General Vet Notes: 2/2-3/23: Notes soft stools/diarrhea on walk through P on multiple feeding though so can cause increased transit/diarrhea. Sent fecal out - negative/normal. - BOK

Summary: See above.

4/20/23: See emergency records, P has been declining in shelter, BEH QOL is declining. P more reactive to other dogs, seeking out other dog behavior evident, pupil dilation high FAS, spinning/pacing in kennel, weight loss and decreased appetite. Disassociation with people when in area, will seek for exit or other dogs and limited to no interaction with humans, turn/look/move away. P had her nose bit through kennel and move to E pod for healing/more quiet area. P is losing weight despite increased feeding. Going to have techs increase feeding even more and start on Trazodone BID to see if can improve her QOL any. Re-evaluate in 5-7 days to assess. - BOK

4/28/23: P nose is healing scaring is now present. Over the past week P has been being taken out multiple times a day, provided more enrichment, has inconsistently been willing to take medication, intermittently eating leaving some of her feedings in kennel un-eaten. 1 lb weight loss from last week, despite increased feed being offered. P continues to circle, pace in kennel, even when stimulus is removed continues to pace and takes >2minutes to settle and does not appear to truly settle, feigning sleep in kennel and minimal to no interaction with enrichment items in kennel or out. When removed from kennel continues in repetitive behavior of pacing. P was discussed for QOL concerns and declining mental state as well as physical decline with continued weight loss, risk factors associated with prior reported dog to dog aggression and continued dog reactivity at the Dog Team meeting on 4/28. As the ASV Guidelines for Standards of Care in Animal Shelters state "Any animal that is observed to be experiencing mental suffering, distress or behavioral deterioration must be assessed and appropriately treated in a timely manner or humanely euthanized. Just as a severe or rapid decline in an animal's physical health constitutes an emergency situation and requires an urgent response, so do such changes in the behavioral or mental health of an animal." It was agreed upon that P QOL is suffering and is in constant mental distress that significant intervention is needed to help aid the deterioration of this P, over the last week with great efforts to continue to get P out multiple times and provide more enrichment and medication management P continued to be in a state of distress, at this time of discussion we had implemented changes within our resources and QOL was still suffering. No current rescue/transfer opening for a behavior/dog reactive case, it was decided that it is inhumane to continue to house and keep P in this state of distress and humane euthanasia was agreed upon.

- 1.0 - 2.0 µg/dL Low Normal
- 1.0 - 4.0 µg/dL Normal
- > 4.0 µg/dL High
- 2.1 - 5.4 µg/dL Therapeutic

Dogs with no clinical signs of hypothyroidism and results within the normal reference range are likely euthyroid. Dogs with low T4 concentrations may be hypothyroid or "euthyroid sick". Occasionally, hypothyroid dogs can have T4 concentrations that are low normal. Dogs with clinical signs of hypothyroidism and low or low normal T4 concentrations may be evaluated further by submission of freeT4 (fT4) and canine TSH. A high T4 concentration in a clinically normal dog is likely a variation of normal; however elevations may occur secondary to thyroid auto antibodies or rarely thyroid neoplasia. For dogs on thyroid supplement, acceptable 4-6 hour post pill total T4 concentrations generally fall within the higher end or slightly above the reference range.

SDMA:

SDMA and CREA within reference interval: impairment of GFR is unlikely. Recommended next step: evaluate complete urinalysis.

We have been discussing quality of life for Domino and Nancy.

Dr. Beth will be starting them on some anxiety meds. Lets give it a week to see how that helps.

With Domino, let's avoid the catch pole for now. Although we would have to use it if Domino doesn't react to the medication, Dr. Beth has offered a bit of her time with tricks that she has to help ease Domino out. My concern is that this a stressful and strong method that may work against the common goal of getting him out.

Nancy is showing signs of disassociation and constant over stimulation. Meds may help bring her down so that she maybe able to start connecting again.

I look forward to meeting with you and discussing our progress.

Hello,

Nancy (#41232) in B7 has continued to lose weight. She has lost over 1 lb since being weighed in January. I have noticed several days that she is not being fed wet food still. I know we are on short supply, but Nancy NEEDS to be fed a good amount of wet food, otherwise she will continue to flip her bowl upside down and refuse to eat it. I will be adding a special diet to the front and back of her kennel if she doesn't already have one to remind everyone.

Thanks,

Took dog to epc after she fought with another dog through the kennel and had her nose bit.
Epc prescribed pain meds and antibiotics. No sutures.

