Adoption Summary: My name is Domino and I find the shelter to be an extra scary place. If you have time to share some tasty treats with me and hang out outside my kennel, it could help me feel safer in my environment over time. I used to like to play in the home, and I would love to get to playing again!

General Vet Notes: 12/13/22 Care request put in about diarrhea but dog has normal feces in kennel and reported. Wondering if care request accidentally put under wrong animal, will follow up with tech. - BOK

4/30/23: P was discussed at dog team meeting. P has been in kennel unable to be handled, unable to have intake done, unable to be leashed to be taken out, making no to minimal progress/changes over the time, does not associate or warm up to any of the staff, even the staff that feeds daily. P retreats to back of kennel, cowers, extremely high FASF. Dilated pupils, whale eye, head/body turns away. Extreme fear and will lip lift and air snap if push threshold. Had placed P on a week of anxiolytic medication we worked with increased high value treats and more interactions as well as adding crate to kennel to attempt to see if he would settle in there. None of these changes were able to increase QOL and P still in severe panic and emotional emergency. P threshold slightly lowered with medication but he was inconsistently eating/taking medication due to high FASF. It is inhumane to leave a dog in this condition and is a safety concern for the dog an individuals housing him if we are unable to safely work with him and each day putting him at greater risk without being able to vaccinate him. Discussions agreed upon that, the condition and state that P is in, is inhumane to continue to house him, at this time no foster/rescue are suited to be able to handle such extreme case. Humane euthanasia is recommended and was agreed upon to end P severe mental suffering and inhumane situation. When APO went to get P out of kennel he did bite the catch pole. - BOK
