The National Code of Show Ring Ethics names (identifies) the person who will be held accountable for the appearance and condition (health) of the animal as the “absolutely responsible person.” This “absolutely responsible person” is defined as the owner/ exhibitor who, ultimately, is liable for any ethical violations regarding the animal.
3. Use Safe Grooming Practices: Use only grooming products that are approved for use on meat-producing animals when fitting any animal for show. Unapproved products may contain ingredients that result in unacceptable residue in the meat. DO NOT PAINT, use coloring agents or unapproved products. Livestock animals can enter the food chain at any time; market animals will do so a short while after being shown. As the producer, the project member must provide a safe and wholesome product for the consumer. The Planning and Development Committee may adopt and implement various tests designed to monitor this prohibition, including but not limited to a “white glove or towel test.” Any exhibitor found to be using color agents will forfeit any ribbons and premiums and will not be permitted to show in Greene County for one year. If uncertain that a product is residue safe and approved for use on meat animals, do not use it! IMPORTANT* All Overall Grand Champion and Reserve Champion market animals will be subject to a urine test administered by a veterinarian or Planning and Development Committee member immediately after exhibition. Blood tests will be available upon exhibitor’s request. If upon slaughter, treatment with drugs, biologics, or any chemical from fitting products or feed additives is the cause of the condemnation of a carcass, the loss of the carcass and any other damages will be borne by the exhibitor.
4. House the Project animal(s) within a Proximity to Engage in the Project’s Daily Care and Maintenance: All market and breeding livestock youth projects are provided for the education of youth members and require the member to be responsible for the daily care and maintenance of the animal. As such, the project animal must be housed near enough to the member to be taken care of on a daily basis; Parents and others can provide support and mentoring to guide the member’s experience but should ensure the member is largely responsible for all aspects of the project work. Breeding project members must have possession of their breeding animals through birth from previously owned stock, purchase, or at least two months before the fair show. If leasing the animal, the lease must be presented to the Extension Office no later than June 1st. The Planning and Development Committee reserves the right to make on-site visits for compliance.
5. Submit Declaration/ Fair Entry Forms: A Declaration Form must be completed for all breeding animal projects and submitted by June 1st for the Greene County Fair. Fair Entry Form must be submitted by each fair’s entry deadline for all animals (market, breeding, and carcass) entered in department 10 (4-H and FFA). A separate form must be submitted for Open Class Entries. For more information or forms go to the Greene County Fair website. 4-H market project members will complete Market Entry Forms at June meetings; FFA members can attend the June 4-H project club meeting to complete the market form. Members must notify leaders if they cannot attend. Both fair livestock entry forms include a line for the exhibitor to list the name of their veterinarian and a signature line to attest to the vet/ client/ patient relationship defined at: PDA Health Requirements and Recommendations for Animals for Exhibition. The health certificate must be dated within the time period designated by each fair as listed in the fair books. The swine CVI must be obtained within one month of the show. The CVI must be presented to the designated health agent upon arrival and before unloading at the fair or show. The CVI must be available at all times during the event to present upon request.

7. Participate in Market Show Classes as Scheduled: Each market show divides animals into three divisions: lightweight, middleweight, and heavyweight. When appropriate, the three divisions can be further divided into 6 or 9 classes by the FFA Advisor and 4-H Educator or Leaders. Class splitting will be determined with the discretion to split animals of the same weight into two classes. Class division decisions are final. Members must show their own project animal tagged in at initial weigh-in.
8. Follow Showmanship Class Guidelines: Each exhibitor is required to compete in their specific showmanship age group following 4-H age requirements: junior age 8-10; intermediate age 11-14; and senior age 15-18. Members must show their own animal for each market or breeding showmanship class for which they are entered.

If a market project does not make weight under the minimum weight allowed or over the maximum weight allowed at the final weigh-in, the member may choose to remain with their animal at the show and must participate in eligible showmanship classes but will not participate in the related market project class or sale.

Project members must participate in all aspects of the project, including planning, set-up, the dinner, and clean-up. At the banquet, members will visit with buyers and present them with the buyers' pictures. The member must deliver the picture to the buyer and the event they do not attend the banquet. Market sale checks will be distributed at the end of the banquet to members present if payment has been made in a timely fashion. Checks for those not in attendance will be processed and available for pick up the second Monday after the banquet.
12. Follow Scheduled Dates for Project Participation: Project members will follow dates established for the current year's project, including weigh-ins and the Buyers' Banquet. A calendar for each project will be distributed at club meetings and made available to FFA Advisors.
13. Assume Responsibility for Market Project Animals: the daily feeding, watering, and care of the project animal is the responsibility of the member until the animal is released by the fair or show and loaded. Once loaded, the responsibility lies with the hauler, whether that be the member's family or an independent hauler, who must deliver the animal to the destination requested by the buyer.