Dogs 41231 and 41232 were returned today because they broke through a window and attacked a dog they saw being walked past their home. I don't know how severe the injuries to the other dog were, but have marked them as awaiting behavioral assessment. They are currently in AG21 because we do not have a kennel large enough to house both of them on the adoption floor currently.

This is fantastic and a huge help.

Last week we spoke about making sure the dogs you receive have a documented history of behavior and that you are aware in the event you were questioned about it by your insurance.

Today we spoke about all the dogs you intend to take and some history. They are as follow:

52945- Blue – Clear – Possible bite reported by finder. No victim came forward but good to have the FYI. You said that it would be fine.

53587- Toby - Clear

53448- Quincy – Clear. We spoke about his return feedback that you couldn't recall. Sounds like just a bit of food aggression.

54757- Tessa - Clear

44017- Mystery – Clear. We lack a lot of documentation on this girl. She has made leaps and bounds recently. I think shes a good candidate for transfer.

43802- Mango – Clear (If it doesn't work, please contact furry farm rescue. They were interested and could help in the event that you feel that you have extended your resources.) We discussed that you had evaluated this dog the last time you were in and that you had passed then. You are very happy with his progress and want to take him. YAY!

50802- Jezebel - Clear

52044- Astrid – Can't take here. She may have an adopter. 2nd appointment Tuesday the 2nd

54141- Willow – Clear

41231- Sid – Cleared with full review of documented history. From your feedback, you knew about the attack on a cat but Sid does have a bit more documented behaviors. Sounds like just animal aggression. I have some positive things to say about this guy but just to make sure that you and your organization are successful, I'd like you to review his whole history before taking him.

Dr. Beth recommended –

53609 – Bonnie – E10 She's a sweet old little heeler. Has been looked after by Dr. Beth and her medical review is as stated: Few lumps and bumps. UTI and likes to hold pee. I like her and is medically cleared for transfer if you would like to meet her.

I am prepping the paper work for all the animals and we can review and have final sign off when you arrive.

SEE YOU SOON!

Subject: Transferring some pups

Good Evening,

I took advantage of a child free Sunday, and got in touch with a couple partner organizations to see if there were any pups that SHS would be able to transfer in. I met with Rebekah and we chatted about the personalities of each dog, I would love to pull:

52945- Blue -
53587- Toby - Clear
53448- Quincy -
54757- Tessa -
44017- Mystery -
43802- Mango – Clear (Contact furry farm)
50802- Jezebel - Clear
52044- Astrid - Appointment
54141- Willow – Clear
41231- Sid -

I would love it if SHS would be able to pick up sometime midafternoon on Monday 5/1/23. Please let me know if that works for you.

I met several others as well, but unfortunately tomorrow I can only grab these guys. But I would like to come back for more later this week or at the very least next Monday. I also will be getting in touch with you all for some cats and coordinate if they need fosters or if we would be able to just bring them into the shelter.

While I was there it was briefly mentioned to me about Nancy. I spent some supervised time with her and evaluated her. I believe that I have an amazing behavioral foster who would be able to effectively work with her. Back when she and Sid were still bonded I was going to pull her, but we had too many bonded dogs at the time.

I want to say, I do understand and respect any decision regarding Nancy, however, I wanted to reach out and say we would like to help if we can. Let me know about these pups and I hope you have a great week!

Hey guys,

Would you send me over the medical notes for Bonnie? So I can have our Vet look them over before I head out? Also, I tried to text Daniella, but I haven't gotten a response. Who would I speak to about cats in foster that may be pulled? When I came in there weren't very many there. Which is awesome, sigh but.. ya know lol

Thanks so much!!!

Great news, everyone!

Sheena, you are amazing for helping with the bulk pull! Glad we could connect yesterday and I was able to introduce you to the dogs on our floor. Our volunteer, Joe, will be around today if you need help getting out Mango, but all the other dogs should leash up easily.

Again, we greatly appreciate the support.

Subject: Transferring some pups

Good Evening,

I took advantage of a child free Sunday, and got in touch with a couple partner organizations to see if there were any pups that SHS would be able to transfer in. I met with Rebekah and we chatted about the personalities of each dog, I would love to pull:

52945- Blue -

53587- Toby - Clear

53448- Quincy -

54757- Tessa -

44017- Mystery -

43802- Mango – Clear (Contact furry farm)

50802- Jezebel - Clear

52044- Astrid - Appointment

54141- Willow – Clear

41231- Sid -

I would love it if SHS would be able to pick up sometime midafternoon on Monday 5/1/23. Please let me know if that works for you.

I met several others as well, but unfortunately tomorrow I can only grab these guys. But I would like to come back for more later this week or at the very least next Monday. I also will be getting in touch with you all for some cats and coordinate if they need fosters or if we would be able to just bring them into the shelter.

