The Health of Peace's System

In February, I mentioned that I was going to be writing a series of articles that look at the health of a congregation, specifically Peace Lutheran Church. This is a continuation of that series.

So here is a question that every church should ask and one that those who are trained in helping congregations navigate some tricky areas ask: True or false, a healthy congregation is one that doesn't have any conflict. The answer is false. It is not conflict that creates unhealthy congregations but rather how the members navigate work through the conflict.

To be clear, I have not seen any serious conflict at Peace that has been mishandled, nor do I have any "secret knowledge" of past conflict. So please understand that this is somewhat like a dry run that a couple makes before the wife is going to give birth. That analogy breaks down very quickly as well, because neither I nor anyone I know is "expecting" any conflict. (Had to get a little word play in there!) Also, much of what I have learned about conflict resolution comes from an organization called "Peacemaker Ministries" and their flagship book entitled The Peace Maker: A Biblical Guide to Resolving Personal Conflict by Ken Sande. I also attended a three or four day training put on by the group.

Several times the authors of the book mention that conflict is, at its lowest level, a difference of opinion. Imagine if we all thought exactly the same thing about every aspect of life at Peace. First of all, we would all agree that my sermons are just the right length. Aha! Perhaps there is some conflict among us, now that I think about it. More seriously though there would likely be less and less growth in the congregation

(and for now I won't explain what I mean by growth) than there is now.

How many Lutherans does it take to change a light bulb? Change?!! Are you kidding me? Another answer is that it takes six, five to be on a committee to study what was good about the old light bulb and one to do the changing. (By the way, humor is a good way to keep your perspective "level-headed.")

I encourage you to go to peacemakerministries.org and/or do an internet search for The Slippery Slope. There you will find twelve different ways that people deal with conflict. On one side of the slope are the worst possible turnouts of navigating conflict, with peace faking as the label for that side. There, the worst form of handling conflict is to escape by resorting to suicide. Thankfully, few people make such radical and irrational decisions. On the exact opposite side of the slope is peace breaking, with the worst form being attacking someone physically and killing them.

Whew! Thank the Lord that such radical irrational reactions are currently not present at Peace Lutheran Church (PLC) Camdenton. But it's possible to hate someone enough that you'd wish them dead and thereby break the Fifth Commandment without actually physically harming the person. And it's possible to break other commandments through the other unhealthy ways of navigating conflict.

Because this is getting long already, I will simply use the information above to set the stage for my next newsletter article, which will be in June. Until then, I invite you to join me in the following prayer: Lord God, through your Son you proclaimed that peacemakers are blessed. Bless our congregation, as we navigate whatever conflict may arise in the future. Grant that we would bring glory to you through all that we do. Amen.

Apologetics

What we know

First, Dr. Norman Giesler and Frank Turok in their book I Don't Have the Faith To Be An Atheist give ten reasons to believe that the Gospel writers told the truth and that they didn't just fabricate the life of Jesus.

1. The Gospel writers included embarrassing details about themselves.
2. They included difficult sayings of Jesus.
3. They left in demanding words of Jesus and
4. Carefully separated Jesus' words from theirs.
5. They would not have included the remarkable and unusual events of the resurrection, i.e. that the first witnesses were women, the conversion of priests, and the Jewish officials attempt to explain away the empty tomb.
6. At least thirty historically known people were included.
7. Some information appears to contradict other writer's accounts, leading to the conclusion that the Gospel writers did not collude or conspire.
8. Their readers are told to verify their accounts – even miracles.
9. The details about miracles are described in simple unembellished accounts like other historical events.

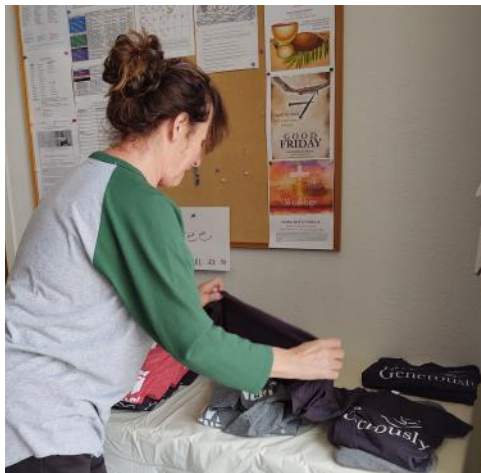

10. The authors abandoned their long-held sacred beliefs and practices and proclaimed the truth through persecution and even death.

