Subject: RE: Athena in Dog Team Office

Kevin,

I understand that Athena may more agitated and anxious since being moved to E Pod. However, because of the lingering rodent issue centralized in the dog team office, you'll need to find another location for Athena. The dog team office is not a suitable or appropriate location to house dogs.

In the future please reach out and ask before making decisions that could have a negative effect on all the animals under our care.

Thanks,

Jess

Subject: Athena in Dog Team Office

Good morning,

It has been noticed by staff members that Athena has been more agitated and anxious since being moved to E Pod. She will be spending her last few days in the Dog Team Office to help alleviate this before she is transferred on either March 1st or 2nd. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Have a great day!