While I was there it was briefly mentioned to me about Nancy. I spent some supervised time with her and evaluated her. I believe that I have an amazing behavioral foster who would be able to effectively work with her. Back when she and Sid were still bonded I was going to pull her, but we had too many bonded dogs at the time.

I want to say, I do understand and respect any decision regarding Nancy, however, I wanted to reach out and say we would like to help if we can. Let me know about these pups and I hope you have a great week!

Dogs 41231 and 41232 were returned today because they broke through a window and attacked a dog they saw being walked past their home. I don't know how severe the injuries to the other dog were, but have marked them as awaiting behavioral assessment. They are currently in AG21 because we do not have a kennel large enough to house both of them on the adoption floor currently.

Updates for a couple dogs on multiple feedings:

1. Maverick – move to 3x daily feedings. Lost 6 pounds in just over a month.
2. Nancy- Not eating her dry food & has lost a little bit of weight. Please start feeding wet food only or mostly wet with a small amount of dry.

Side note: When a dog is out of their kennel on a walk, please put their food bowl near the middle or back of their kennel instead of putting it up front. For dogs who are showing signs of resource guarding, it can get “sketchy” trying to return them to their kennel with a bowl of food right up front.

Thanks!

We have been discussing quality of life for Domino and Nancy.

Dr. Beth will be starting them on some anxiety meds. Lets give it a week to see how that helps.

With Domino, let's avoid the catch pole for now. Although we would have to use it if Domino doesn't react to the medication, Dr. Beth has offered a bit of her time with tricks that she has to help ease Domino out. My concern is that this a stressful and strong method that may work against the common goal of getting him out.

Nancy is showing signs of disassociation and constant over stimulation. Meds may help bring her down so that she maybe able to start connecting again.

I look forward to meeting with you and discussing our progress.

Hello,

Nancy (#41232) in B7 has continued to lose weight. She has lost over 1 lb since being weighed in January. I have noticed several days that she is not being fed wet food still. I know we are on short supply, but Nancy NEEDS to be fed a good amount of wet food, otherwise she will continue to flip her bowl upside down and refuse to eat it. I will be adding a special diet to the front and back of her kennel if she doesn't already have one to remind everyone.

What I am about to talk about should be prefaced with the agreement that once we make a feeding plan, it should be followed until the desired outcome is achieved and then reevaluated as needed. Additionally, failure to follow that plan is worthy of a reminder.

While it is true that the feeding instructions should be being followed, the assumption is that for a weight gain/loss diet is that it was necessary from the outset. This should include an evaluation of the animal's feeding habits, weight trends, and body condition score.

"Nancy (#41232) in B7 has continued to lose weight."

From the weight record we have in shelter buddy, this appears to be true. This dog came in at 80 lbs about a year ago and now weighs around 74 lbs.

"She has lost over 1 lb since being weighed in January."

Again, from the records we have, this also appears to be the case. She has gone from 75 lbs to 74 lbs over the course of 4 months.

"I have noticed several days that she is not being fed wet food still. I know we are on short supply, but Nancy NEEDS to be fed a good amount of wet food, otherwise she will continue to flip her bowl upside down and refuse to eat it."

I have seen, on occasion, full bowls of just kibble or 90% kibble in her kennel, so I do not doubt this. As I often am the one taking care of B Pod in the morning, on the occasion that she has been given just kibble, in the morning, I find either the bowl still mostly full or it spilled all over the floor.

"I will be adding a special diet to the front and back of her kennel if she doesn't already have one to remind everyone."

As we have determined that the dog is on a special diet of sorts, I see no issues here and appreciate you doing so.

Now....

While I agree with the things you have said in this e-mail, there are implications in what you have said that I disagree with.

Nancy came in last year weighing about 80 lbs. She now weighs around 74 lbs. A 6 pound loss might be concerning IF that loss meant the dog's BCS was dropping to an unhealthy level. However, I am of the opinion that, right now, her BCS is a 4 at the worst and lean more towards her being at a 5, either one being ideal. The main differentiation from a 3 to a 4 is the visible spine and, to a lesser extent, ribs. This morning, neither were visible to me so I do not believe she would be categorized as too thin. The fat on the ribs is the main differentiation between a 4 and a 5 and I am less confident on that distinction, but could easily understand someone calling her a 5.