All youth leaders working with junior exhibitors are junior an affirmative responsibility to do more than avoid improper conduct or questionable acts. Their moral values must be so certain and positive that those younger and more pliable will be influenced by their fine example. Owners, exhibitors, fitters, trainers and absolutely responsible persons who violate the code of ethics will forfeit premiums, awards and auction proceeds any may be prohibited from future exhibition in accordance with the rules adopted by the Fair Board. Exhibitors who violate this code of ethics demean the integrity of all livestock exhibitors and should be prohibited from competition at all livestock shows in the United States and Canada.

- Animals should be tied so that they are not able to injure animals tied near them.
- Animals unaccustomed to each other should not be penned together.
- Animals may NOT be muzzled at any time.

Handling - any type of rough handling which could harm the animal is prohibited. The use of whips, canes and show sticks should be restricted to showing only and then should be used only to guide the animals, not punish them. Remember, animals will respond quicker and better to quiet, gentle handling than loud, rough handling.

Bedding - all animals should have bedding which is dry and clean. Pens should be cleaned regularly to keep the animals clean and comfortable. If non-traditional bedding such as carpeting is used, it should be regularly cleaned (at least twice daily) to keep the pen free from manure. Straw, shavings, and corn cobs are permitted. Exhibitors must supply their own bedding.

Feed and Water - animals should be well fed and have access to clean water regularly. Realizing that many market animals must have restricted amounts of feed to maintain the proper weight, animals must be fed adequate amounts of feed to meet the animal's basic requirements. Animals not allowed reasonable access to feed and water will be disqualified from the show.

Transportation - animals should be transported in a way that is both safe and considerate of the animal's well-being. In the winter, animals should be transported in enclosed trucks or trailers to protect them from the cold.

Blankets/Sweat Collars - any type of material such as blankets or sweat collars should be large enough to permit normal body functions such as breathing, eating, drinking or lying down.

Health - it is the responsibility of the exhibitor to provide proper health care for their animals through routine inspection and consultation with health care professionals. The improper or illegal use of drugs or antibiotics is prohibited. If medication is indicated, be sure to follow the label directions and allow more than the stated withdrawal time.

GENERAL: Note: No animal showing signs of contagious, or infectious disease, or external parasites will be allowed entry to the show. Exhibitors must have all necessary health papers with the herdsman in charge when entries arrive at the show. All show animals should be held in isolation for at least 30 days after return to the herd of origin.

GROOMING: Use only grooming products that are approved for use on meat producing animals when fitting any animal for show. Unapproved products may contain ingredients that result in unacceptable residues in the meat. If it is not certain that a product is residue safe and approved for use on meat animals, don't use it!

MARKET ANIMALS: Animals consigned for slaughter during or immediately following the show shall not receive any treatment with drugs or biologics within the withdrawal time prior to slaughter. Withdrawal times for drugs and biologics are all stated on the directions for use. Label directions must be followed at all times.

Important! If upon slaughter, treatment with drugs, biologics, or any chemical from fitting products, is the condemnation of a carcass, the loss of the carcass and any other damages will be borne by the exhibitor.

Foreign Animal Disease Alert for Exhibitors at Pennsylvania Fairs

As a result of heightened awareness of security in the United States, foreign animal disease (FAD) surveillance is being increased nationwide. We encourage each of you to be particularly aware of any indication that could signal the occurrence of a highly contagious disease or any other unusual or unexplained adverse animal health event. No potential cases of foreign animal disease should be ignored.

Potential hoaxes should be treated as real threats until proven otherwise. Special attention should be directed at farms and other areas where there are large number of livestock and poultry.

Be particularly alert to these five signs:

1. Sudden, unexplained death loss in the herd or flock
2. Severe illness affecting a high percentage of the animals
3. Blistering around an animal's mouth, nose, teats or hooves
4. Unusual ticks or maggots
5. Staggering, falling or central nervous system disorders.

If you see something unusual, alert the Fair Superintendent or fair office.