All of these reasons point to the fact that the Gospel authors told the truth. We are also able to give good reasons to believe that God created Heaven and earth and all life. That the universe with hundreds of physical laws, specifications, and criteria had to be created by an eternal, all-powerful, all-knowing, benevolent being, that the DNA of every living being could not have arisen on its own, and moral

Laws and duties suggest One who is holy, just, merciful and gracious. And, finally, we can see that the Holy Spirit has worked to bring people to faith and preserve His Church even through today. Therefore, we can, at least, give good reasons for the faith within us. But there are still some lingering hard questions that skeptics bring up. How do we answer objections such as: the problem of evil, Darwinism, the so-called hiddenness of God? What can we say to those who believe that God of the Old Testament is capricious, wrathful, and tyrannical? There are answers! We'll see what the apologists have to say starting next month.

EVANGELISM

Preachin' and Witnessin'

As a preacher, I regularly enjoy reading the messages of some of the great sermonizers of the past. The messages of Dwight L. Moody are high on my list of solid sermons. Even so, Moody, himself, admits he was far from perfect. Perhaps the greatest mistake he made in a message was on October 8, 1871. That night he had a tremendous audience and he preached on "What will you do then with Jesus who is called the Christ?" Moody concluded his sermon with the words: "Now I give you a week to think that over. And when we come together again, you will have opportunity to respond." The sermon ended and the soloist began to sing. The words were drowned out by the sound of fire bells. That night was the beginning of the Chicago fire, which killed hundreds and left thousands without a home. In reflection, Moody remarked that he would give his right arm before he would ever give an audience a week to think over the Gospel's message. All of this verifies the words of St. Paul who told us to be prepared to preach the Word. Sharing the Savior's story of salvation is not something that should be confined to Sunday mornings. Telling the lost of the forgiveness and redemption which has been won for all through Jesus' perfect life, His innocent suffering and death, and His glorious resurrection, is something that needs to go on 24/7. Understand, St. Paul is not telling us we need to preach a message with great oratorical skills, as did Dwight Moody. Our lives, lived in thanks to the Christ are a sermon ... a sermon that the Holy Spirit can use to lead people to the Word. So, today, let's do some serious preachin' by solid Christian witnessin'. (From a devotion originally written for "By the Way")

The Prayer: Dear Lord, we will never know when our last day or the last day of those around us might come. While the Holy Spirit alone calls people to faith, may He use us as people who verify the truth of Scripture and the greatness of Jesus' sacrifice. In the Savior's Name I ask it. Amen.

Every One His Witness Witnessing Is Centered In Justification

It's easy to get caught up in the activities of witnessing and lose sight of its important aspects. Keeping the main thing the main thing is important if we are going to be faithful and effective witnesses. What is that main thing? It is the central teaching of the Bible: justification. In other words, the main thing in witnessing is sharing the message of salvation by grace through faith alone in Christ alone. Three teachings from the Bible that we can use to help keep the main thing the main thing in witnessing are :

1. The proper use of First Article gifts as we engage the world with the Gospel.
2. The correct understanding of the role of the Holy Spirit and our reliance on Him through Third Article witnessing.
3. The comfort and assurance that the doctrine of election by grace provides us.

In the explanation of the first article of the Apostles Creed, Martin Luther explains that God has given us every kind of gift, which enables us to do the word He has given us. Such is the account of Paul and Barnabas speaking to the crowd at Antioch. (Acts 13:13-52) They were using the First Article gifts of travel, the freedom to gather in worship, discourse, and public speaking to share the message of salvation. In the Third Article of the Apostle Creed, we confess that we do not have the power to come to faith, but that the Holy Spirit does this work through the Gospel. Paul and Barnabas demonstrate this in Acts 13:47, citing that the Lord has called His people to bring salvation to the earth. Acts 13:48 makes clear about election by grace when it states the results of Paul and Barnabas proclaiming God's Word. Despite the Biblical clarity, this doctrine – also known as predestination – is challenging. The false teaching that

“This Jesus
God raised up, and of that all of us are witnesses.”
Acts 2:32, NRSV

before the foundation of the world God chose who would be saved and those who would not (I.E., double predestination), that God chose people because of something good about them or something they would do in the future, or that God is simply confirming our decision to believe in Him. These are not harmless errors, for they make something other than justification by grace through faith the main thing and rob Christ's witnesses of the comfort that this doctrine is meant to bring us. (Don't forget to LASSIE – Listen, Ask, Seek, Share, Invite, Encourage).

Hospitalized?

If you or a loved one is hospitalized, have experienced a death in the family, are home bound, or scheduled to go to the hospital, please call Pastor Brandt (580-421-8108). Please keep in mind that privacy laws also limit the information hospitals can share with us. Both Pastor Anderegg (573-528-4597) and Pastor Brandt are available for any emergency, or any issue you and your loved ones might be having. Remember, our two pastors are here to serve you. Our Elders: Jeff Hedberg (573-819-4446), Joe Stauch (573-347-2903), Earl Hartenstein (573-691-7171) will also assist in getting one of the pastors to follow up on any issue, not just hospitalization for you, a loved one or a death in the family. To find out which Elder you are assigned to, please see the bulletin board in the Narthex.