The implication of saying Nancy is continuing to lose weight is that it is a bad thing, but I do not believe this to be the case. From my perspective, over the course of 4 months, a 75 lbs dog lost 1 lb and is at a near ideal BCS. For a 75 lbs dog, that can literally be a bowel movement. That tells me that, in general, we have been doing a good job in terms of feeding and to keep up the good work. We can certainly keep an eye out to make sure it isn't a very gradual trend downwards and the feeding chart is a good reminder for that.

I'm going to assume you are looking at this from the perspective of, "this dog has already lost 5 pounds and is continuing to lose more in spite of our additional feedings", but that would only be bad if the dog's ideal weight was 80 lbs in the first place. Given that I think she is at a good BCS score now at around 75 lbs, I believe 80 lbs would get into a 6 or possibly 7 and so I would disagree that we should be trying to fatten the dog back up to 80 lbs.

While I don't think there was anything untrue about what you said in your e-mail, I am worried about the underlying information the diet was based on, chiefly the dog's BCS.

TLDR:

- People should be following feeding instructions and if they are not, reminders are warranted.
- I think Nancy is at a near perfect weight right now and the urgency implied in your e-mail is not offensive but perhaps overstated.
- If that is the case, the current feedings are working well, even considering someone occasionally feeding just kibble.
- We may have a disconnect in terms of BCS evaluation which we should correct if so.

We can talk about this whenever we're here together if you'd like. I don't have an issue with the e-mail, it just brought to my attention the broad idea of an animal losing weight isn't necessarily bad and Nancy is a good candidate to have that discussion about. I'm sure you share my sentiment that if the root misunderstanding is one of us is incorrectly evaluating BCS, we should figure that out.

Hello,

I know we have our dog team meeting tomorrow, but wanted to send this email so that we could all ruminate prior. I am asking for another week extension for Nancy and Domino. We just started trying new methods this week that appear to have positive effects so far.

Stephanie placed an impact crate inside Domino's kennel on Tuesday and he has had half his body inside. He has been spending more time at the front of the kennel, as people are less scary than the crate currently. He also wasn't consistently taking his medication, so we'd like to see if the meds have any further effects after one more week.

Ashley started walking Nancy yesterday and took her walking outside the shelter perimeter today. Nancy was sniffing around in the field today and played ball outside in the play yard for a bit. Ashley has offered to walk her longer every morning for the next week to see if the extra exercise counters the kennel stress. She also wants to take her for an offsite field trip next week to see if that engages Nancy's interest. Ashley also posted a foster request for Nancy today, so we'd like to give time to see if any interest comes forth.

Stephanie and I created a free work area in Jesse's office today for sensory play. We had Ragamuffin in there first and he had fun exploring the different stations and searching out treats. Nancy came in next and was only interested in the cheese that was easy to get too, but was uninterested in exploring any of the stations. However, she sought out attention from Ashley, Stephanie, Joe and I and laid down in the community room and hung out. Nancy then went up into the APO office and relaxed in Ashley's office for a while. Joe took her out again later today and she laid in the small play yard with relaxed posture and periodic happy tail wags.

I know we are concerned about QOL for these two dogs, but I believe that giving these dogs another week to better evaluate the recent progress would be beneficial and give us more information in order to accurately assess them. I think we can all agree that we owe these dogs time, if there are lifesaving alternatives.

Thanks for listening and I look forward to your responses.

Thanks,
Bek

I had Nancy out today and weighed her. She is 54 pounds. Her last weighing was on May 3rd and she weighed 80 pounds. If her twice a day feed sheet is an indication of her being fed twice a day then this would appear that this is maybe only happening half the time.

I think we should up her feeding to 3 times a day with weekly weighings. I am more than happy to weigh her weekly and help with additional feedings. I would suggest we do the same with Sid.

Hi Team,

Sid and Nancy (41231 & 41232) in B7 and B8 are looking pretty thin. I am starting them on twice a day feeding.

Thanks,

Daniella is off today. If any medical dogs/cats you have questions please feel free to just send or cc me on any email as we had discussed at our meeting that we would loop Dr. Megan in as well. I am adding her to the cc block so she gets the below information too.

