AUTHOR'S & NOTE & VISION

Dreams really do come true. Sometimes we wander in life trying to find our purpose. When you find it, grab it, hold it, don't let it go, and make that purpose count.

In The Social Pin, you will find that these magazines are centered around dreams, passion, commitment, and dedication to the Pinup Kulture. I am so honored and humbled to be surrounded by women who are not only gorgeous on the outside but on the inside as well.

Bomber JEN

Katie Major Photography

I am a veteran of the United States Air Force. My job duty was as a weapons loader on B-52 Bombers which is why my Pin-Up name is Bomber Jen. This is one reason why I decided to become a Pin-Up model. The nose art on airplanes was first used during WW2 to identify friendly aircraft. It was iconic and beautiful. I am a mother, a college student, and an artist. Being a pin-up model makes me feel beautiful, classy, and sexy. I love the 1950's era and how class and beauty not only were for women but also for vehicles. Follow me on Instagram at bomber_jen.

Step into the vibrant world of Florida Ma'am, an innovative apparel line that seamlessly blends old-school cartoon illustrations with a sassy "pinup vibe," all infused with the unmistakable charm of the Floridian lifestyle. In a recent interview, the creative force behind Florida Ma'am provided a fascinating glimpse into the inspiration and design philosophy driving this unique fusion. Picture playful characters and cheeky designs that pay homage to classic pinups, all set against the backdrop of the sun-soaked, laid-back ambiance of Florida living. From beachy vibes to retro aesthetics, Florida Ma'am captures the essence of a lifestyle through wearable art, inviting fashion enthusiasts to embrace a style that's as bold and spirited as the Sunshine State itself. Dive into the world where nostalgia meets contemporary flair, as Florida Ma'am takes you on a visual journey that is both whimsical and undeniably Floridian.

Charlotte, Can you please explain what Florida Ma'am is and what it aims to achieve?

Florida Ma'am is a apparel line that is a mash up between old school cartoon illustrations that have a "pinup vibe" integrated with the Floridian lifestyle.

Florida Mama

How did the idea for Florida Ma'am come about?

It was curated during Covid when we all had time to just sit and think haha. During that time I would take daily walks in nature literally spending hours outside by myself and it honestly just came to me! I wanted to create something that took my past experiences of being a Pinup hair and makeup stylist and make something more personal to my unique background and how/where I grew up.

What kind of events does Florida Ma'am organize?

For the past two years we have had our own festival put on by Ancient City Entertainment located in downtown Saint Augustine. Last year we had Saint Augustines first recorded pinup event! This upcoming year we are holding the pinup contest at the first annual Florida Man Games! We also vend and participate at car shows and rockabilly weekenders as well as local curated markets and events.

Are there any upcoming events or projects that you can share with us?

As stated previously our up coming "That Damn Florida Ma'am" Pinup Contest will be taking place Feb 24th at the Florida Man Games. We are also currently in the works of creating a "Florida Ma'am beer" as well as filming for some TV opportunities.

How can people get involved with Florida Ma'am?

Join our email list at www.floridamaam.com and follow us on Instagram and Tiktok or email us at info@floridamaam.com

What impact has Florida Ma'am had on the community so far?

It's been wonderful to host a local festival in historic down town Saint Augustine the past two years as its strengthend our roots in the community. Everyone has been so supportive and we have had 2 local shops that have carried our brand. We are currently in Spinster's Abbot on San Marco and plan to grown and join more businesses!

Can you tell us about any success stories or memorable moments from previous events?

The best memories honestly are from the pinup contest last April, our first ever, it was incredible to meet the ladies that came out and participated and dressed in line with our Florida themed contest. We saw aligators on leashes (blow up ones, not real ones....yet haha) Beer can hair rollers and oranges studded out on gals outfits! So freaking awesome!

What challenges have you faced while running Florida Ma'am, and how have you overcome them?

The challenge with every small business is just finding the resources

whether it be money or time to make your dreams come true. It takes so much effort, energy and love to create a brand that aligns with others as well. I say Florida Ma'am is truly a part of who I am so with everything I do it comes with a piece of my heart, down to the designs or the events we put on. Luckily I have a strong support system that always encourages me to keep growing little by little having faith that one day I'll be where I only once imagined!

Are there any specific goals or milestones that Florida Ma'am is working towards?

Yes! We will eventually have a brick and mortar but until then we are growing online and through social media. We have several ideas and different venues we want to expand the brand in, all the way from children's books to in person Florida based survival work shops! We want the brand to be a lifestyle so we have many different outlets we plan to open up to. We also are in the process of getting our artist Ruttu to the US on a work visa so she can create for us full time, she currently resides in Columbia.

How can people stay updated on the latest news and events from Florida Ma'am?

Our website and social media outlets.