Thank you to all who purchased Easter lilies to beautify the sanctuary for our Easter service.

Thank you to Vicki Stauch for the embroidered covers on the stands in the windows.

Holy Week

Palm Sunday: Jesus entered Jerusalem.

Holy Monday: Jesus freed the sacrificial animals and cleansed the temple.

Holy Tuesday: Jesus taught at the temple.

Holy Wednesday: A disciple named Judas Iscariot betrayed Jesus for pieces of silver.

Maundy Thursday: The Last Supper with the disciples, Jesus washed their feet.

Good Friday: Jesus was crucified on the cross. Darkness covered the whole earth.

Holy Saturday: Jesus rested in the tomb.

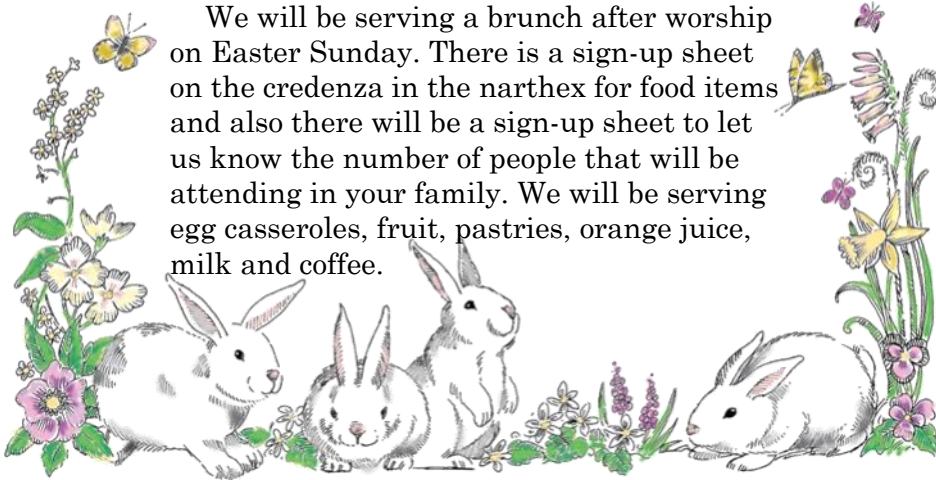

Resurrection Sunday: Jesus is Risen! His death, burial and resurrection paid for our sins and gives all who believe in Him eternal life.

LÓÓK at THIS!

This is a reminder that we are no longer saving pop cans. What we are saving is the tabs from those cans. The LWML gives these tabs to the Ronald McDonald House. There is a box for the tabs right inside the door on the table of the church. Thank you!

Easter Brunch

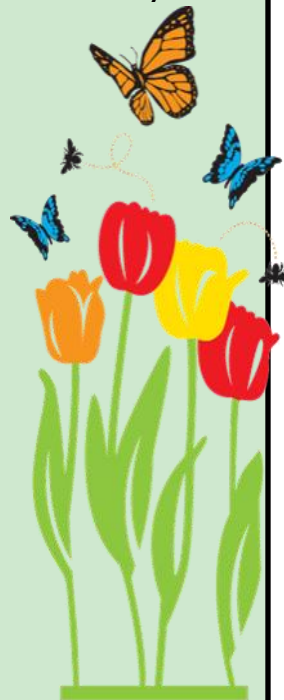

We will be serving a brunch after worship on Easter Sunday. There is a sign-up sheet on the credenza in the narthex for food items and also there will be a sign-up sheet to let us know the number of people that will be attending in your family. We will be serving egg casseroles, fruit, pastries, orange juice, milk and coffee.

Welcome to our church family

Brett & Cindy Niebur became our newest members on Sunday, March 20. Welcome to Peace.

President's Message

March Madness! While most people use this term to describe the exciting NCAA Basketball Tournament that occurs each year around this time, I really think there is more to the use of this iconic statement. This time of the year really sets the stage for the transition to our busy season. Winter officially transitions to Spring, Day Light Saving Time begins, spring cleaning gets underway, we celebrate Saint Patrick's Day and April Fools Day :), and of course we enter into the season of Lent.

While the word "madness" might not be the best way to describe all these occurrences, it does show how we prepare for change, individually and as a church. When I reflect on this process, I feel blessed to have a congregation that works together to accomplish our goals and to ensure that we properly celebrate the seasons of our liturgical calendar.

Thank you to everyone for all that you do!

