down payment will not be refunded if you fail to pick up your animal at the time and date that was agreed upon. We encourage you to come check out the animal before putting a down payment on the animal to make sure that is what you want. The total amount of sale will be agreed upon before the down payment is received/accepted.

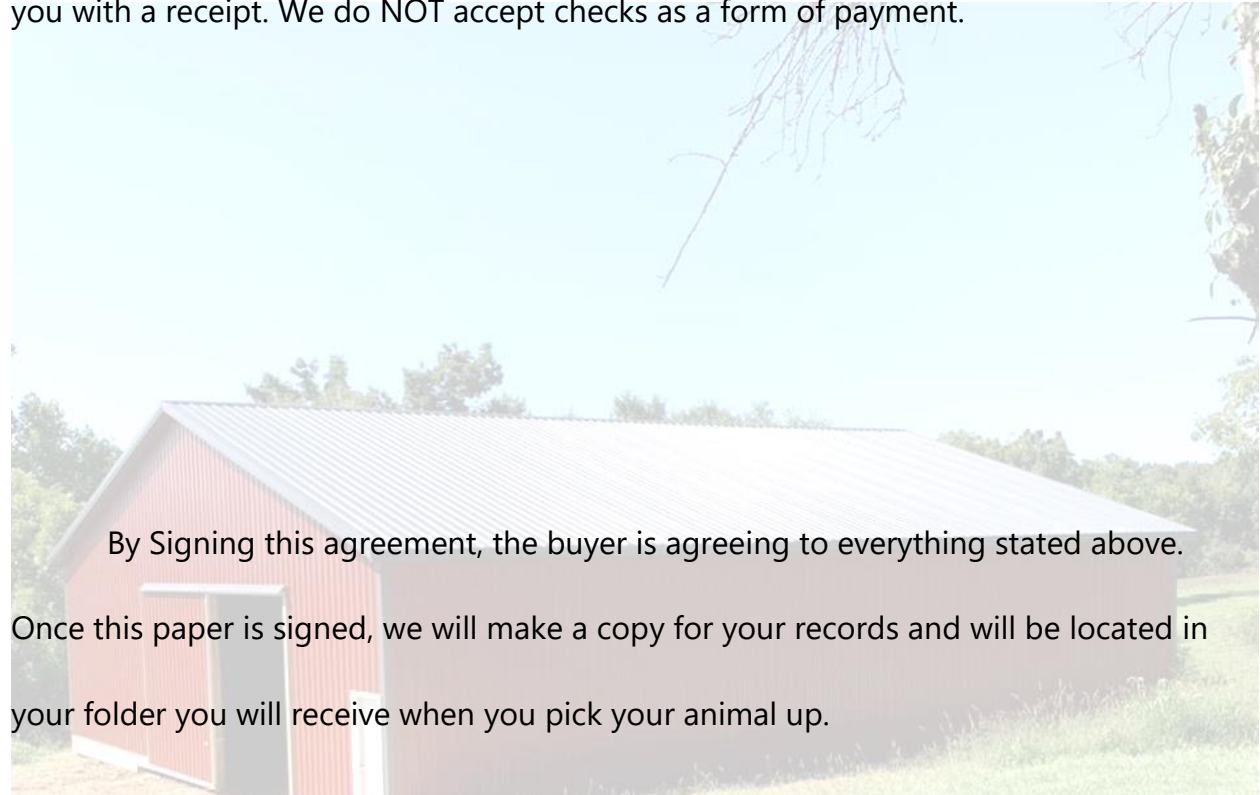

Purchasing any animals on the farm

All of our animals will be up to date on vaccinations at time of sale. We will provide you with records of the animal you purchased with any medications used while the animal was in our care. If the buyer would like a vet to come out and check the animal before final sale, they are more than welcome to at the BUYERS expense. We do not guarantee health/wellness once an animal leaves the farm. No animal will be released that is not being properly transported. If you need any suggestions on how to properly transport, please feel free to message or call us! Once the animal leaves the farm THE SALE IS FINAL. We will not accept animals back on the farm to protect our herd from any possible diseases.