Rita Pardo who “Maybe a Betty” has been drawn to the vintage pinup lifestyle for some years now. Truth be told once you go “Betty Bangs” you never go back! She’s the one whose favorite color is leopard print and wouldn’t be caught dead without her “Trust Me” red lipstick! You will catch her in all decades of fashion but her signature era is 50s pinup rockabilly.

A photograph of a woman in a bright pink dress standing in a laundromat. She is positioned on the right side of the frame, with her back to the camera. Her right hand is on her hip. In the background, there are several rows of white front-loading washing machines. The machine in the center has a digital display showing "45 Hours Dry 20". The lighting is warm and slightly dim, creating a moody atmosphere. The text "Miss Koop DEUILLE" is overlaid in the lower-left quadrant in a white, elegant script and bold sans-serif font.

LET'S COOK THAT BIRD

Easy, no fuss, you got this.

SERVINGS: 16 PREPPING TIME: 20 MIN COOKING TIME: 3 HR 30 MIN

INGREDIENTS

- 1 12-20 pound turkey
- 1 onion , peeled and quartered
- 1 lemon , quartered
- 1 apple (your favorite kind), quartered
- .75 ounce container fresh rosemary
- .75 ounce container fresh thyme
- .75 ounce container fresh sage

For the herb butter:

- 1 cup unsalted butter , softened
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
- 6-8 cloves garlic , minced
- fresh chopped herbs

DIRECTIONS

1. If the turkey is frozen: Thaw in the fridge, 24 hours for every 5 pounds of Turkey. I like to give myself 1 extra day, just to be safe.
2. Remove the thawed turkey from the fridge 1 hour before roasting, to let it come to room temperature.
3. Adjust your oven rack so the turkey will sit in the center of the oven. Preheat oven to 325 degrees F.
4. Make the herb butter by combining room temperature butter, minced garlic, salt, pepper, one tablespoon fresh chopped rosemary, one tablespoon fresh chopped thyme, and half a tablespoon of fresh chopped sage. (You'll use the remaining fresh herbs for stuffing inside the cavity of the turkey)
5. Remove turkey from packaging and remove the neck and giblets from the inside the cavities of the bird. (Reserve them for gravy, if you want, or discard them). Pat the turkey very dry with paper towels.
6. Season the cavity of the turkey with salt and pepper. Stuff it with the quartered lemon, onion and apple and leftover herbs.
7. Use your fingers to loosen and lift the skin above the breasts (on the top of the turkey) and smooth a few tablespoons of the herb butter underneath.
8. Tuck the wings of the turkey underneath the turkey and set the turkey on a roasting rack inside a roasting pan*.
9. Microwave the remaining herb butter mixture for 30 seconds (it doesn't need to be completely melted--just really softened). Use a basting brush to brush the remaining herb butter all over the outside of the turkey, legs and wings.
10. Roast at 325 degrees F for about 13-15 minutes per pound, or until internal temperature (inserted on middle of thigh and breast) reaches about 165 degrees.
11. (I remove the turkey from the oven once it reaches 160 degrees. Then, I tent it with foil, and let it rest on the counter. It will continue cooking under the foil, to reach 165 degrees F.)
12. Check the turkey about halfway through cooking, and once the skin gets golden brown, cover the top of the turkey with tinfoil, to protect the breast meat from overcooking. Alternately, you could start cooking the turkey with it tented in foil, then during the last hour or so of cooking you can take the foil off to let the turkey brown.
13. Allow turkey to rest for 20-30 minutes before carving. For the herb butter:
14. Reserve any drippings and juice remaining in your roasting pan to make turkey gravy.

NOTES

-Herbs: to substitute dried herbs, use 1 teaspoon dried herbs per 1 tablespoon fresh chopped herbs.

-Tips for covering with tinfoil: Start with the bird uncovered. Once the skin gets golden brown, tent the bird with a large piece of tinfoil. If you have a roasting pan, you can use the lid to the roasting pan instead.

-For Disposable Roasting Pan: Place fresh chopped vegetables on the bottom of the pan to act as a rack to elevate the turkey. Use 4-5 ribs of celery and 4 large carrots, roughly chopped. The veggies will add great flavor for your dripping to use for gravy however I don't recommend eating them or using them in gravy.