Newsletter Deadline

The deadline for the May 2022 newsletter is Monday, April 18 at 9 a.m. If you have an article you want published, or information you want to get out to the whole congregation, prepare it and send it to plccamdenton@gmail.com or to Sheryl Bald at coun-trygalsf@gmail.com

The newsletter can also be sent by email. Send your email address to Sheryl Bald at the above email address or give address to the church office.

March 14 Minutes

The meeting was called to order by Sara Anderegg. Nine people were present with one guest.

Minutes and treasures report was approved as printed. Sara and Carol attended the Sedalia Zone Board Meeting at Cole Camp. It was agreed that the first Sunday of October is officially LWML Sunday.

Many cards of thanks were received,

Cathie presented the mites reading entitled "Precious Mites."

There are not many pop can tabs collected. We received $60 from the Best Choice labels. Sara will be checking with the King's Academy if they will take Box Tops for Education labels to scan. The kitchen is all in order. Jacy received a thank you note from the Lake Regional Birthing Center. Jacy will also call the Knolls about the praying hands target favors.

Old Business: The first meeting was held for the new year. New officers Sara Anderegg as President and Sheryl Bald as Vice President. We discussed sewing quilts for the Lake Regional Hospice Center.

The hats and mittens gathered in January were taken to Community for Christ and would be handed out for needy children.

New Business: We discussed preparing meals for the Lewis children and their grandfather.

We decided to have an Easter Brunch following the service on Easter Sunday. We will repeat what we served two years ago (egg casseroles, fruit cup, pastries etc.) Peggy and Susan will decorate the tables.

Sara reminded us of the upcoming Spring Rally, April 2 at Trinity, Cole Camp. They are looking for nominations to take to the floor for secretary of our zone. Ingathering items given will be taken to Heit's Point Camp. Items needed are paper towels, disposable cups (no Styrofoam), copy machine paper and sturdy paper plates.

Sara also reminded us of the upcoming Missouri District Convention on June 3-5 in St. Louis. Penny and Susan will be our delegates. We decided to put together a nonperishable basket for the silent auction. Peggy and Debbie will shop for items with a maximum of $50. The Board also decided if you were done reading the Quarterlies to pass them along to someone in your congregation to read.

In celebration of the LWML's 80 anniversary all societies and zones are encouraged to receive items in increments of 80 on the district level for the Missouri District Convention ingathering.

As of January 2022, 72 percent of our Missouri District mission goal was met for this biennium.

We discussed a sign-up sheet for refreshments each Sunday

Stewardship

Blessed Shall You Be

This is God's promise to the Israelites as they stood beyond the Jordan outside of the Promised Land. He promises blessing to His people. He will make them prosper, whether they are in the city or the field. He will make their fruit of their work to prosper, whether from the ground, their wombs, their flocks, or their herds. He will make them to prosper in all things, whether upon their coming in or their going out.

But there's a catch. He would do this for Israel only "if you obey the voice of the LORD your God." (Deut. 28:2b) If they did that, He would cause that "all these blessings shall come upon you and overtake you." (Deut. 28:2a). If they didn't obey the voice of the Lord, if they didn't keep the commandments of the Lord and "walk in his ways" (Deut. 28:9), they would be met with curse and woe. The blessings would be replaced with curses. Everything that the Lord promised to prosper and bless would be cursed and fail.

Thanks be to God that our Lord Jesus Christ has come into our flesh and fulfilled the law for us – in our place and for our benefit. Our Lord Jesus Christ died for us – in our place and for our benefit. Our Lord Jesus Christ is risen from the dead for us – in our place and for our benefit. By this we have justification before God. We are forgiven, clean, holy, and righteous. The blessing of God is promised to us in Christ Jesus.

"Blessed shall you be in the city, and blessed shall you be in the field. Blessed shall be the fruit of your womb and the fruit of your ground and the fruit of your cattle, the increase of your herds and the young of your flock. Blessed shall be your basket and your kneading bowl. Blessed shall you be when you come in, and blessed shall you be when you go out."

(Deuteronomy 28:3-6)

It depends upon his work, not ours.

All this is ours in Holy Baptism. For in Holy Baptism, God claims us as His own, makes us His children, His heirs, and His holy people. And so it is that the work of our hands and its fruit is holy because we are holy in Christ. It is pressed into His service, and it thereby becomes a blessing to us and to our neighbor.

For this great gift, our reception of the blessings of God because of Christ Jesus our Lord, it is our duty to thank and praise, serve, and obey Him. This is not in order to receive the blessings but because in Christ we already have. With this in mind, we sit down on the first day of the week and set aside as He has prospered us to give to His church for His work of blessing in our midst (1 Cor. 16:2).