Bonnie ID 53609

3/21/23: P is older, suspect spayed female (scar ventral midline). Has large soft nonpainful mass right flank - d/dx: lipoma, has mass ventral abdomen inside leg, soft movable in SQ palpate fat like as well. Monitor lumps, location and size with P age removal is not in best interest at this time. P has urine soiling across hind end/legs - suspect possibly incontinent vs laying in urine (kennel was soiled though when took P out). Need to collect Urine sample - pending. In house chemistry overall looks decent, mild increase in ALP which is common with age. Arthritis in joint, stiff and decreased ROM. Moderate dental disease needs dental care. Senior dog with a multitude of medical concerns. Plan: urinalysis pending. Once get evaluation on urine and move to individual kennel to monitor/confirm leaking, will make further medical plan. If reclaimed VTN. - BOK

4/4/23 Vomiting and diarrhea last couple of days. No vomiting today. BAR, well hydrated, very nervous with handling. Started her on metronidazole 250 mg PO BID x 7d, monitor hydration. CB

4/13/23: Unable to catch urine have tried multiple times, P has not been leaking or wet and appears to have control of bladder now that able to observe in individual kennel. Rx clavamox for suspected UTI. - BOK

4/24/23: Besides prior masses that are being monitored, P appears to be stable senior dog. Urination appears normal, has finished tx for suspected UTI. No ongoing treatments at this time. Is senior dog with dental disease, needs routine dental care still, on list for possible dental if appointments open up. Ok for adoption with medical waiver for senior dog. – BOK

*As of today she has been eating and elimination normal, no vomiting and has not been soiling herself. UTI resolved and is just awaiting a loving home for a senior pup.

Let me know what other questions you might have and happy to follow up with you when you are here. She came in with another younger heeler and she has been social with other dogs and no concerns when handling her for medical besides she does not like to pee on command.

-Dr. Beth

Hey guys,

Would you send me over the medical notes for Bonnie? So I can have our Vet look them over before I head out? Also, I tried to text Daniella, but I haven't gotten a response. Who would I speak to about cats in foster that may be pulled? When I came in there weren't very many there. Which is awesome, sigh but.. ya know lol

Thanks so much!!!

Subject: RE: Transferring some pups

This is fantastic and a huge help.

Last week we spoke about making sure the dogs your receive have a documented history of behavior and that you are aware in the event you were questioned about it by your insurance.

Today we spoke about all the dogs you intend to take and some history. They are as follow:

52945- Blue – Clear – Possible bite reported by finder. No victim came forward but good to have the FYI. You said that it would be fine.

53587- Toby - Clear

53448- Quincy – Clear. We spoke about his return feedback that you couldn't recall. Sounds like just a bit of food aggression.

54757- Tessa - Clear

44017- Mystery – Clear. We lack a lot of documentation on this girl. She has made leaps and bounds recently. I think shes a good candidate for transfer.

43802- Mango – Clear (If it doesn't work, please contact furry farm rescue. They were interested and could help in the event that you feel that you have extended your resources.) We discussed that you had evaluated this dog the last time you were in and that you had passed then. You are very happy with his progress and want to take him. YAY!

50802- Jezebel - Clear

52044- Astrid – Can't take here. She may have an adopter. 2nd appointment Tuesday the 2nd.

54141- Willow – Clear

41231- Sid – Cleared with full review of documented history. From your feedback, you knew about the attack on a cat but Sid does have a bit more documented behaviors. Sounds like just animal aggression. I have some positive things to say about this guy but just to make sure that you and your organization are successful, Id like you to review his whole history before taking him.

Dr. Beth recommended –

53609 – Bonnie – E10 She's a sweet old little heeler. Has been looked after by Dr. Beth and her medical review is as stated: Few lumps and bumps. UTI and likes to hold pee. I like her and is medically cleared for transfer if you would like to meet her.

I am prepping the paper work for all the animals and we can review and have final sign off when you arrive.

SEE YOU SOON!

Subject: Transferring some pups

Good Evening,

I took advantage of a child free Sunday, and got in touch with a couple partner organizations to see if there were any pups that SHS would be able to transfer in. I met with Rebekah and we chatted about the personalities of each dog, I would love to pull:

52945- Blue -

53587- Toby - Clear

53448- Quincy -

54757- Tessa -

44017- Mystery -

43802- Mango – Clear (Contact furry farm)

50802- Jezebel - Clear

52044- Astrid - Appointment

54141- Willow – Clear

41231- Sid -

I would love it if SHS would be able to pick up sometime midafternoon on Monday 5/1/23. Please let me know if that works for you.

I met several others as well, but unfortunately tomorrow I can only grab these guys. But I would like to come back for more later this week or at the very least next Monday. I also will be getting in touch with you all for some cats and coordinate if they need fosters or if we would be able to just bring them into the shelter.

While I was there it was briefly mentioned to me about Nancy. I spent some supervised time with her and evaluated her. I believe that I have an amazing behavioral foster who would be able to effectively work with her. Back when she and Sid were still bonded I was going to pull her, but we had too many bonded dogs at the time.

I want to say, I do understand and respect any decision regarding Nancy, however, I wanted to reach out and say we would like to help if we can. Let me know about these pups and I hope you have a great week!