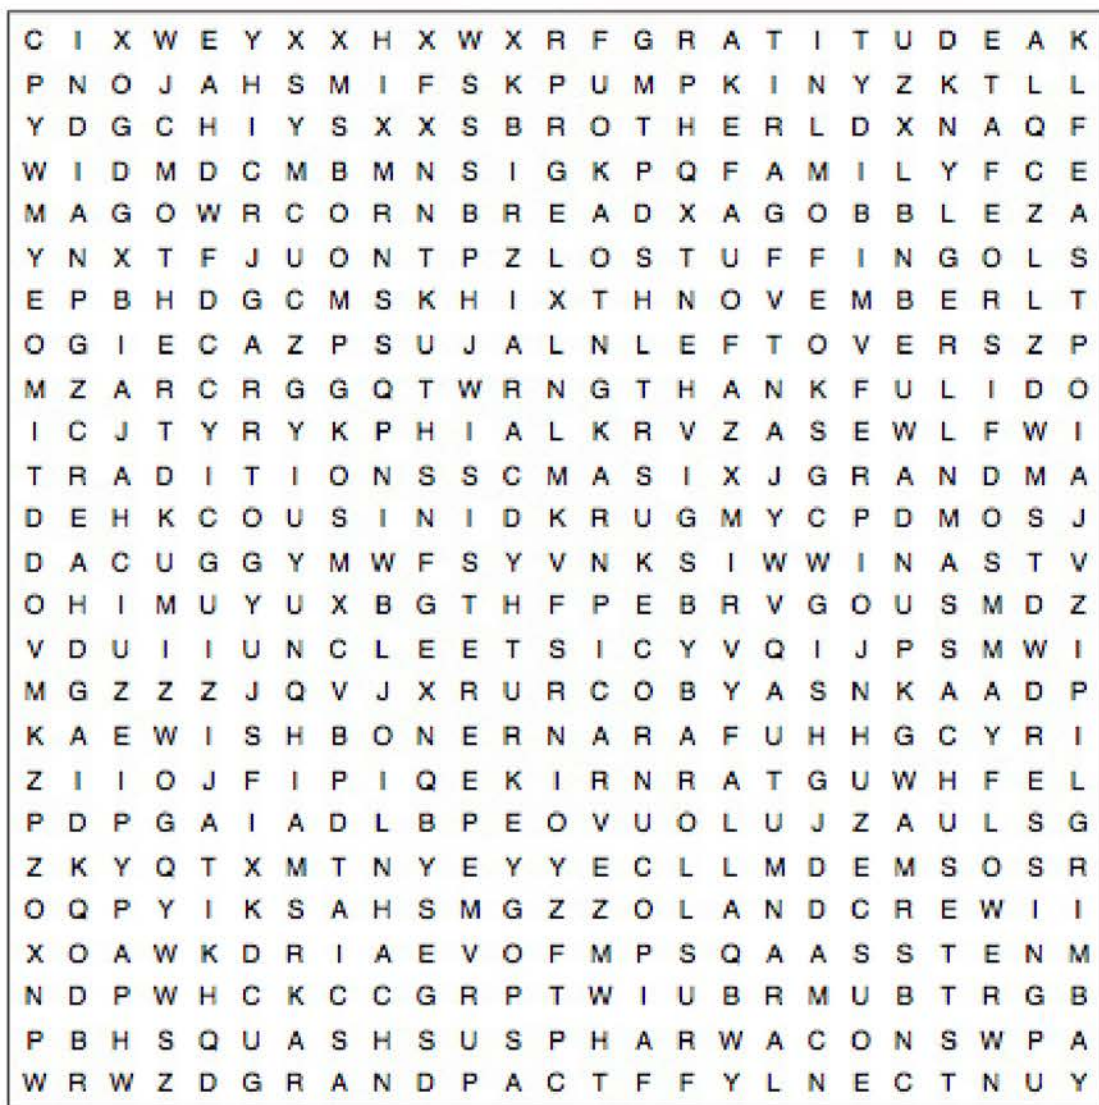

-For An Electric Roasting Oven: directions stay the same!

-Convection Oven: You can use the same method to cook the turkey in a convection oven, just check the temperature sooner (start checking after 2 hours) as it will cook faster.

Add These Dates to Your Calendar:

- November 8: Venus enters Libra
- November 9: Mercury enters Sagittarius
- November 11: Mars in Scorpio opposes Uranus in Taurus
- November 13: New Moon in Scorpio
- November 17: Sun in Scorpio conjunct Mars in Scorpio
- November 22: Sagittarius season begins
- November 24: Mars enters Sagittarius
- November 27: Full Moon in Gemini

Breaking news: You've made it through eclipse season! November's astrology starts off with some shocking revelations as you move through the rest of Scorpio season. Use your instincts and reflect on who and what is worthy of your time, energy, and resources. Purging, surrendering, and releasing are all necessary for clearing out space for new opportunities and connections. The month starts off with a massive perspective shift on November 2 when the Sun in Scorpio stares down Jupiter in Taurus. You could experience a turning point with your beliefs or goals, or a desire to lean into your indulgences.

