I understand that there is a possibility of side effects such as infection, scarring, and permanent discoloration, as well as short term effects including reddening, mild burning sensations, temporary bruising, and temporary discoloration (more details provided below).

- Discomfort: Some discomfort, including sensitivity, mild burning sensations, and temporary bruising may be experienced during and for up to 14 days after treatment.
- Redness/Swelling: Short-term redness and/or swelling of the treated area is common and expected to occur. This will generally subside within a few days, but can last up to a week.
- Skin Color Changes: During the healing process, the treated area may become either lighter (hypopigmented) or darker (hyperpigmented) in color. This is temporary, but on rare occasions may be permanent.
- Wounds: Treatment may result in burning, blistering, or bleeding of the treated area(s). If any of these occur, please call the office.
- Infection: Infection is a possibility whenever the skin surface is disrupted. To minimize the chance of infection or scarring, it is ESSENTIAL that you follow post-treatment instructions provided by our office.
- Cold sore flare-ups (applies to lip and mouth area treatments): Individuals with a history of recurrent cold sores (herpes simplex) may experience flare-ups from the heat generated. The heat generated can trigger dormant herpes viruses, leading to outbreaks in affected areas. If you have a history of recurrent cold sores, please discuss this with your doctor. Oral prophylactic medicine may be recommended before the AgeJET procedure.