On November 3, Venus in Virgo is at odds with Neptune in Pisces, encouraging you to get lost in your fantasies. This is a wonderful aspect for creativity, spirituality and healing, but it can also signal a tendency to gaslight yourself or others. Be on the lookout for red flags. Some disruptive news arrives on November 4 when Mercury in Scorpio locks eyes with Uranus in Taurus. Plans go out the window and surprising news may find you. On the same day, Saturn, the planet of dedication and karma, ends its retrograde. Think back to June 17, when Saturn Retrograde began: What boundaries or commitments were you considering around this time? Those storylines pick up once again.

Your relationships may feel like they've evolved as Venus in Virgo mingles with Pluto in Capricorn on November 6. It's easier to release old patterns and feel a deeper connection with your partner. Healing and compassionate conversations take place on the same day as Mercury in Scorpio brushes up against Neptune in Pisces. Venus, the planet of love, harmony, and finances, moves into Libra, one of its favorite signs, on November 8. Couples may be ready to take the next step in their relationship and singles can experience a little more luck in love.

On the same day, Mercury in Scorpio meets with Pluto in Capricorn, exposing secrets and inviting more depth into your conversations. The following day on November 9, Mercury enters Sagittarius and you're ready to share your thoughts and opinions far and wide. Be mindful of how you communicate over the next few weeks because it's easier for feelings to get hurt unintentionally. Mercury clashes with Saturn on November 10, and you may be discussing boundaries or uncomfortable topics that you've been avoiding. A "no" may arrive, but trust that this is a temporary speed bump.

Shock and surprise light up the sky on November 11 when Mars in Scorpio faces off with Uranus in Taurus. This is volatile, reactive energy that can bring on rushes of frustration or anger as well as willpower. A New Moon in Scorpio takes place on November 13, encouraging a fresh start through release. This is a powerful time to let go of the fears and the pieces of your past that no longer serve you. On the same day, the Sun in Scorpio sits across the sky from Uranus in Taurus, bringing unexpected news. You may learn surprising information about an authority figure, or perhaps you feel called to take a personal risk.

Sweet news arrives from afar on November 15 when Mercury in Sagittarius shares a kiss with Venus in Libra. Your ideas are well-received and others are eager to support you. This is also a great time to share your feelings with someone special. You're working fearlessly toward your dreams on November 17 when Mars in Scorpio connects with Neptune in Pisces. You're extra magnetic and creative, so use that to your advantage! A cycle begins on the same day when the Sun in Scorpio meets with Mars in Scorpio at the same point in the sky, which has you ready to chase after a new goal.

On the same day, the Sun in Scorpio mingles with Neptune in Pisces, creating a healing and compassionate energy. This is a wonderful day for getting lost in art, daydreaming, and taking action based on your beliefs. You're shedding old ways of being on November 20 when the Sun in Scorpio meets with Pluto in Capricorn. You're ready to leave the past in the past. The following day on November 21, Mars in Scorpio syncs up with Pluto in Capricorn, lending you the dedication and strategy to see your goals through.

There's a vibe shift on November 22 when the Sun enters lighthearted Sagittarius. Yes, Sagittarius season is here! The final fire sign of the zodiac reminds you to live life to the fullest and soak up all the experiences you can. You're in the mood to celebrate, question the meaning of life, and take risks. These high vibes take a temporary detour on November 23 when the Sun in Sagittarius clashes with Saturn in Pisces. Your responsibilities and burdens may be weighing heavy on your shoulders, and some form of rejection, isolation, or disappointment may arrive. My advice: Set boundaries and prioritize hard work. Mars, the planet of action and anger, enters Sagittarius on November 24. Your energy will be more scattered, so don't beat yourself up if it's harder to commit to projects or people.

You may hit a mini roadblock on November 25 when Mars in Sagittarius runs into Saturn in Pisces. Remember: This is temporary. Don't try to overexert yourself. The Full Moon in Gemini wraps up the month on November 27. This lunation brings you back to the New Moon in Gemini on June 18. What intentions did you set around that time? Those manifestations are now in full bloom or in need of a course correction.

Crazy Love

Ryder
PhotographybyCherise

Ryder James – Biography

Ryder is a California girl through and through. You can find her on her beach cruiser seven days a week enjoying the Santa Cruz sunshine. If she's not cruising the beach, she's laying out on it or playing fetch with her fur baby, Smokey. Ryder has loved classic cars and motorcycles since she was little. Her first car was a powder blue Ford Mustang. Most girls spent their teens doing their hair and make-up. Ryder spent it reupholstering her Mustang and adding a 4-barrel carb. Her tattoo collection started soon after. Her second and third tattoos were the sparrows on the tops of her feet. An homage to her love of all things retro and traditional. Besides her tattoo collection, she has amassed a giant Pyrex collection too. One of her hobbies when she isn't selling houses in Santa Cruz is searching for her next find at the local vintage shops. Next time you're in Santa Cruz near the beach, keep an eye out for Ryder and her cruiser. Oh, and be sure to say Hi.
